

Cass County Clippings

GREENWOOD.

From the News-Record. A son arrived at the home of J. C. Lemon Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Dr. McLeran returned Saturday morning from Chicago, where she has been for the past three weeks, visiting relatives.

On account of the illness of Andrew Parcel, the play which was to have been given last week by the Royal Neighbors was postponed, and will be given Saturday night, Sept. 29.

The colt show was conducted successfully by Jake Hurbit Saturday afternoon. Fourteen fine colts were placed on exhibition for inspection. Andrew Rouse received first prize, George Pierson second and Clayton Bonck third. The colts showed their good stock, such as breeders should consider these days. Raise a good colt that you can demand a good price for when placed on the market.

Mamie Hoham met with quite a serious accident about three weeks ago. A team became frightened running away, throwing her out and breaking her leg just above the ankle. She, not knowing anything serious was wrong, thinking she had sustained only a sprained ankle, did not gain the assistance of a physician until a week afterwards, when Dr. Miller was summoned and a broken limb was pronounced. She is doing as well as could be expected, which fact we are glad to note.

WEEPING WATER.

From the Advocate. Kate Willis' broken limb is healing nicely, and she will soon be able to sit up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Cincinnati, O., are visiting the Misses Ingersoll and other friends in town.

Mrs. S. Cole has so far recovered from her recent illness that she is able to be about the house again.

John W. Stoll, who lives five miles east of town, is putting up a fine new residence, which will have all the modern improvements.

B. Miller and family and Fred Kroehler and wife of Plattsmouth drove over Monday to visit the family of Herman Kleitsch.

Alf Shirley and his son-in-law, Frank Gorden departed Thursday for Coffey county, Kan., where they have purchased land.

Mrs. Greenly arrived Wednesday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Bogard, who has been quite ill, but who is now recovering.

Mrs. Brown fell down stairs one day last week and quite seriously bruised herself about the head, but she has almost recovered from her injuries.

Mrs. Frank Fowler's broken wrist is healing so rapidly that she and her husband are planning to start on their visit to Missouri, which was delayed by the accident, next week.

UNION.

From the Ledger. Reuben Foster, who has spent several months visiting in this and Otoe counties, departed on Tuesday for Oklahoma.

Mrs. A. M. Dempster of Butte, Montana, has been in this vicinity the past two weeks. She is the daughter of Michael Gish, and is accompanied by her son, Charles.

A. H. Austin and family started Tuesday afternoon to drive to Salix, Ia., to visit their relatives about two weeks. "Gabe" had his wagon rigged up with a complete outfit to enjoy a few nights camping out.

Mrs. H. W. Lloyd went to Plattsmouth Wednesday to meet one of her cousins, Miss Lizzie Sellers, who recently arrived from Altoona, Pa. Miss Sellers accompanied Mrs. Lloyd home.

Master Leslie Ward lugged into our office Tuesday morning a huge sweet potato, about as large as they make 'em. The potato weighed four and one-fourth pounds, and our little friend Leslie has our thanks for the nice present.

William Eikenbary and Charley McNamee arrived home on the noon train Wednesday from Colorado, where they spent several weeks in looking over different parts of the state. Jake Eikenbary remained there to enjoy himself hunting and having a good time.

EAGLE.

While digging a well on the Woodard farm, southeast of town, a vein of coal was found at a depth of forty-five feet. The coal is a very good quality and Mr. Woodard thinks some of sinking a few shafts to find out whether it will pay.

Robert Lewis was in Eagle Tuesday and has about recovered from the injuries he sustained at the Battle of Manila, at the state fair when the seats broke down. His wife, who received a bad fracture of the arm near the shoulder, is much better.

NEHAWKA.

From the Register. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pitman and daughter, Miss Hattie, returned from their trip to Indiana on Wednesday evening. They look much refreshed by the trip.

Charles S. Stone, who has been the able assistant of Cashier D. C. West for the past two years, put aside his pen last week and started for Lincoln, where he will take a banking course in a business college.

Father Tucker's house is completed and as soon as the painters are through it will be ready for occupancy. He has the lumber on the ground for the erection of a barn and wood shed, which will be commenced in a few days.

J. M. Stone and wife departed Monday for a visit to the family of James Woods in Rapid City, South Dakota, where they will inhale lots of Rocky Mountain ozone, of which Mrs. Stone is very much in need, as she was suffering from a severe attack of the grip when they left here.

James Easter accompanied by his son, Ralph, went to Kansas City last Friday for the purpose of placing the boy in a hospital there. An operation was performed for appendicitis. The case was a complicated one and we are glad to learn that the operation was successful and that the boy is doing nicely.

Negro Principal Was "Slick."

In Kansas City the negro principal of a school for colored children has proved himself to be slick enough for election to the city council. He has been buying poorer grade houses in select white neighborhoods, where owners of adjacent property bought him out at an exorbitant advance in order to keep out colored neighbors. He admits having done all this, but claims to be within his rights. The board of education is considering his removal from the principalship.

High Price for Medallion.

There is plenty of money in London, where the other day $665 was paid for a silver medallion of Syracuse, dated B. C. 405-345 by the artist known to collectors as Kimon. It is true this decadrum was uncommonly fine and bore the head of Arethusa wearing a broad diadem and surrounded by four dolphins, and on the reserve was a quadriga driven to left, horses in high action and above Nike about crown Charitoer. On the whole, we guess this was worth its price.

