

Denies Stories of Unrest Existing in Germany

Dr. Otto Dietrich, Reich Press Chief Issues Statement on Changes in Official Positions.

(Copyright 1938 by United Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 11 (UP)—Dr. Otto Dietrich, reich press chief and close confidant of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, gave today the first detailed authoritative statement regarding a multitude of rumors concerning the internal situation of Germany.

It constituted an emphatic denial of rumors abroad of disturbances or unrest in Germany and of reports regarding Hitler's health.

Speaking to the United Press by telephone from Haus Wachenfeld, Hitler's mountain retreat outside Berchtesgaden, Dietrich said:

"I have read what has been said abroad that frontiers are closed, that the SS troops (crack Nazi bodyguards) are being used in the army to watch over and expel reactionary officers, that there is unrest in the army.

"Since the official communique of February 4 (announcing the nazi shakeup) everything has been quiet. The army is quiet. Every officer is doing his duty at his regular post.

"These rumors are false and stupid and I am glad to have an opportunity to stamp them for what they are worth."

Dietrich said that Hitler was in good health and that although he was working, he was taking the opportunity also to rest a little. Asked whether Hitler was preparing his speech for the reichstag meeting February 20, Dietrich said:

"I do not know. It is possible. He works rapidly and does not need a long time."

"At the moment he is breakfasting on the veranda in the sunshine."

Dietrich described rumors of a "breakdown" in nonsense. He said that Hitler's issuance of invitations for a reception to the diplomatic corps in Berlin February 15 was a sign that he was continuing his normal duties. He added that Hitler would most certainly be in Berlin on that date for the reception.

Regarding rumors disseminated abroad that Germany's frontiers were closed, Dietrich said:

"I am sitting here two kilometers (1½ miles) from the border. My friends and associates often go across the frontier to have coffee."

He ended with an appeal to people abroad to use common sense in evaluating sensational reports regarding Germany.

Dietrich is reich press chief of the national socialist (nazi) party. This is not a government post but one which approximates that of supervisor of the German press from the editorial point of view. He is very close to Hitler and accompanies the fuehrer on most of his journeys. In Berlin, his offices are across from Hitler's chancellery.

Berlin was quiet today, and Germans went calmly about their business unaware of the furor of rumors beyond the frontiers. Newspapers ignored all rumors and official sources vehemently denied them.

For the first time, some nazi quarters admitted the existence of a feeling of uncertainty and unrest in certain army quarters, such as conservative strongholds in Pomerania and East Prussia. But the admission was confined to that—uncertainty and unrest, the result of the nazi shake-up.

A statement made available to the foreign press on rumors generally said:

"For the purpose of exciting unrest in the European public rumors were spread abroad today that unrest had risen up in Germany. Needless to say these unauthentic rumors are spun from thin air and therefore lack any ground whatsoever."

As regards developments resulting from the shakeup in the army, the foreign service and economic ministry, Hitler is perhaps the one man who knows the whole background and the significance and portent of recent events.

There have been reports that nazi radicals triumphed in the shakeup; that, on the contrary, conservative army circles won. Most observers believe that both gave ground and that the net result was to put Hitler himself in even greater power.

World Alert to Industrial Research Aid

America Leader for 1937 with Expenditure of 100 Million, According to World Survey.

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The United States spent $100,000,000 last year to lead all other nations in the field of industrial research, according to a world survey read to the American Chemical Society by Dr. William A. Hamor, assistant director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research.

The never-ending search for new products and materials has led to scientific experiments on almost every conceivable subject and in many countries novel synthetics have opened a new era of solvents, plastics, paints, pharmaceuticals and perfumes, Dr. Hamor said.

Hundreds of scientific investigations are underway in Canada, Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, India, Sweden, Switzerland, Russia, Australia, Brazil, Chile, Denmark, Honduras, Guatemala, Norway and Palestine.

