ROGUE AND POWDERS IN PARIS.

The Paris correspondent for a metropolitan paper writes that the wave of reform has struck French society ladies in the matter of using face powders, cosmetics, etc. They now want the real thing when it comes to complexion and ladies that continue to use artificial beautifiers are scoffed and scorned.

Workings of Time.

In youthful days, when gay romance was in his heart, a smile, a glance was all he needed; And things that now his thoughts engross He used to call mere "sordid dross." And pass unheeded.

To win her was his dream of bliss. "Kind fate," he cried, "but grant me this: To win you may keep what else you owe." But that was many years ago, Before he got her. —The Cynic.

The Social Calendar.

MONDAY—Miss Ida Smith, informal tea for her guests.

TUESDAY—Miss Faith Potter, luncheon; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Davis, dinner for Miss Brady and Tom Davis.

WEDNESDAY—Grady-Davis wedding; Misses Edna and Elsie Wood, card party for Miss Eva Smith of Bakerfield.

THURSDAY—Mrs. Joseph Metcalf, tea from 3 to 5 for Mrs. Ada Hertsche; Halloween party at Happy Hollow club.

FRIDAY—Mrs. Walter Craig, bridge for Miss Lawell of Easton, Pa.; Altar Guild of the Trinity cathedral, musical at the home of Mrs. J. M. Metcalf.

An imposing array of smart functions filled last week's calendar and kept society frolic and out of its carriages from Monday until Saturday night.

There is to be little abatement of these good things this week, but the outlook is not quite so strenuous, as there are fewer large affairs scheduled and hostesses will have less fear of "party" conflicts.

The approaching Halloween has been a signal for a flurry of invitations and the usual competition for unique and unusual entertainments.

Foremost among the fashionable affairs of the week will be the wedding of Miss Bessie Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brady, and Mr. Tom Davis, which will be a large church affair, followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

The other interesting events scheduled will be the musical given by the Altar Guild of Trinity cathedral at the home of Mrs. J. M. Metcalf on Friday. Then there is a long list of given-in-honor affairs for the popular visitors, besides the theaters and scores of small dinners, luncheons and receptions.

Closing of Country Club.

With a harvest home dinner and a sheet and pillowcase dance the Country club closed its doors for this season Saturday evening. The attendance was not large, as might have been expected, but the occasion was none the less enjoyable for the absence of a crash. The club house was decorated throughout with Halloween suggestions and the entire affair partook of this popular fall frolic.

The afternoon was devoted to an interesting golf contest, when two teams were chosen by Mr. Mosher Colpeter captain of one and Mr. C. S. Montgomery of the other. The losing team entertained the victors at dinner. Besides the golfers those who made reservations for small parties of two, four or six were: Mr. Luther Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burns, Jr., Mr. F. N. Connor, Mr. Arthur Remington, Mr. William Redick, Mr. W. A. Foye, Mr. A. V. Yandell, Mr. Herbert Wheeler, Miss Daisy Doner, Mr. Walter Saunders, Mr. Sherman Canfield, Mr. E. T. Swobe, Mr. Colt, Mr. H. Kelly, Mr. E. V. Lewis, Mr. Hacker, Mr. E. S. Westbrook, Mr. E. T. Barlow, Mr. John A. McShane, Mr. E. M. Fairfield, Mr. Robert L. Huntley, Mr. D. M. Vinsonhale and Dr. Wilson Low.

At Happy Hollow.

Saturday evening the last table d'hote dinner and dance of the season was given at Happy Hollow club, and was marked by a great deal of merriment. A large crowd availed itself of the last opportunity and the result was one of the most successful evenings of this year.

Several large dinner parties were given, one of which were elaborate decorations were used was that of the Wykarah club, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Barnum, who will leave about November 1 to reside in Kansas City. The centerpiece for their table was a large pumpkin, cut and shaped into a fancy basket filled with luscious fruits.

This was placed on a white daisy lace centerpiece over yellow satin and surrounded by six small pumpkins with grinning comical faces. At each guest's table were miniature pumpkins holding red lighted candles. The large mantel in front of which the table was placed was beautifully and artistically decorated with grasses, corn, Jack-o'-lanterns and one large owl.

