

W. V. ALLEN FOR GOVERNOR

Former Senator Said to Be Choice of W. J. Bryan.

DAHLMAN SIMPLY WON'T DO

Desire of Peerless Leader to Regain Favor with Pop Overrides Fear of the Sting of Ingratitude.

"Jim Dahلمان will never run for governor on the democratic ticket, at least not in 1908," asserts an Omaha democrat, who professes to be in the confidence of the "powers that be" in the house of democracy.

"I have it on the best authority that this is the card decided on by Mr. Bryan and other leaders of the fusion forces in Nebraska at a recent confab, one held since the election, and that all plans for the campaign will be shaped toward that end. The understanding is that ex-Senator Allen will agree to run under proper pressure. Bryan, I am told, has said that Dahلمان is simply out of the question, not a possibility, and while he and Jim are still good friends, he cannot be made to see that 'Jim' would stand a ghost of show running for governor. The results of Tuesday's election in Omaha confirm that view."

"The party left Baltimore two weeks ago in the private car idled to go to the Ubehebe mining camp, Ubehebe, Cal., which has just been established 34 miles southwest of Tonopah, Nev. The party remained at the camp in Death valley two days and then visited 'Scotty's' ranch at Tin Mountain and were entertained there by 'Scotty,' whom they report remarkably well fixed.

The Sting of Ingratitude.

"How about the sting of ingratitude, that is in case of Allen's candidacy, would Gilbert M. Hitchcock support him personally and with his paper?"

"Now, you're asking some questions, my friend; you're getting down now to the real subject matter. I'm sure I can't tell whether the 'sting of ingratitude' would be felt in that case or not. It might be that, owing to the same political ambition and conditions which have forced him to smother the sting and get behind Bryan more than once, Mr. Hitchcock would see fit to lend an unwilling support to the Allen candidacy. But there is no doubt he has never forgotten that Governor Poynter, at the instigation of Bryan, who telegraphed from Texas, appointed W. V. Allen as a populist and not G. M. Hitchcock as a democrat, to fill the vacancy occasioned by a death. Well, Mr. Hitchcock may have a chance to show us what he would do.

"You see, there is much method in the madness of this scheme. The democrats or Mr. Bryan must resecure control of the populist vote in Nebraska. It is all well and good to say there isn't a populist party, may be not, but there are populists just the same, and one thing is plainly evident, the democrats did not swing those votes to their man Loomis last Tuesday. Nobody is more keenly aware of this fact than Mr. Bryan. And Mr. Bryan knows that before 1908 it would be a good thing for him to get his arm around the recall-traitors."

BARROWS FAIRLY SWAMPED

Federal Building Custodian Deluged by Applicants for Jobs Not His to Give.

Colonel Barrows, custodian of the federal building, has recently discovered there are more clerks, stenographers, bookkeepers, employe chemists, experts in foodstuffs, de-natured alcohol testers, butter tasters, microscopists, beer and whisky samplers, and a host of other jobs than was even before dreamed of in his philosophy. It all comes from the fact the new chemistry

PERKINS' DEATH STOPS ROAD

Every Train and Every Employee of Burlington Will Quit Work.

FIVE MINUTES' IDLENESS TAKEN

General Manager Holdrege Issues Order to This Effect for Day of Former President's Funeral.

"Mr. C. E. Perkins, the builder of the Burlington railroad, is dead. His funeral will be held on Monday next, 11th instant, at 3 o'clock p. m., at Westwood, near Boston, Mass. In order that the many employees of this company who have known and respected him for so many years, may in some manner show their respect for his memory, all work will cease and all train movements will be stopped on the afternoon of the funeral for five (5) minutes. In central time territory the order will apply for the first five minutes after 2 o'clock p. m., and in western time territory for the first five minutes after 1 o'clock p. m."

This order was issued yesterday by General Manager Holdrege of the Burlington west of the river. An air of sadness prevailed at local Burlington headquarters over the news received of the death of Charles E. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad at his place of residence at Westwood, a suburb of Boston, Friday night. Mr. Perkins had been connected with the Burlington road for fifty-five years and was a most vital factor in its building in the western country.

"All Burlington officials and employees have always had the greatest respect for Mr. Perkins," said General Manager Holdrege of the Burlington who was visibly affected by the sad news Saturday morning. "They had become very much attached to him and regret very much that he has been taken away."

Built Line of the West.

"The Burlington railroad from the Mississippi river west through Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota, and Montana was planned and constructed under Perkins' direction and by him, and it was through his acquaintance and efforts that the New England stockholders provided funds for this work and brought the road to its present state of perfection. Mr. Perkins was always a strong believer in the development and resources of the entire western country and this property will stand as a lasting monument to his memory."

