scription has sold very readily at firm prices. In fact, most salesmen are quoting strictly good cows as stronger as compared with a week ago. On the other hand, with large offerings of common to medium grades, the market on such has had a ten-dency toward weakness, being generally a little easier at the close of the week. Stockers and feeders have been coming in very fast this week, but with a large attendance of country buyers they have gone out equily as fast. All good grades of feeders have commanded strong prices throughout the week, being very free sell-ers at current figures. Even the medium grades have sold very good, although poe-sibly the rough-horned cattle are a triffe caster at the close of the week, still the change, if any, has been slight.
