ONE CREAMERY DEFENDS SELF

Delivered to Enting Housen-Thirteen Restauranteurs to Have Trial Tuesday.

Thirteen out of the fourteen restaurant keepers arrested for selling milk containng less than 3 per cent butter fat appeared in police court before Judge Foste Thursday morning and pleaded not guilty. Their trials were set for Tuesday morning The missing man of the fourteen was one W. Swank, who, it was learned had sold out and left the city last Saturday.

The thought of being one of an unlucky thirteen seemed to weigh heavily on some of the defendants, especially the white contingent, but the celestials, of whom there were several, were blissfully indifferent as to the number thirteen. The Waterloo Creamery company has come to the left-handed defense of the restaurants accused of selling milk not ug to the legal standard, at least so far as to prove that the milk was fully up to standard in every way at the time it was delivered. For the defense of the two restaurant men who buy Waterloo milk, Attorney Robertson has been retained to represent the defendants and the company at the trial.