Smaller Nations Active

The report, a comprehensive outline of the research activities throughout the world, reveals that experiments flourish in the smaller as well as the larger nations. Switzerland, Dr. Hamor reports, holds European leadership in pharmaceutical research. The demand for insecticides has resulted in reorganization of Palestine's sulphur industry. German chemists are aiding Brazilian authorities in search of new uses for surplus coffee.

Dr. Hamor summarized research activity in this country in a separate report.

Spodumene, most plentiful of the lithium-bearing ores, has been put to work to produce lithium chloride for use in the conditioning and drying of air, the American report showed.

"Experiments in Texas have shown that the addition of carbon black to concrete gives a highway pavement a dark luster that reduces glare. Vitamin A is being produced from fish-liver oils by molecular distillation. Food preservation is being investigated on a large scale. Barite can now be freed from silica and iron by a froth flotation process. The electrolytic reduction of sugars to corresponding alcohols has been carried out on a commercial basis.

Silver Used for Bearings

"Silver bearings are employed in high-power aviation engines. High-octane anti-knock gasoline at lower cost promise increased fuel efficiency for airplanes. Specially treated lubricants enable much higher bearing pressures. Heat-treated cast irons are used for gears and other machine parts which were previously constructed of steel. The manufacture of carbon dioxide-filled incandescent lamps has been perfected."

Other recent products of American research, according to Dr. Hamor, include cellulose sponges; synthetic ascorbic acid, or vitamin C, prepared from sorbitol, which, in turn, is made from corn sugar; new adhesives from synthetic resins; plastic wood; rapid-drying ink; electrolytically colored metals; new pigment dyes; new compounds for use as wetting agents; novel emulsifying agents; an organic base said to be as strong as sodium hydroxide; new plasticizers, such as naphthyl-beta-mercaptan for rubber, and tetraphosphoric acid.

Entertained Friends Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flaishman entertained a number of friends and relatives last Sunday. The guests were Walter Taylor and family, Charles Goodman and wife, Russell Hackenberg and family and Mrs. Gean Miller, the latter from Louisville. A most delicious dinner was served.

Party for Visiting Guests

A most enjoyable party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wiles Saturday evening of last week in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Minford of North Platte who have been visiting in this vicinity.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Krecklow and son Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Krecklow and daughter Darlene, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rohrdanz and daughter Janice, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ragoss and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Minford and son Donald.

The evening was spent in playing cards and visiting.

Anniversary Celebration

A very pleasant party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bergman Tuesday evening, February 8, in honor of their 33rd wedding anniversary.

Besides the members of the F. D. R. club, the following guests were present: Messrs. and Mesdames John Stander, Andrew Stander, John Bergman, Rev. Father Hennessy and the Misses Theresa Hauth, Rosmary Stander and Darvoe.

A very delicious lunch was served at the conclusion of the evening.

Prizes were won by Father Hennessy and Mrs. John Bergman, for high score; Mrs. John Rauth and Andrew Stander, consolation prizes, and Andrew Stander, traveling prize. In honor of the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Bergman received a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers. All departed wishing the guests of honor many happy returns of their anniversary.

SEEK NEW TVA'S

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (UP)—Senator George W. Norris, Ind., Neb., "father" of the Tennessee Valley Authority prepared today to open a drive for his bill to establish seven little TVA's.

Norris said that he would ask the agriculture committee, before which the bill is pending to consider the measure immediately after the senate passed the farm bill. Senate sentiment indicated another bitter debate when the measure reached the floor.

The Norris bill, which was reported favorably by an agricultural subcommittee during the first session of congress would divide the country into seven natural resource planning authorities with power to establish hydro-electric plants.

BORDER NOT CLOSED

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Feb. 10 (UP)—The foreign office today denied reports abroad that the German frontier had been closed. A spokesman for the propaganda ministry said: "Rumors that the frontiers have been closed or will be closed are complete nonsense. All trains and mails were passing the frontiers in and out of Germany absolutely normally."

