DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

The message has been received here announcing the death of Claus Pioehn, 59, a one time resident here and for many years engaged in farming near Scribner, Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Pioehn have for some time been living at Pendleton, Oregon, and it was there that Mr. Pioehn died after an illness of some duration.

Mr. Pioehn was known to a great many here as he had made his home here in his younger years and was a brother of the late Mrs. H. M. Soenichsen, Mrs. John Wickman and Mrs. William Wohlfarth.

He is survived by the widow and the daughter, Mrs. Worth. Mrs. Pioehn is a sister of Mrs. Ferdinand Hennings of this city.

The funeral services are at Pendleton and where the interment will take place.

WEATHER DELAYS PARTY

Word received here from Mrs. Frank Gobelman states that bad weather conditions slowed the party's progress so that they did not get to St. Louis in the first day, but stopped at Hannibal, Mark Twain's home town, and spent the night, going on to St. Louis Wednesday.

FIFTH GRADE PROGRAM

The pupils of the 5th grade with their teacher Miss Glock entertained the parents in a miscellaneous program Wednesday afternoon, February 23. The program was given in the Central building auditorium and a large number of parents availed themselves of this opportunity to see the children in their school work. The program was not one especially prepared but built around the history lesson showing the story of our country. The words were written by the children and songs fitted in to suit the occasion.

The program was in line with the newer method of education in which the actual school work is taken as the basis for the theme of the program. The following is the cast of characters:
