WARNS LIQUOR DEALERS. LINCOLN, July 20 (UP)—J. A. McEachen, chairman of the state liquor commission today warned liquor sellers against the use of "cure-all forms" distributed by an Indiana publishing company to protect dealers from charges of selling to minors.

"These forms purport to relieve the licensee in the event of violation of the law," McEachen said. "They relate especially to minors but do not relieve the licensee of his responsibility to sell to adults only."

ACCIDENT RECORD. An accident survey for the state of Nebraska has been compiled by the Nebraska Press association giving a comparison of the week ending July 9 and the week ending July 2.

During the week ending July 9, which included the celebration of July 4, there were 555 accidents, while during the preceding week there were 398. Of the accidents in the week ending July 9, 354 were injured, 7 disabled and there were 19 deaths. In the preceding week, 323 were injured, 4 disabled and 14 were killed.

According to press reports, the holiday death toll throughout the nation was 358 persons. Of the 19 who lost their lives during the week in Nebraska the records show that six died on July 4. Two drowned on the holiday; two were killed in automobile accidents; while a fifth lost her life in a runaway on a farm. Another was electrocuted while making some repairs in connection with his furnace. It appears that only four of the deaths from accidents occurred as the result of holiday activities.

For CONGRESS Republican

GEO. H. HEINKE Lawyer and Farm Operator

I favor Constitutional government, reduction of all government expense, repeal of the 1938 Triple A and all other acts that regiment agriculture, industry or labor.

The Triple A has the effect of making food supplies higher in price and scarcer without giving a corresponding benefit to agriculture.

We cannot have a more abundant life without a more abundant production.

A vote for Mr. HEINKE will mean a vote to restore common sense in government.