MANLEY NEWS

Mrs. Antone Auerswald visited relatives in Omaha a number of days during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bergman drove to Omaha last Friday, visiting with friends there and looking after some shopping.

Mrs. Fred Flaishman has been suffering from a case of flu during the past week, but is considerably improved now.

Miss Katherine Reinke of Omaha spent the week end with Miss Sue Mockenbaupt, returning to her home Monday morning.

Miss Norma Welte, who is a student at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welte.

Mrs. Edward Stander and Miss Sue Mockenbaupt were entertaining the ladies at a social meeting of the Altar society on Wednesday, February 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Minford, of North Platte, spent several days here during the past week, visiting at the home of Mrs. Minford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rohrdanz.

Harry Haws visited Mrs. Haws at the Clark hospital in Omaha last Sunday. She is making satisfactory progress but will have to remain in the hospital for some time yet.

Ralph Keckler and wife, together with Mesdames R. Bergman, Herman Rauth and Oscar Dowler, were in Omaha last Monday, where they called on Mrs. Harry Haws at the hospital.

A very enjoyable covered dish lunch was served at the home of Mrs. Harry O'Brien by the members of the Royal Neighbors last Wednesday, honoring Mrs. O'Brien on her birthday, which occurred the week previous.

Drouth Thru West Reflected in Market

Chicago Grain Mart Shows the Advance Due to Extreme Drought of Southwest.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (UP)—Although only six weeks of 1938 have passed, grain men today were referring to this year as a "drouth year," because of early dust storms in Kansas, Oklahoma and parts of the Texas panhandle.

American southwestern weather has become the chief topic of interest to grain traders in Winnipeg, Liverpool, Buenos Aires and the United States. Recurring reports of adverse weather through the United States' winter wheat belt sent the price of July wheat—which is the first crop to become ready for marketing—to a closing price of 90½ cents yesterday on the Chicago board of trade.

Yesterday's closing price was a 6½ cent gain over the price at which July futures began 1938. When trading was resumed Jan. 2, after the year-end holidays, July wheat was 84½ cents.

Kansas, the heart of America's wheat belt, has been hard hit by dust storms, particularly since Jan. 19. Only the eastern section of the state has escaped, according to reports.

Lack of rain last fall and early in the winter, in Kansas, as in Oklahoma and the Texas panhandle, has presented a serious problem. Subsoil moisture in all three states has been seriously depleted and heavy rains will be needed in the immediate future to save a major portion of the crop in Kansas.

Appearance of Kansas dust storms on Jan. 10 was the earliest visitation of the "dusters" on record. The earliest previous to this year came on Jan. 26, 1935.

R. O. Cromwell, grain expert of Lamson Bros., reported that present conditions of soil in much of the territory from west Texas to Nebraska is such that light rains quickly would break it down into powder, easily blown by high winds. Only extremely heavy rains could prevent such blowing.

Grain men in Oklahoma agreed that on the whole Oklahoma wheat is much below that of last year at this time. The western half of the state was reported in serious need of moisture. Dust storms have seriously damaged wheat and done further damage to the state's topsoil.

The central section, too, was reported in need of moisture. To date no moisture has been received in the state in February.

BALDRIGE ON "WHITE SPOT"

OMAHA, Feb. 10—H. Malcolm Baldrige, former Nebraska congressman, will be the speaker on the second of the Central States White Spot programs over stations KOLL, Omaha, KFOP, Lincoln; KMMJ, Clay Center; and WJAG, Norfolk, at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Entertainment will be provided by the Creighton University band, directed by Don Libby, the Seymour Singers, a popular male octette, directed by William Seymour.

On account of the National Defense Day observance Sunday, the half-hour White Spot program sponsored by the Nebraska Broadcasters association and the Junior Chambers of Commerce of the state, at 2:30 p. m., will not be heard. This program, originating in studios of WOW and rebroadcast by wireless hookup over six Nebraska stations, will give its time Sunday to the Reserve Officers program on National Defense. It will resume again at the same time and over the same stations, Sunday afternoon, February 20.

