Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society: "It will have a very healthful effect."

Edward Simmons, president of the Fourth National bank: "It can hardly fall to bring a much needed financial relief." William A. Nash, president of the Corn Exchange bank: "The action of Secretary Cortelyou will not only do a great dea; of good here in the present financial stringency, but it will tend to establish Amercan credit on a firmer basis in England. France and Germany, showing, as it does, that we are willing and able to handle the situation here at home through our own government,"

A partially dissenting view was given by Henry Clews. He disapproves the Issue of the certificates of indebtedness. Mr. Clews said:

"The issue of $50,000,000 of Panama bonds is a good measure for restoration of confidence. That, with the $65,000,000 we have imported in gold, should give us enough oney and more. I question the legality of the certificates of indebtedness, and I believe their issue is ill advised and may prove very injurious. We have money enough-what we need is more confidence. The Panama bonds would have to be issued sooner or later, but there is no valid excuse for the resort to a war measure in thee of peace. Inflation at this time will only weaken the money the government is backing, and a flood of certificates is liable to drive out the gold we have imported."

TO COME PROMPTLY This Seems General Sentiment at

Washington. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.-There are so few members of either house of congress who deal directly with financial legislation in the city, that it is impossible to make any definite predictions as to what course financial legislation will take at the approaching session. All who are here however, agree that the conditions are such that something must be done and the preponderance of opinion favors the view that relief legislation will be more prompt than has heretofore been predicted. There are various opinions as to the course that should be taken, some favoring the asset system, under which the banks would be allowed to use their property as the basis of credit, and others, the bond system under which the bank issue could be enlarged only on securities such as municipal bonds with the requirement that they should be approved by the secretary of the treasury. The general idea seems to be that the margin of flexibility should not extend beyond 25 per cent of a bank's capital and that in any event the enlarged issue should be so heavily taxed as to drive It back when the emergency is passed.

One reason for believing that there will be comparatively little difficulty in reaching an agreement on some basis is found in gold in the open market today at onein the fact that the so-called conservative eighth advance. element in the republican party is in complete accord with the administration in the opinion that some form of relief is absolutely necessary in the present emergency, to say nothing of possible future conditions of the same character.

The only practical difficulty which presents itself at their time is an agreement on the form of legislation. At the same time it is not expected that anything will be accomplished without much discussion, especially in the senate, where there is unlimited debate and where there are many will also be found there some disposition to criticise the present conditions.

There will also be some political discussion. It is not believed, however, that the yesterday, democrats will offer any stubborn opposition, but will rather content themselves in ST . Treasury officials and others most conversant with national finances and the currency conditions throughout the country are almost a unit in the opinion that Secretary Cortelyou's announcement that he would issue $109,000,000 in treasury certificates and $50,000,000 in Panama bonds is a complete solution of the present money

Telegrams received this morning at the Treasury department from leading financlers in the great money centers indicate that this view is general, and the opinion is expressed that a very large proportion of the money which has been withdrawn by the timid depositors will now be speedily replaced in the banks and normal conditions be reached, so far as an adequate money supply is concerned, in a very few

Prices promptly moved upward, the financiers and members of the Stock exchange believing that Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou's action was bound to in a great measure remove the rain in the money market. It was thought probable that it would stop the drain of gold from this market and obviate the necessity for a further increase in the Bank of England's rate of discount. Consols which had been adversely affected by the outflow of gold, jumped up half a point above Saturday's closing price to $2% and other British securities rose in WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 .- (Spjecial Telerram.)-The National Association of State niversities convened in Washington today. Among the well known presidents of state universities present are: Chancellor Andrews, Nebraska; F. M. Tiswell, Wyo-George E. MacLean, Iowa, and Frank B. Gault, South Dakota. The meeting will extend over three days, during which time the executive committee of the association will report on the Mondell' bill relative to agricultural colleges.

Senator Warren of Wyoming is in Washington for the winter. He spent the summer in Europe and having looked after interests connected with his re-election at nome comes to the capital to begin a campaign for increased pay for the army and better conditions generally for the privates.

Speaking of Bryan's recent letter announcing his willingness to accept a presidential nomination if tendered him, Senator Warren said:

"William Jennings Bryan could not carry the same states in the Rocky mountain country that he did in 1895. Indeed, I do not believe that Bryan could carry his own state," said the senator. "While he is probably more popular personally than he was when he ran before, political conditions have changed entirely. Silver is a dead issue and the Rocky mountain states are aligned solidly for protection and are the wing with an interview Sunday. The safely republican. Therefore I am convinced that Bryan if nominated-and it omination-will suffer a worse defeat than he did the last time he made the race." Women and Clubs of Omaha Defeated the Ordinance.

OPPOSITION GREW EACH DAY

Improvement Clubs Got Busy Influence on Aldermen Was Too Close to Home-Another Concern on the Ground.

Women of Omaha and the Improvemen clubs in various parts of the city, wielded the influence Monday afternoon which killed the ordinance to grant a franchise to the National Street Sign company, which proposed to place names of streets in all parts of the city, and beneath such names large signs containing advertising matter The Commercial Club and Real Estate exchange had representatives before the council committee of a whole, to protect against such a "cheap" method of securing street name signs, but it is believed the women and improvement clubs held the balance of the influence.

"These clubs get dangerously close to the mes of the aldermen," said a business man, who was opposed to the street sign ordinance. "It is good business for the Commercial club and Real Estate exchange to act, but when the improvement clubs of the different wards get busy, they are or ganizations in wards and neighborhood which would get the scalp of an alderma who would go against their wishes on th matter of decorating streets with the hide ous bill-board signs."

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through ever, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $1.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless value to all women sent free, Address BRADFIELD REBULATOR OD., Allegate, Gas
