M'GREW SAYS EAST IS SAFE

Omaha Banker Returns from New York with Good Reports. LIKE MONEY UNDER TIME LOCK

Such is His Description of Situation, Which is Not Dangerous in Face of the Actual Resources.

Just like a man who has all his money locked up in time lock safe and should anyone refuse to trust him for a meal, he might go hungry before the timer would run off, is the way Vice President McGrew of the Omaha National bank described the financial situation in Omaha and eastern cities on his return from New York. Mr. McGrew had been in New York on a ten days' trip, where he was called on personal business and left the financial center of the country after the close of business Tuesday evening. He said conditions had improved so materially by that time that all financial interests were drawing long breaths of relief and felt absolutely sure the worst was over.

"I am sure that the gold had been positively contracted for importation, the first of which will arrive next Tuesday," said Mr. McGrew. Since that time several millions more have been contracted for, making the total to arrive next week to exceed $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. This will be used largely to furnish a supply of ready money with which to transact business in the usual channels. Country Has the Resources. "This country has the absolute resources with which to liquidate at face value every dollar of its indebtedness and it is only a question of time to move the meat and food stuffs to the markets of the world, when all financial matters will resume their normal condition. "The year of 1907 is not to be thought of in the same connection as that of 1903. There is no comparison between the two years. At that time it was a question of borrowing money on shrinking assets; today the commercial institutions have assets which are good for $100,000,000, and while converting them into available form. "If conditions in Omaha fully as good or better than I expected, and it will doubtless be but a very short time until business will resume its normal condition. Mr. McGrew said the New York bankers were much pleased with the outlook of Omaha and other western cities responded so quickly to the apparent necessity of holding up cash and extending the check system, and declared it to be the sound thing to do to protect depositors and banks.

has in his vaults national bank currency to the amount of $100,000,000, and while considerable proportion of this belongs to banks that have already reached their limit under the law, a very large sum is available for banks that carry only a comparatively small amount when compared with their capital. One large New York bank could under the law it is said, take out $10,000,000 additional circulation and in all probability will soon ask for a material increase. Mr. Ridgely today expressed the opinion that within the next ten days, the outstanding circulation of national bank notes will be increased by from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 or more.

There are many indications that many banks that have now United States bonds on hand to deposit as security for circulation are borrowing them from other banks that have a surplus on hand or have already reached their limit. In many instances these reserves are being promptly converted into cash and being promptly complied with and there seems to be a general inclination among banks to assist one another in the effort to materially increase the amount of national bank circulation.

CHICAGO MEN LIKE THE PLAN

Circulation in That City Will Be Increased Three Millions.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Speaking of the plan of Comptroller Ridgely to increase the bank note circulation, President John J. Mitchell of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank of this city said:

"There is no doubt that it will have a substantial effect and will relieve the situation very materially. At the same time, however, the stress of the financial situation is today nothing in comparison with what it has been. The people have largely recovered from their panic and the situation is brighter in every way. I have no idea how much the increase in circulation will be in this city, but it will be several millions."

SHORTAGE WAS $85,000.

AKRON, O., Oct. 31.—Joseph Dangel, president of the Dollar Savings bank, was appointed receiver of that institution today in consequence of the suicide of Fred A. Boron, cashier and treasurer last Sunday. The examination by the directors and clearing house association found a shortage of $85,000 against which stands the cashier's bond of $25,000. The deficit amounting to $60,000, on which $45,000 was realized yesterday.

RECEIVER FOR COLUMBUS FIRMS.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31.—The broker firm of Bestor & Co. petitioned today that it be dissolved. A receiver was appointed. The liabilities are estimated at $200,000 and the assets about $170,000.

DULUTH EXCHANGE CLOSED.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 31.—The directors of the Duluth board of trade voted this morning not to resume trading today. It is likely that trading will be resumed Monday.

FEW ON SMALL BANK KEEPS UP.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—The run on the small All Nations bank which started yesterday continues today.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 31.—Attorney Louis M. Hill today appeared in court and filed a petition for the withdrawal of the plea of "not guilty" in the Black Book lumber case.

CARLOAD TO RIVER CONGRESS

Omaha and Nebraska Will Be Heard in Washington. J. ADAM BEDE CHEERS THEM ON

Member of Rivers and Harbors Committee Says Lawmakers Are Ready and Railroads Will Help for Water Transportation.

This is surely the opportune time for the Big Muddy to get a hearing. Congress is ahead of the people on this particular subject (water transportation) and does not need to be commended, but will do whatever the country will approve. With the various unequal to their task, we now have their co-operation. It's up to the people—J. Adam Bede, representative of the Eighth congressional district of Minnesota, in a letter to an Omaha friend, Mr. Bede is a member of the rivers and harbors committee in the house. When in Omaha during the summer he urged the people of this city and state to get together and work for river transportation. He will be in Omaha again soon.

