A preliminary meeting was held Thursday but it is expected to have another in a few days and at which more definite organization plans can be taken up.

Last season the kittenball enthusiasm dropped from that of several years ago and only a few games were staged in the fall, but it is hoped that the players and fans can get together for an early start of the season and one that will be quite successful.

It has been suggested that a Cass county league might be formed to take in practically all of the towns in the county, or that failing, that a city league of several teams be formed.
