was a happy day in that home. Where are the parents who are so solicitous for their children? The mother of St. Augustine had prayed for over thirty years for her wayward son; her Bishop assured her saying: "A son for whom so many prayers are offered cannot be lost." Soon he was converted and became one of the greatest of God's saints. This incident teaches us the power of prayer, also Jesus method of dealing with a worried mother.

By a long circuitous route, Jesus leaves the scene of the last miracle, and we find him east of Jordan, in a populous district. There a hard case is brought to him—a man deaf and dumb; incurable. Only God can help. What a blessing to have friends who could bring this man to Jesus. How many thousands there are who have no one to bring them to Christ; it is one of the sad things among Christians to record, that too little personal work is done in bringing men to Christ; it is only done at stated times and then we hire somebody—an evangelist—to do the work for us, and if he fails, we blame him for the failure. The friends of this unfortunate man not only led him to Christ, but interceded for him, asking Jesus to lay his hand upon him, as undoubtedly they had seen Jesus do; but Jesus uses his own method. He leads him apart, away from the tumult of the crowd, to be alone with him. So often the Lord leads men into solitude, away from earthly companions, into a sick chamber, so he can speak alone with him and heal him. Then Jesus puts his fingers into his ears and touched his tongue—using true sign language—indicating that he understood his troubles, then looking up to heaven—our Lord looked up to heaven three times, blessing the loaves and fishes, at the raising of Lazarus; that his did to indicate that only God could heal him, this language the man understood. "He sighed" as at the grave of Lazarus (John 11:33) and said unto him "Eph' phatha" (Aramaic). Mark says it means "Be opened," and the cure was complete. Did this miracle depend on the man's faith? It depended wholly on the will of Jesus. Sometimes Jesus tried to instill faith before the miracle; sometimes he lets faith follow after. The result was a wonderful reaction on the people. (See verse 37). So we have often seen the joy expressed by the congregation, when sinners were converted, God was glorified. Those outbursts of joy are not heard any more—why not? We hear much of athletic games—why not in the church!

waters of the Missouri river and went from there to South Omaha where they visited at the home of John Chase and also with Anna Bauer who is spending some time there and found her feeling pretty well, but staying for some time yet, hoping the stay will be beneficial to her health.

Celebrates Passing of Natal Day. Mrs. Martha Lynn who has made her home in Union for many years and whose early life had been identified with the history of Nebraska, was born March 27, 1866, just following the close of the civil war. She was united in marriage with Daniel Lynn more than a half century ago. Following their marriage they made their home in the central part of Nebraska, but has been a citizen of Union almost since this place was a mere hamlet. With the husband they farmed here and also a number of years the late husband Daniel Lynn was engaged in the building trade. Since the passing of the husband, Mrs. Lynn has made her home alone in the north part of Union.

As had been the practice she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. John Lidgett last Sunday, her birthday, the daughter serving a delightful dinner in honor of the mother. To your Mrs. Lynn the Journal, with your many other friends, extend wishes for many more years of happy life and happy birthdays.

Expect to Go to Coast City. J. A. Funeral of Mrs. Rishel Held Yesterday

Large Number of Relatives and Old Friends Attend Services at the Late Home.

From Wednesday's Daily.—The funeral services of Mrs. William B. Rishel were held March 29 at the home of her son, James B. Rishel on Orchard Hill. A very large number of relatives and friends gathered to pay their last tribute to the one they loved so much. Rev. J. C. Lowson gave a talk which proved to be of great comfort to the bereaved ones, and Don York sang her two favorite hymns, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me" and "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," with Hilt Wescott accompanying him.

The interment was at the Oak Hill cemetery where Mr. Rishel is at rest and was borne to the last resting place by six of the grandsons of the departed, Francis and Floyd Yelick, William White of Omaha, John Rishel, Wilbur and Robert Hall.

Those relatives and friends from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. L. N. White and son William, Mrs. Frank Weber and son Joe, Mrs. Grace Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yelick, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buttery, all of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leacock and Robert Hall of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yelick of Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Ida Adair, Mrs. Pearl Kestler and daughter of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adair of Papillion; Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hall of Goodland, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Groff of Falls City; Mr. and Mrs. George Lingler and daughter of Fremont; Mrs. Rhoda Archer and daughter Ruth of Council Bluffs, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Younkers of Union; Mr. and Mrs. Jay A. Wainwright, Mr. and Mrs. William Hemphill, and Mrs. John Albury of Gretna; and Mr. and Mrs. Miles Reznier and daughter Margaret of Glenwood, Iowa.
