WHAT IS OLEOMARGARINE

"From a chemical standpoint there is as great a difference between butter and oleomargarine as there is between day and night.

"It takes 25 pounds of oleomargarine to give you as much nutritive value as does 1 pound of butter made from cow's milk.

"Butter made from cow's milk contains certain substances called vitamins, the most important being vitamin A, which makes it superior in the human diet. Oleomargarine contains no vitamin A."
