CHIEF IS GIVEN A HEARING

Charges of Sanitary Officer Woodridge Fail to Impress the Board.

MAYOR JIM DECLARES HIMSELF

Insists He is the Head of the Police Force and Members of the Board Must Cense Issuing Orders to Its Members.

"That question is irreverent, immaterial and calls for no conclusion of de witness," was the reply of Officer Woodridge, Monday night, to a question by Chief of Police Donahue, during a hearing by the Board of Fire and Police commissioners in an alleged effort to ascertain who was responsible for unsanitary conditions which prevailed at the arcade and other property controlled by M. F. Martin in the red light district, and this reply seemed to epitomize the opinion of the majority of the people who filled the board room as to the evidence and result of the hearing, which did not end until 11:30 o'clock. The most important feature of the hearing, probably, was the announcement of Mayor Dahlgren of his position as mayor of the city and chief executive officer. This statement was brought out after the evidence had indicated that at least one officer of the police force had been led to believe that he should no longer pay that strict attention to the orders of the chief of police which he had been expected to do in the past, and that officers who came to certain members of the board with a story against their superiors could expect a friend at court if they got into any trouble. This condition was not proven, but simply indicated, and the chief testified that since the fact of a pending investigation had been made public, certain officers had shown a spirit of insubordination which threatened the usefulness of the force, now too small to fulfill all of the duties imposed upon it.

The statement came near the close of the hearing and the mayor said: "I do not think we can maintain discipline unless we go about it in the right way. I have been mayor of this city about a year and a half and I have watched the course of affairs pretty closely. I am the chief executive of the city, charged with the enforcement of the laws and it is my duty to give orders to the police force. No member of this board has any legal right to give orders to the chief of police as to the enforcement of laws. All matters in which they have power to act must be such as regularly come before the board. I hope the members of the board will show this respect to the office of the mayor. This thing of members calling officers into their offices for conference is not the right thing to do. You cannot keep up discipline in this manner. I will insist that hereafter all orders to the chief of police come through me." At this point Commissioner Cowell asked what specific matter the mayor had in mind and the mayor replied to him: "Well, for one thing to the question of the candy wheel in the Ak-Sar-Ben grounds this fall. Members were asked individually as to what should be done there was no session of the board and they had no authority to act." Mr. Cowell said that the chief of police had come to him for instructions and he had conferred with other members of the board on the subject; and the mayor replied that this proved his case, as the chief of police himself had evidently mistaken his duty in the matter. This ended the incident except for the statement of members that they agreed with the mayor's position, except Mr. Page who qualified his agreement by saying that he thought he was in duty bound to probe rumors of irregularity in the best way he could at any time, and Mr. Cowell who thought that the members should have a right to talk to policemen about such rumors while the mayor insisted that the only time a member of the board should examine a member of the force was when the board was in session and the officer called as a witness.

