Pilgrim at Omaha
A trip to Omaha was on the program for the Pilgrim last Sunday. A visit with Mrs. Meta MacDiarmid (his daughter) and attending a very spiritual Lenten service at Kountz Memorial church were some of the objectives of the trip. We were greatly impressed by the masses that attend the services. It is very encouraging to see the many hundreds of young people come to the early services. The services in the churches can be made attractive to hold the youth. This church is an example.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Report of Fellowship Meeting
The Murdock and Louisville Evangelical churches were hosts to the Cass County Christian Fellowship Association at the Murdock church last Monday evening, when 338 gathered from many parts of the county to enjoy the educational meeting which had been arranged by the Association.

After a brief business session, Mrs. Gladys Pullum and her negro girls trio of Omaha conducted a most worshipful meditation, using Holy Scripture and the spirituals. Mrs. Pullum then followed with a practical and informative address in behalf of her race, in which she stressed the achievements of her people in the last sixty-two years, in various walks of life, and the inequalities that exist between the negro and white races today.

She closed with a graphic portrayal of negro personalities who have excelled and command a large place in present day human activities. Approximately 12,000 Negroes are living in the city of Omaha.

Miss Margaret Fischer, a practicing attorney in Omaha, spoke in a challenging manner of the many ways that the two races might work effectively together. She pleaded that her white comrades should lay aside their race prejudices and seek to willingly understand the colored people. Each one should seek the other's friendship and build together a fine Christian brotherhood, by recognizing each other's differences, but likewise each other's mutual concerns and needs.

The girls trio, consisting of Mrs. Lucy May Britt, Miss Rae Lee Jones and Miss Estelle Robertson, sang several special spirituals in the program, which were enjoyed by the large congregation. Miss Edrose Willis presided at the piano throughout the program, giving her audience the opportunity to appreciate her musical achievements and skill.

The next meeting of the Cass County Fellowship will be held in the Evangelical church at Elmwood, Nebraska, Sunday afternoon, May 8th, at 2:30 p. m. The program for June is providing an all day picnic at some designated place, at which time all friends of the Association in the county may gather and enjoy social comradeship.

A Situation:

That Demands Prompt and Corrective Action by Nebraska Railway Commission

A news story in Friday's Journal tells of discussion at Thursday's Chamber of Commerce dinner of inequalities in truck rates and regulations laid down by the State Railway Commission under a new law passed by the Unicameral Legislature.

Certainly this is a situation that needs and demands prompt attention and correction.

Due to high trucking rates fixed by the commission, Nebraska is being flooded, protestants say, with goods from surrounding states carried at rates which are lower than the commission would establish for firms located in the state.

It is true, the commission has taken the complaint under advisement and we are sure will see the error and take steps to correct it.

The point we are driving at is that the threat of putting into effect such outlandish and discriminatory rates comes at a very poor time when Nebraska is being heralded far and near as the white spot of the nation and commercial clubs and Chambers of Commerce in cities and towns throughout the state are trying to land new industries that will give employment to our people.

It is certain that if the proposed discriminatory rates were put into effect concerns like our Norfolk Packing Company would be forced to seek a location in another state. In these days of keen competition for business, no concern can overcome the handicap it would place upon them and but one alternative would remain—the seeking of a new location.

Take the rate on canned goods as an example. If eastern Iowa canneries can lay their product into Grand Island and points beyond there at less transportation cost for a four- or five hundred mile haul than from Plattsmouth—a mere 150 miles, you know right well that, if you were the Nebraska industry, you'd move—and that pronto.

How, then, will such threats set with concerns that are not even located in the state—simply in the stage of being induced to come and locate in the white spot of the nation.

Inter-state firms, due to longer haul involved should be the ones against whom higher instead of lower transportation costs are assessed.

Unless—and until—that situation exists, Nebraska packing and other industrial concerns, creameries and jobbers will all be at a decided disadvantage.

Prompt decision on the part of the commission to discard its entire proposed schedule of rates and substitute one that will favor rather than hinder home concerns should follow promptly the appearance of representatives of 500 Nebraska business firms before that rate tribunal during the past week.

at the parsonage. Last week, Mrs. Stroemer sponsored the setting out of two Chinese elm trees that P. J. Lynch gave the committee to plant at the parsonage. The garden club is buying part of the grass seed to be sown at the school house.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Stroemer served coffee and doughnuts.

Funds for Fight on Depression at High Figure

Plans to Combat Unemployment and Other Conditions Reach a High Figure.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (UP)—New deal plans to get the country out of depression with pump priming funds forced the government today toward a new trend of rising deficits.

The treasury is likely to go into the red $4,500,000,000 or more in the next fiscal year. Unexpected relief needs and unsatisfactory revenue have jeopardized budget deficit figures for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Advisors alarmed by business conditions—some of them doubtless considering the significance of depression in an election year—President Roosevelt is considering big scale disbursements.

A scattering fire of congressional opposition so far is less impressive than indications that many statesmen who disagree with the new deal on other matters are willing to vote to give business a campaign year shot in the arm.

But Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., a potential 1940 republican nominee snapped that the new deal recovery program "gets more like a fairy tale every day."

Statisticians desiring to put the treasury in the most favorable light might contend that Mr. Roosevelt is about to embark on recovery and relief disbursement aggregating $5-136,000,000 in the next 15 months.

Outlays on the scale would increase the national debt to more than $42,600,000,000 and swell the next fiscal year deficit to approximately $4,000,000,000. Only in 1936 did the Roosevelt administration go farther into the red than that.

The spending program for the next six months to which Mr. Roosevelt is to some extent committed is substantially as follows:

1. Relief appropriations for the first seven months of the next fiscal year $1,250,000,000.
2. Emergency Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to business and political subdivisions $1,500,000,000.
3. Emergency non-interest bearing loans to political subdivisions $1,500,000,000.
4. An undetermined sum to be asked of congress next January to provide relief for the final five months of the fiscal year. Estimates of that sum vary up to $800,000,000.

CITY BOY FARMS BY BOOK

It is not always the boy that has lived on a farm that has the greatest interest in things agricultural was demonstrated when William Dalton, 15, sophomore in the Newton high school, Woodside, Queens, N. Y. was awarded a prize given by the Garden Center of New York.

William has shown a great interest in flowers, plants and insects ever since he was old enough to toddle around and help his mother, Mrs. Harry S. Dalton, in the garden. He attributes his success in identifying flowers to the fact that he spent two summers at Plattsmouth, where many varieties of flowers were growing, his father, Harry Dalton being one of the officials at the BREX shops.

The young man has been a close student of the farm journals and all manner of agricultural pamphlets that the youth has secured by writing the New York senators.