The plate cards were also cleverly designed, being made of tree bark. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Barnum, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hatfield, Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Dorward and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cook.

With Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Breckenridge were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brogan, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McHugh, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Darlow and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. White. Their table was pretty with a centerpiece of large yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Wood had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer and Miss Bowen, all of Council Bluffs, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dumont, Mr. and Mrs. James Forsyth, Miss Fannie Forsyth, Miss Hicks, Miss Mary Wood and Mr. W. R. Wood.

With Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hayward were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Belden, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hayward, Mr. F. C. Hayward, Mr. Raymond Hayward, Mr. Lawrence Gibson, Miss Ada Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Jenks, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hicks and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Benton were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Henry.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Somers entertained Dr. and Mrs. Roy Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Towson and Miss Helen and Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Burket were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. C. Power and Miss A. E. Haakell.

Smaller dinner parties were given by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parrott, who had four guests; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Rush, four; Mr. Frederick Craig, four; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Cameron, four; Mr. Stevens, four.

FURS!!

In buying furs the price is not all that is to be considered. Because an article is high priced is no guarantee that it has quality. Because it is low priced is no proof that it is a bargain.

The man who makes a fur garment knows beyond question what sort of material was put into that garment. We make every garment we sell.

We carry a complete stock of Scarfs, Muffs and Jackets, and also a large assortment of skins for special order garments.

AULABAUGH

Take Elevator in Millinery Store. 1803 Douglas St.

In an American beauty rose, Miss Florence Crocker, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Mr. Harley Deems was best man. The bride wore a handsome gown of sheer white material, with trimmings of Valenciennes lace and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Following the marriage service was an informal reception when about forty guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Crocker have gone east on a wedding trip and will be at home to their friends after November 7 at 2618 Indiana avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed S. Cloyer announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Bernice Hazel, to Mr. Lester H. Drishman. The wedding will take place in January.

An interesting engagement announced last week was that of Miss Helen O'Neil, daughter of the late Mr. H. J. O'Neil of Chicago, to Mr. William J. Coak of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Coak. The wedding is to take place the first week in December.

The fashionable event of the week will be the wedding of Miss Bessie Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brady, and Thomas Latham Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Davis, which will take place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at All Saints' church. Rev. T. J. Mackay will officiate. Mrs. Ben Cotton is to be matron of honor and Miss Mary Lee McShane will be maid of honor. Miss Ada Kirkendall and Miss Helen Davis will be the bridesmaids. Lawrence Viles of Chicago will be the best man, and Frank Wilhelm, Willard Hestford, Walter Roberts, Glen Wharton and Ben Cotton will serve as ushers. Immediately following the service at the church there will be a reception at the home of the bride, 1625 Jackson street.

O'DONOHUE TO MILWAUKEE

Senior Member of the Late Big Retail Store Secures Excellent Position in Brewery City.

Mr. Daniel J. O'Donohue, senior partner of the late firm O'Donohue-Redmond-Norville Co., Sixteenth and Howard streets, left Friday evening for Milwaukee, Wis., and will take his duties Monday morning as general manager of Kroeger Bros. Co., a big department store there. Kroeger Bros. Co. have one of the largest stores in the northern city. The building being strictly modern and up-to-date in every respect with an immense staff of employees on the payroll. The firm is old established, progressive and has an immense business.

Mr. O'Donohue, during his residence in this city, evinced an excellent public spirit. He was prominent as one of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Tien and as an Elk and was a leading officer in the local branch of the Clan Gordon and Rev. Dr. Clarke's Farewell.

Members of Clan Gordon, Ladies' auxiliary and families, are requested to attend Clansman Dr. Clarke's farewell services in Lowe Avenue Presbyterian church, Sabbath evening, 8 o'clock. Take Walnut 13th or Benson cars. Seats reserved 'till 3 p. m. By order of the clan.

JAMES C. LINDSAY, Secretary.

Getting acquainted with the people you can and will fill your wants is an easy matter if you mention your desires through The Bee Want Columns. The Bee is read, by rich and poor and old and young people—thousands of them—and it would be remarkable, indeed, if you should have a want that not one of these thousands of people could fill. A reasonable Want Ad never escapes the notice of someone who is glad to know about it.