WILL ADD WORKERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (UP)—Acting Works Progress Administrator Aubrey Williams said today that WPA would add 500,000 unemployed to its work relief rolls almost immediately after congress votes the additional $250,000,000 appropriation asked by President Roosevelt.

At the peak of the relief load next month he said, 450,000 others would be discharged unless supplemental relief funds are supplied, would continue on WPA jobs.

Williams estimated as he went before the house appropriations deficiency subcommittee to testify on need for more WPA money that the rolls will soar in March to 2,500,000, the highest in almost two years.

The money would afford nearly 800,000 more jobs on the average through June than WPA could otherwise provide, he said. In March the number would be 850,000 and in April 900,000 greater. WPA rolls then will begin to taper off with seasonal rises in private employment.

Wabash News

John Gerdes spent the past week in Plattsmouth and expects to remain there some time yet.

Fred Towle and Ralph Richards attended the weekly community sale at Syracuse last Wednesday.

Warren T. Richards was looking after business matters in Manley on Tuesday of last week, calling on his old friend, Oscar E. McDonald.

Frank Reese, who has been suffering from the injury of one of his feet, injured some ten days ago, is now so he can get about again without a great deal of difficulty.

Louis Schmidt was at Louisville the fore part of last week, where he was looking after the purchase of a piece of property from Paul Stock for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schmidt.

Orville Gerbeling and wife, who reside on a farm between Wabash and Murdock, have both been in poor health from attacks of flu. They have been confined to their home and bed a portion of the time, but are now reported as considerably improved.

Paul Murfin has resumed his studies in the Murdock high school after a two weeks' enforced absence due to flu. Paul makes the round trip from here to Murdock each day, in order to pursue his studies there. He is a very adept scholar and the vacation will do nothing more than slow up his progress a little.

Simon Schlueter, who some time ago tore down the former Baptist church in Wabash, removing the material for the building of small buildings on the farm, was removing the material in the foundation of the church last week, having use for it on the farm, as well as the lumber and other equipment.

Took Care of the Children

Mrs. Henry H. Gerbeling went to Lincoln last week to spend several days at the home of her daughter and look after the grandchildren during the time the parents were absent. Her son-in-law is athletic coach in one of the schools there, and he and his wife were accompanying the players on a several day trip outstate.

Purchases Monument

Mrs. Frank Buel has just recently had erected in the Murdock-Wabash cemetery a fine monument at the graveside of her late husband. The stone is a family marker and has space reserved on it for the names of other members of the family.

Will Feed Cattle

Ralph Richards was in Omaha the fore part of last week, purchasing 20 head of cattle which he had delivered to his feed lots near Wabash, and will return them to market a few months hence when they have been fattened and prepared for top grade butcher stock. Mr. Richards the feeding game and stock from his feed lots always command a good price on the market.

Home on Vacation Trip

Miss Myrtle Wood, rural mail carrier from the Wabash office, who spent some two weeks in the south, arrived home Tuesday of last week. She visited at Miami, Florida and Atlanta, Georgia, and en route home came northward to Washington and New York, also stopping in Chicago for a short time before taking a train direct to Lincoln from where she returned to her home and resumed her work on the mail route Wednesday. While she was away, Guy Hinds, the deputy carrier, was kept busy delivering the mail.

Miss Wood had a most delightful trip and says she saw many interesting sights.

Advised of Uncle's Death

Frank H. Reese received a letter from his sister-in-law, telling of the death of his uncle, William Reese, at Concordia, Kansas, which occurred last Saturday. The deceased man was past eighty years of age. The funeral was held at Concordia, with interment in the cemetery there.

William Reese and wife went to that part of Kansas more than sixty years ago, settling on a homestead, where they lived during all the intervening years.

As Frank was not feeling in the best of health, he was unable to attend the funeral of the uncle, but communicated with the relatives there, offering expressions of sympathy.
