Splendid Support of Entire Student Body is Accorded Home Team and This Spure It On.

The hig bell in the Omaha High schoe tower tolled forth the fact Saturday night that the foot ball team of that institution had beaten the husky team from the Beatrice High school by the score of 36 to 0 at Dietz park, in one of the best attended foot ball games of the season.

The local boys won because of superior knowledge of the fine points of the new game, which permitted them to work tricks to advantage. Omaha excelled in end runs and in the kicking branch of the game as well as in tackling, while the Beatrice line showed itself to be a stone wall toward the latter part of the game and held the Omaha lads from a touchdown when they had three trials within the five-yard line. The game was characterized largely by the superb support accorded the team by practically the entire student body of the Omaha High school, as well as by a large number of the teachers on hand to witness the game. The field, with its green turf, presented a pretty sight, lined as it was by a solid phalanx of students decorated with the high school colors of purple and white. The large number of girls also was a noticeable feature and marked a vast difference from the support which has been accorded high school teams during the last two or three years.