Manufacturing Postal Cards.

The plant that turns out millions of postal cards every month for Uncle Sam is located in a little West Virginia mountain town, high up in the Appalachian range, not far from the border line of Maryland. The town is Piedmont, Mineral county, and the busy factory is at work six days in the week. Here the cardboard is made from the fresh, sweet spruce trees; here it is cut into the requisite sizes and here the cards are printed, packed and shipped.

Made Inspector of Wild Animals.

A recent dispatch from New Orleans, La., says that Professor George E. Beyer, who occupies the chair of biology at Tulane University, has been appointed special inspector of wild animals for that port. The commission comes from Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. The appointment is the first made under the Lacey law.

Starlings Under the Ban.

The English starling has come under the same ban as that which rests on his compatriot, the English sparrow. The department of agriculture has issued an order prohibiting the importation of the starling and forbidding its transference from state to state within the Union.

Boston's Fresh Air Charity.

The Boston Elevated Railway company has distributed about 100,000 free tickets, through churches and charitable associations, so that mothers and children and sick and aged persons who cannot pay may be carried to the woods or the seashore.

Queen Will Reside in Rome.

Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy, who intended to settle in Turin, has yielded to the entreaties of her son and her daughter-in-law and will take up her residence in Rome. The news was received with great joy, the queen being adored by the Roman population.

Both Sexes in Shirt Waists.

At a Bath Beach progressive euchre party, the women wore white shirt waists and black skirts, the men white duck trousers and shirt waists of rainbow hues. No one was admitted in other than shirt waist attire.

Gave Wales His Books.

The late Sir William Fraser possessed a splendid collection of books and engravings on costumes, which he bequeathed to the princess of Wales, who has lent the whole for a time to the British museum, where it is accessible to the printroom.

A Forty-Eight-Hour Sabbath.

President Kruger once determined that the people of Johannesburg should have at least two days' rest in each week. He issued a decree that no piano playing should occur on Friday or Saturday.

Home-Grown Tobacco.

In Quebec the citizens solace themselves with home-grown tobacco. They have a patriotic idea that it is superior to the plant raised in any other nation of the universe.

Queen Up in Balloon. Queen Christina of Spain is probably the only sovereign who has been up in a balloon. Some years since she was passing a field where some balloon experiments were going on and desiring to experience the sensation of being in mid air sent her equerry to make known her wish. Her attendants tried to dissuade her from making the attempt, but she would not be overruled and there and then the royal party made the ascent.

Artist Ignorantly Copied "A.G."

Lately a crowd of American soldiers in the Philippines attended a church service in their honor. Above the image of an old saint was the picture of an eagle. The banner which streamed from the eagle's bill was the following legend: "The Old Reliable Condensed Milk." The artist had copied the eagle from a milk can. The padre explained that he thought it was an American motto. Later he fined the artist three pesos.—Hartford Courant.

Read This Over Again.

The pupil of a public school who had been absent from school for two weeks brought this written excuse from her mother: "Louisa was absent Monday, please excuse her. Louisa was absent Tuesday, she had a sore throat. Louisa was absent Wednesday, she had a sore throat. Louisa was absent Thursday, she had a sore throat. Louisa was absent Friday, she had a sore throat. Read this over again for the next week."

Flowers Tell Married State.

The married and unmarried women of the United States of Columbia, South America, are designated by the manner in which they wear flowers in their hair, the senoras wearing them on the right side and the senoritas on the left.

Badges Handed to Queen.

The duke of Argyll, according to custom, has handed over to her majesty the badges of the orders of the Garter and Thistle won by his late father. That is always done by the eldest son, provided he has reached his majority.

Secretary Hay Is Athletic.

Few men of his age are so agile and athletic as Secretary Hay. He is past 60, but still indulges in all sorts of exercises, including a fast walk every afternoon. Every morning at 7 o'clock he undergoes massage treatment at the hands of a skilled Swedish operator.

Girl Lost Her Felloe.

A Topleka girl went to law in order to secure payment of a claim on an accident insurance company. The company brought out the fact that the girl had corns. This was such a shock to her best fellow that he ceased his visits, and now the girl wonders whether the $47 she got from the company is sufficient compensation for the loss of her beau.

Women Favor Shirt-Waist Men.

The proprietor of a dancing pavilion at Rockaway beach barred two shirt-waist young men from appearing on the floor. The would-be visitors protested, whereupon the proprietor made the mistake of offering to leave the matter to a vote of the women patrons of the place. The result was an almost unanimous declaration in favor of the young men.

Argentine Minister Publishes Book.

Dr. Garcia Meron, who recently returned to his South American home, has published a book of 500 pages of Spanish in Washington. In the book he refers to the Argentine minister after a term as the Argentine minister.

Austrian Emperor's Birthday.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria passed his seventieth birthday at his country home at Ischl. The day was celebrated with an unusually profuse display of bunting, decorations, and illuminations in Vienna.

Canada's High-Grade Wheat.

Although Canada's situation among the principal wheat-producing countries, with respect to quantity, is humble, with respect to quality it is high. The output is also increasing steadily.