Mr. Perkins was born at Cincinnati November 24, 1846. He entered the railway service in August, 1859, and since that time was consecutively, cashier of the Chicago & Burlington from 1882 to 1883; assistant secretary and treasurer from 1883 to 1885, and general superintendent from 1885 to 1887. He was vice president of the Burlington & Missouri line in Nebraska from 1878 to January 1, 1880, at which time the Nebraska road was consolidated with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. Mr. Perkins was vice president and general manager of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy from 1887 to 1891. Since that time Mr. Perkins has been chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad.

Orders for Perkins Funeral.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Nov. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—At the hour of the Perkins' funeral every part of the traffic and work on the system will cease for five minutes, beginning with 2 o'clock p. m. Work in the offices and shops and on the roadway will also cease at the same time. Official orders to this effect were issued today by F. W. Ward, general manager of the line east of the Mississippi, and G. W. Holdrege, general manager of lines west, the order covering all branch lines as well as the main lines.

Mr. Perkins left a widow and six grown children. The latter are: Robert Forbes Perkins of Framingham, Mass.; Charles E. Perkins, Jr., of Burlington; Mrs. William Hooper of Beverly, Mass.; Mrs. Edwin Cunningham and Mrs. George Rice of Westwood, Mass.; and Mrs. M. Perkins of Burlington. A son, Samuel, died in infancy.

MILK MEN SHOW BOARD

Creamery Company Takes Railroad Commissioners to See Depot Surroundings.

Still protesting against the terminal facilities provided by the Union Depot company for shippers of cream, representatives of the Fairmont Creamery company Friday morning took the members of the Nebraska Railroad commission to the depot in Omaha and gave them a practical demonstration of the difficulties under which creamery men are laboring because the railroad companies give them promises instead of platforms.

Scattered over half an acre of ground, a large part of which was muddy, the railroad commissioners viewed the yellow and blue topped cans, filled and empty, some of them half a foot in the mud. The blue sky shined them Friday, but it was only by luck as frequently the sky is black and the cream shippers are forced to load and unload the cream in the open air.

The creamery men cried attention to the fact that during the month of July alone 54,000 cans of cream were received beneath the blue sky and over the mud holes near the terminals. This meant, they said, that 54,000 empty cans were returned.

The creamery men of Omaha ask the commission to order some sort of platform and shelter for their cream handlers, which will enable them to handle the cream in a more sanitary and convenient manner. They also ask that Ninth street be opened to them, which would make it possible to approach their shipping station without the steep approach to the viaduct on Tenth street, whereby it is necessary to use four horses on each load in order to get out. The humane society has protested against the abuse of horses in driving them up the incline, when the pavement is slippery and a number of horses have been fatally injured by falling on the approach.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD TO MEET

The contributions of two new garments each year is the only fee and the only obligation that membership in the guild entails and every man, woman and child of the city is eligible. It is hoped that considerably more than 3,000 garments may be collected this year, as the need is great and the distribution impartial. Mrs. R. C. Moore is president of the guild this year.

Special to Business Men, Commercial Students and Clerks: "The Commercial Value of Christian Courtesy" will be the theme of an address by F. T. Rogers at the First Congregational church, corner of Nineteenth and Davenport street, Sunday night at 7:30. Good music.

The Figure

How Too Much Fat May Be Safely Re-duced at Home.

"Oh, that this too, too solid flesh would melt; try the ladies nowadays as they try to acquire into a princess frock. How much would the too generously proportioned dame not give up for four inches less in the waistline as she compares herself with the more fortunate one hundred and twenty-five-pound stater. Various devices are suggested to arrest the flesh producing tendency and keep the figure trim, including exercising, walking and dieting as well as numerous patented remedies, but there are objections to all of these. Exercise is hard work and takes up precious time; dieting is distasteful and a real punishment; and most of the patent remedies are dangerous to health.

The very best thing for the overweight, whether male or female, is a simple home-recipe. One-half ounce Marmold, one-half ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, three and one-half ounces Syrup Simplex, which can be obtained of any druggist at small cost. This should be taken a teaspoonful at a time after meals and at bedtime, and results will be both speedy and certain. This is a harmless mixture that cannot bring on any stomach troubles nor cause the dried-up wrinkled appearance of those who starve or take "patent reducers" to get thin. On the contrary, although it often takes the fat off at the rate of a pound a day, it is really very beneficial to the system, cleansing the blood and causing the complexion to become fair and beautiful. The cost of the three ingredients is a mere bagatelle, and one may, if they prefer, get them separately and mix them together at home.—Adv.