SAN FRANCISCO BANKS OPEN

Declaration of Holiday by Governor Gillette Without Effect. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—The banks here opened for business today as usual, in spite of the fact that Governor Gillette had declared a legal holiday.

A police officer was stationed at each bank, but there was no excitement and no law people except employers were at the banks when 10 o'clock, the opening hour, came. The stock exchange opened as usual here and at Oakland.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 31.—All the banks in Portland, with the exception of the Title, Guarantee and Trust company, are doing business today with no evidence of excitement. A feeling of optimism is apparent in manufacturing and commercial circles. News from the interior of the state is of a supporting character.

Governor Goodland of Idaho sent the following dispatch to the Portland Evening Telegram: "Financial conditions in Idaho are entirely sound. The state has never been more prosperous. So far as can be learned not a single withdrawal of funds has been made from any of the banks of Boise since the present difficulty began. Reports from various parts of the state are of the same tenor."

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 31.—On this, the second day since the adoption of the clearing house certificates by the banks of Salt Lake City and the restriction of withdrawals of cash to 100 times and 200 per week, business is progressing in all respects as smoothly as ever. Charles S. Burton, president of the clearing house, says the banks will be fully able to finance any deal that any of their customers may wish to make, whether it be here or in China.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 31.—There is no doubt that the local financial situation here is about as good as it could be. No restrictions have been placed on withdrawals, nor have there been any unusual demands upon the banks. Local bankers feel that the strained situation is rapidly drawing to a close and they anticipate no excitement in this state. They are prepared, however, for any emergency. It is improbable that either certificates, notices or holidays will be utilized.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—The declaration of a legal holiday today by Governor Gillette was received without effect as far as the financial institutions of Los Angeles were concerned. All banks and trust companies opened and transacted business as usual and there were no evidences of any change from yesterday.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 31.—The associated banks today decided to adopt the clearing house certificate plan of making payments. Withdrawals are limited to $100.

SPOKANE, Oct. 31.—The financial situation here is about as good as it could be. The banks are releasing a little more money and the clearing house certificates are not being insisted upon as strongly as yesterday. The local bankers say they have now reached a point where they can safely supply anyone with money who needs it.

PESSIMISM IN PITTSBURG

Bankers Alarmed by Big Demands for Cash for Pay Rolls.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—The scarcity of currency in this city is the only feature of the financial situation commanding attention. While no serious inconvenience has as yet been caused to the general public the situation is causing considerable anxiety to bankers.

It is hoped that the plan of Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely to increase the bank note circulation will relieve matters, but Pittsburg bankers were not over-enthusiastic today. The trouble experienced locally is in securing such securities as will be acceptable to the Treasury department.

The pay roll of the Pittsburg district is very large and the scarcity of money has been responsible for much activity among bankers to meet this immediately. It is said here tonight that local persons hold about $5,000,000 worth of Pennsylvania railroad obligations. Short term notes amounting to $25,000,000 it is said, fall due tomorrow and will be taken up by Kahn, Loeb & Co. of New York. It is said the payment of these obligations will bring considerable relief to the money stringency here.

The Pittsburg bank clearings for October established a new high record and for the year to date clearances are the largest for any similar period in local history.

BEVER'S AGENT MAKES A FEW POINTED REMARKS CONCERNING AN OMAHA HABIT.

The accompanying effects of the disturbance in financial circles is to revise the home industry talk. As long as Omaha people are depending on Omaha institutions in other ways it seems a good policy to depend on them in every possible way. "Omaha goods for Omaha consumers" is a battle cry the home manufacturers are raising and it is likely to be heard frequently during the next few months. Once Omaha had a very successful Consumers' league, that had for its purpose the fostering of home industry, and it did an immense amount of good while it lasted. It was made a thing of the past in its scope and all the manufacturers of Nebraska benefited as the result. The league died during the drought times of the early '90s, but it might be revived now.

With this subject in view Edgar A. Higgins, advertising manager for the Stora Brewing company, says: "If Omaha is to be handled by Omaha dealers it would be of immense benefit to the city. I know the request that comes for the beers that are not brewed here, and can understand why strangers should ask for them, but why Omaha people should refuse to call for the beer that is brewed right here at home is beyond my understanding. Several of the leading clubs never had an Omaha beer on their lists. None of them sell much. Why should this be so? Are the outside brands so much better than the home-brewed article? "The leading hotels of Omaha all handle outside beer on draught, the managers say, but their patrons do not know the Omaha brands and so these cannot be sold here. It seems queer that these men, who have become wealthy doing business in Omaha, cannot help an Omaha institution to this small extent.

"Some of the Omaha business men who are the most earnest in their demands for patronage of home industry will sit in cafes after the theater and drink outside brands of beer. They, above all others, should practice what they preach, and their example is worth more to the home industry movement than the little money they spend for beer."

"Omaha brewers are turning out an article that is as good as any in the world and the local business men are doing wrong when they discriminate against them. The Omaha wage earners to a man patronize the home brewers."

