

Such Bargains as These Were Never Before Offered in America

BRANDEIS "BOSTON STORE" & SONS

Portieres, Couch Covers, Lace Curtains, Bed Spreads and Blankets Away Under Price

MONDAY IS THAT EXTRAORDINARY CURTAIN SALE

We purchased, for spot cash, the entire drapery department of a well known time-payment house at one of the biggest bargains we have secured for a long time. On account of this concern still continuing in the carpet and furniture line one of the conditions of the sale was that we did not advertise their name.

ALL THE PORTIERES--ALL THE COUCH COVERS--ALL THE LACE CURTAINS--ALL THE BED BLANKETS--ALL THE MARSEILLES AND CROCHET BED SPREADS

We bought them so cheaply that the sale we will have Monday will be one long to be remembered. It has always been our policy, when we secured an immense bargain, to give the people of Omaha the benefit of it, and this rule has made for us a reputation for bargain giving that extends over the entire United States. The sale begins at 8 o'clock Monday morning.

NAVAL AFFAIRS IN CABINET

Big Increase in Appropriation for Maintenance Needed.

MORE BLUE JACKETS WANTED
Preliminary Estimate Asks for $5,000,000 to Pay Three Thousand Additional Enlisted Men.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Naval matters occupied the attention of the cabinet during a considerable part of today's meeting. Secretary Metcalf has just completed the compilation of the estimates for the maintenance of the naval establishment, and as these show a great increase as compared with the current fiscal year, thereby promising to cause much debate in congress at the approaching session, the president and the secretary of the navy are giving their most earnest attention to them. The secretary advanced a proposition to increase by $2,000,000 the standing appropriation for the enlisted men in the navy. According to his estimate, this increase would admit of the recruitment of about 3,000 blue jackets in addition to the present force. The proposition was received with favor and will be included in the estimates to be submitted to congress. Width of Canal Locks.
Another matter, not entirely naval in character, but deemed of import by Secretary Metcalf, because of its influence upon the character of naval vessels to be constructed in the future, was the recommendation of the Isthmian Canal commission brought to Washington a few days ago by Civil Engineer Rousseau, looking to the widening of the locks of the Panama canal, and this subject was discussed at some length. Some naval officers whose views were reflected by Secretary Metcalf held that a width of 100 feet in the locks would be quite sufficient to meet all naval needs within the next half century, but it appears that another element believes that the locks would prove too narrow in the course of ten years. The president decided to await a detailed report from the canal commission upon this important subject, and so the subject was laid aside for the present.

More Battleships Needed.
Secretary Metcalf also has before him the report of the naval general board, headed by Admiral Dewey, upon the new construction required to meet the plans of the board and these were touched upon, incident to the construction of the width of locks. Not only the naval general board, but the naval board on construction, headed by Admiral Converse, the chief naval constructor, and the secretary of the navy himself must express their views in formal reports upon this matter of new construction before the president will have in hand all of the material upon which to base his own recommendations to congress. It is pointed out that by reason of the fact that the last year expressed the opinion that one new ship would be all that should necessarily be authorized by this congress, the president has somewhat embarrassed himself, but as several of the battleships which were last year supposed to be perfectly serviceable have since rather unexpectedly been shown to be obsolete type, it is not apprehended that the president will have any difficulty in explaining to the congress the necessity for amending the original estimate, for it is now quite certain that no less than two and probably three battleships of the first order will be recommended in the estimate.

The report of the board of inquiry in the case of the grounding of the battleship Kentucky on Lambert's Point, Hampton Roads, was received at the Navy department today. It fully exonerates from blame Captain Barry, the commander. It is shown that the accident was due to the crowded condition of the roadstead.

DUNDEE WOULD USE LIBRARY

Residents Present a Petition to the Board Which is Referred to Committee.
A committee of prominent residents of Dundee was present at the meeting of the Library board, held Friday evening, and presented a request to that body asking that the same privileges of the library be extended to the residents of Dundee as are accorded to the residents of Omaha. After considerable discussion, the matter was referred to the judiciary committee of the board, which committee will make a report at the next meeting.
"The Slave Market" (the famous oil painting by Giraud, which has been hanging in the library museum, was formally presented to the library Friday night by Dr. H. C. Moore, who was extended a vote of thanks by the board for his generosity. The bequest of $10,000 to the library by the late Frank Murphy will be invested in Omaha bonds.

In appreciation of her past efficient service, and as a compensation for the increased amount of work attendant upon her position, the board voluntarily increased the salary of the librarian, Miss Edith Tobit, from $125 to $150 per month, the increase to take effect November 1. Owing to the increased amount of work asked of the librarian's staff of assistants since the old scale of salaries went into effect, the executive committee of the Library board will consider a new scale, embodying an increase of salaries, which scale will be presented at the next meeting. Expenditures for the last month were $1,115.25.
The board members present Friday night were: Deuel, West, Haller, Rogers, Stevens and Ringwall.

HIGHER EDUCATION TOO HIGH

President of Cornell University Says Tuition Fees Should Be Reduced.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 26.—President Jacob Gould Schurman has prepared for the annual fall meeting of the Cornell university board of trustees which meets Saturday, October 26, what he himself terms a radical report.
He recommends that the time necessary to obtain a professional degree at Cornell be extended from four to five years. The first year he would devote to purely humanistic studies, such as history, languages, literature, economics and politics; the second to the pure sciences and the general scientific field. This would constitute the first division. The second division of three years would be devoted to purely technical training as it is now. He states it is his belief that a required five years would induce most students to take six years in order to obtain both an arts and a professional degree.
In his plea for reduced tuition, President Schurman remarks:
"If the republic is to remain a democracy there must be an educational ladder extending from the gutter to commencement stage, which may be ascended by the talented, studious and diligent children of the poor as well as by those of the well to do and rich. Every advance in the fees charged for tuition and other purposes in colleges and universities tends to exclude a certain portion of our population from the benefits of higher education. These fees might be raised to such a degree that liberal culture and professional training should become the monopoly of that minority of men who can afford to spend at least hundreds of dollars annually on the education of each of their children. Under such conditions there would result an unjust and dangerous alliance of capital and brains—an aristocracy of wealth in combination with an aristocracy of trained talent."
