NOTES ON MAHA SOCIETY

Miss Yates and Mrs. Florence Voss Entertained Informally.

HORSE SHOW CLAIMS INTEREST

Crowds Almost Everything Else Off Wednesday's Agenda, but Shares Attention with the Montgomery-Johnson Wedding.

As Tuesday night's attendance at the horse show suited for the gay round of other affairs that most crowded the day, so Wednesday evening proved to be a death of entertainment, for, with the exception of the Montgomery-Johnson wedding, Wednesday evening was almost blank.

Consequently, as it does, two of the prominent families of the city, the wedding was one of the conspicuous social events of the month.

Invitations continue to be issued that promise to make next week something more than busy. In the main, the affairs in prospect are formal and many of them are large.

Montgomery-Johnson.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Johnson of 424 South Thirty-fifth street was the scene of one of the most brilliant weddings of the season Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Marion Johnson, became the bride of Harry Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Montgomery.

carried a shower bouquet of the same flowers. Immediately following the service was a reception, at which about 150 guests were present. For the reception the dining room had been profusely decorated with tons of yellow and green.

Low clusters of yellow chrysanthemums adorned the walls, and long clusters of the same flowers were placed on the buffet and side tables. Punch was served in the parlor. Assisting in the dining room and throughout the rooms were: Mrs. Clark Powell, Mrs. Earl Kiplinger, Miss Jesse Whitmore, Miss Dorothy Ringwalt, Mrs. James Radwick and Mrs. Guy Parks of Decatur, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery have gone west on their wedding trip and on their

SKIRTS CAUSE A SENSATION

Newest Models Wholly Impracticable for All but House and Carriage Wear.

Paquin has given less attention to waistcoats than have many of the other French makers, chiefly because his princess skirt and the cut of his favorite coat do away with the desirability of the waistcoat. This children, but their condition and what kind of citizens they will make. This plea for the little ones that some thought should be given to prolonging the life of the mother and thus protect the babes should occupy first place in the work of mother clubs. The size of the family is of less importance.

GRAY TO BE MUCH WORN AGAIN

Range of Many Shades to Select From—Italian Gray the Newest.

There seems to be no doubt that the grays will occupy this season a place even more important than that held by them last winter. Large number of the handsome French models come in this color, the shades ranging from taupe (molekin), elephant and plumb to the slightest silver grays.

The beautiful gray is particularly effective in broadcloth and is almost invariably trimmed in braid and velvet or embroidery and velvet a few shades darker, but harmonizing most delightfully. This color scheme is especially of Grecian, who used it for some of his best models this season, but it has been quickly taken up by the other makers.

One of the much admired Decollet creations has a plain clinging skirt of gray broadcloth and a charming bolice of the cloth slightly braided in the darker gray and trimmed in buttons and folds of velvet.

Velvet of the darker shade enters into the collar and cuffs, and coquettish ornaments of gray velvet with handsome buttons or medallions of dull silver from which fall pendants of silver and gray silk down the coat fronts.

Another lovely gray model, of which a sketch is shown here, had a plain broadcloth skirt, a bodice of cloth and embroidered gray net and a loose half length coat braided very lightly in darker gray round the bottom and with a magnificent band of dull silver and gray embroidery on gray net set into the loose sleeves and the boat back and fronts.

MOST EXCELLENT HOME TREATMENT

For Constipation and Throat Troubles Also Common Colds.

The camp of tuberculosis patients in the pine forests of Maine, established by the Philadelphia specialist, have demonstrated a new and wonderfully effective phase in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The remarkable stimulating effect on the respiratory organs by the resinous atmosphere of the pine forest has always been a matter of great interest to the medical world and now that science has produced a form of pine extract that is free from foreign matter the treatment has sprung into popular prominence.

The ingredients can be procured from any well stocked prescription druggist and the mixture made at home. Care should be taken to secure only the "Concentrated oil of pine extract" put up for medical use in half-ounce vials and inclosed in small round wood cases which protect it from heat and light.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Allison, who have been visiting Dr. Allison's parents in Hillsboro, O., are expected home Thursday.

Miss Essie Cudahy of Chicago arrived Wednesday to be the guest of Mrs. E. A. Cudahy for the Horse Show.

Mr. Frank E. Kennard has been confined to his home for the last few days with tonsillitis.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, who has been visiting Miss Lorraine Comstock for the last few days, returned Tuesday to Lincoln, where she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryan, before returning to her home in Denver.

Afternoon at Hillside.

Mrs. Florence Voss and Miss Beside Yates gave a delightful informal "at home" Wednesday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock at their home, "Hillside," 2120 Davenport street.

For Miss Brewington.

Miss Frances Wezels gave an informal bridge party Monday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Brewington, of Hannibal, Mo. There were three tables placed for the game and the prize was won by Miss Helen Davis.

Coming Events.

Mrs. Ella J. Squires will be hostess at two bridge parties next week at her home on the afternoon of Wednesday and Thursday.

Come-and-Go Gossip.

Miss Helen Anderson of 2318 Miami street has gone to Chicago to enter the Moody institute, where she will take a course of training preparatory to taking the Young Women's Christian association work.

ENGINEER APPEALS TO MAYOR

Presents Reasons Why Iard Sewer Contract Should Be Vetoed.

DAHLMAN DELIBERATES ON IT

Figures Accepted by the Council Represent Thirty-Seven to Forty Per Cent Profit to the Contractor.

City Engineer Rodewald has taken a final shot at the proposed contract between James Jensen and the city for the construction of the Iard street sewer outlet and Mayor Dahlman is now the only man who has the deciding power as to the fate of the contract.

Wednesday morning the city engineer wrote a letter to the mayor and to be sure that it reached its destination in time delivered it in person, taking occasion to add verbally some points not touched upon in the letter.

The letter to the mayor is as follows: OMAHA, October 16, 1907.—To the Honorable James C. Dahlman, Mayor, City of Omaha, Nebraska. Dear Sir: In regard to the contract for the construction of what is known as the Iard street main sewer, the figures under which the contract is proposed to be let, $125,000, represents from 35 to 40 per cent profit to the contractor.

The figures upon which I arrived at my conclusions, after receiving those figures, spent some time with material men and contractors interested in this job to see how he could knock down my estimate and promote the contractor's interest instead of spending his energies as an employee of the city to save the city money.

My estimate for this job is $280,000, and that with 30 per cent profit added to it, there would still be left nearly $150,000 amount entirely too great to be thrown away when it is considered that the city is in need of money for the construction of its main sewers in every section of its area and is limited, even if the people vote bonds of $100,000, to $200,000.

The remarkable feature of this case is that Mr. Fankhauser, who introduced a resolution asking me to submit in detail the figures upon which I arrived at my conclusions, after receiving those figures, spent some time with material men and contractors interested in this job to see how he could knock down my estimate and promote the contractor's interest instead of spending his energies as an employee of the city to save the city money.