Miss M. D. Wingate, the recording secretary, spoke on "Our Work of 1908," presenting an estimate for the new year's expenses. The budget amounts to $107,774. This which $33,449 is for new buildings. Budget exceeds that of last year by $7,000. Delegates from the different states enthusiastically endorsed the increased appropriation and apportionment.

Miss Frances B. Patterson presented "An Appeal from Chinese Women," showing the need of the work in the Celestial Empire and the desire of the people to be taught and the invitation of St. Louis was accepted for the 1908 convention and it will be held in the First Congregational church of that city the latter part of October.

Resolution of thanks to the Congregational women of the city, who have done so much to make the convention a success were adopted; also to the newspapers and other factors, which have contributed to the great success of the thirty-ninth convention of the body.

while similar notice has been received from some of the cities and towns of the state which have the strongest banks in the state. Packers faced a new situation Thursday, when they found it necessary to pay large amounts for customs on exports and imports. As it is against the law to accept anything but the actual gold coin or its actual equivalent for customs, it is thought some trouble may be experienced in paying customs, but, as the internal revenue and postoffice departments are accepting the cashier's checks, it is possible the custom house will do the same. The probability of an objection on the part of the federal government to any of the exceptions made by departments during the present financial situation, is said to be small, and the banks would protect any custom official or revenue collector, who was made the victim of an arbitrary rule by an inspector, who might come along and find a custom house vault full of cashier's checks. The banks say they would cash them in at once in gold coin, as the deposits are increasing at such a rate that it would take a large amount to reduce their cash on hand below what they had when the clearing house rule went into effect Monday morning. Predictions Thursday were that the rule would not be continued after the present week. If it is it will be subject to liberal exceptions.

DIG IN UNHEAP MAD OVER MONEY

No Get 'Em Cash, No Like 'Em Colored Paper.

No money for Lo, the poor Indian, whose untutored mind was never taught to stray as far as cashier's checks or 20 per cent down and balance in lithographed stationery and there is grief on the reservations, with threats to return to the days of swapping skins for Connecticut made wampum.

It was a gloomy pay day at the Winnebago and Omaha Indian reservation Wednesday and Indians are sitting about the tepees, refusing to associate with Mandamin of gather in the harvest.

Money to pay the school men is kept in the Security National bank at Sioux City and Indians are flocking to it in Omaha. When the agents called for cash Thursday they were told what was good enough for white men ought to be good enough for the Indians. The agents quite agreed, but did not think the Indians would want anything so flashy as the bright colored cashier's checks. The Indians are weary of the long green manumans with pictures of buffaloes tearing across the prairie as though running from the arrows of a red-skin. The pay day has been postponed and the Indians do not like the idea.

"They will have to trade skins, horses, beads, muscovado and elk teeth," said John A. Milam, a trader from Winnebago, who is in Omaha. "An Indian can take a good skin to buy a sack of tobacco or a pound of coffee and get a pound of beads or eleven rabbit skins for change. Horses are still legal tender for most anything. Washing machines and ice cream freezers could be purchased with ponies just as well as with money. The Indians don't like the arrangement, but they don't understand it and there is plenty to eat on the reservations."

Financial Flurry Has No Terrors for Such People.

Samuel Ditto of Gillette, Wyo., a friend of Mayor Dahlman, is visiting the city on his way home from a trip to Illinois. He says he was not affected by the financial panic. "This flurry can't hurt Wyoming ranchmen and farmers this year," he said, "for we have sold all we had to sell and we can wait for matters to settle before going out to the market again. As a rule the farmers all over the west are in positions where they can hold or sell as they see fit. The man who borrowed money to buy

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Right Rev. Thomas O'Gorman of this city, Catholic bishop of the eastern diocese of South Dakota, will visit the Kimball parish on November 6, at which time the new sanctuary of the Catholic church at Kimball will be dedicated with elaborate ceremonies. Bishop O'Gorman, before returning, also will visit Pakwana and Chamberlain for the purpose of looking after affairs of the church in those places. The recent improvements to the Catholic church at Kimball cost about $800, and Father O'Flaherty, who has charge of the Kimball parish, will have headquarters at Kimball, informed the members of the church that the plan to hold a fair will be abandoned if they subscribe sufficient funds to pay for the improvements. Two-thirds of the required sum already has been subscribed, and it is expected that the remainder will be raised before Bishop O'Gorman makes his visit to Kimball and other points in that part of the state.

RATE OF DISCOUNT INCREASED

Bank of England, for Self-Protection, Adds One Per Cent.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England was raised today from 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 per cent. The increase has been recorded as a foregone conclusion in consequence of the rumors made upon the Bank of England's stock of gold by the demand from America and the recent rise in the discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany. Since last Thursday the United States secured about $2,250,000 in gold from the Bank of England and in the open market, and the bank's reserve had been reduced to about $23,500,000, which, however, was $23,500,000 higher than this