Start of Inquiry. The hearing started after preliminary work had been done and the mayor remarked: "We are now ready to investigate charges against the chief of police." "The chief of police is not under investigation," remarked Commissioner Cowell. "Well, we'll start, anyway," said the mayor and Officer Woodridge was called and sworn. He told of meeting Commissioners Cowell and Page at a dance during the summer and at their suggestion meeting them at 11:45 o'clock that night, after wards going with them to the arcade, a place in the neighborhood of Ninth street and Capitol avenue occupied by women of the half world. The place he said was owned by M. F. Martin and had been an unsanitary condition for a long time that the "cribs," as the small apartment occupied by the women are called, were not connected with sewers; that the facilities for outhouses in all stages of dilapidation were in use and all kinds of waste material were piled on the street and in the alley. He said that when these conditions were seen by the commissioners they asked him why he had not enforced the ordinances of the city and he told them he had done so to the best of his ability until ordered to desist by his superior officer; that this superior officer was the chief of police. The examination-in-chief was conducted by Commissioner Page, with an occasional question by other members of the board. Basis of Charge. Later questions brought out the statement from the witness that the order was given by the chief with reference to Martin's property, occurred after Woodridge served a warrant upon Martin for maintaining a nuisance. This was done at Martin's office and Martin had then called upon the chief of police, told him he was arrested and then asked the witness to step to the telephone. The witness was then told not to arrest Martin, but to come to the chief's office. Here, according to the witness, he was told that he could keep busy without operating in the Third ward, which he should leave to other officers, and that he should leave Martin, in particular, alone, as he would get into trouble, since Martin's attorneys were Weaver & Miller. Mr. Giller being a member of the Board of Fire and Police commissioners. Since that time, until October 22, witness said he had not worked in that part of town; but since then had served a warrant on Martin, who had made improvements in the property, so that it was 90 per cent better than it had previously been. Questions were asked with reference to mattresses which the witness had cut open with a knife while examining conditions at other houses in the red light district and the fact that he was fasting a suit on his bond before protected by the chief of police. At his own request Chief Donahue was permitted to make a statement under oath. He opened his remarks by telling of the size of the force and the details for sanitary work, every patrolman being told to inspect all places on his beat and to serve notice where unsanitary conditions were found on property over which they had no control and that on another occasion when arrested he had not been convicted; that he knew there was ill feeling dating back twenty years between Martin and the officer, but did not believe that Woodridge was actuated by personal feeling, although feeling that he might not be called upon to use special care in dealing with Martin for fear the latter would feel that he was being persecuted and that he should make no arrest unless chances for conviction were good.

Wants to Meet All Charges. After giving his statement the chief of police asked the board if there were any other charges pending against him, as he desired to have the matter ended as soon as possible, since the chief of police under a cloud is a poor man to have at the head of the department. All he asked, he said, was an opportunity to meet any charges that might be brought, for he had faced trials before and had invited a grand jury to investigate, his record, furnishing the foreman of that body with the names of persons who had claimed that they had evidence of wrongdoing, and that all he asked was a fair trial, which he believed he would receive at the hands of the present board as he had at the hands of a former one. This was followed by a statement from Mr. Cowell, who said that he had felt it necessary to run down some rumors and that the story of Officer Woodridge was the first which had merited an investigation. He ended by inviting any person who could throw light upon graft in the Omaha police force to make himself known. It was at this point that the mayor stated his position with reference to the Board of Fire and Police commissioners. Following this came a dialogue between Commissioner Cowell and the chief, who asked Mr. Cowell what he would have done under the circumstances as related by him. Mr. Cowell said that he did not know what he would have done, but if the police did not assume jurisdiction over the sanitary laws he would be inclined to hold the chief blameless. No More Charges. In response to the question of the chief as to other matters pending, Mr. Giller asked as to the removal of sanitation houses as ordered by the board. The chief replied that all had moved except those persons who owned their own property, and he did not know how to make them move; that as some moved out others moved in and it was impossible to know whether the good people were honest until the situation

RETIRED BUSINESS MAN FAVORS NEW THEORY

E. H. Lambert, of Everett, Massachusetts, Believes Stomach the Seat of Life

One of the most interesting statements made recently concerning the much discussed Cooper theory, that has spread over the country during the past year, is made by E. H. Lambert, a retired business man, whose home is at 115 Francis street, Everett, Mass. Mr. Lambert has this to say in connection with Cooper and his medicines: "Some time ago I read an article about this man Cooper, in which he claimed that stomach trouble was directly responsible for most ill health. He went on to say that, although his medicine did nothing but get the stomach in sound condition, it would, in many cases, remove kidney and liver trouble and various other ailments. He argued from this that the stomach was the main cause of sickness, and stated that the success he has had with his medicines was due entirely to this fact. "I am now fully convinced that this theory is correct, and believe Cooper to be a really remarkable medicine, judging from my own experience. "I have been a sick man for five years. Three years ago I was told by a physician that I had Bright's disease of the kidneys. I have treated constantly for this trouble since, without results. After reading the article I have mentioned, I purchased some of this man Cooper's medicine. I have been astounded by what it has done for me. I was relieved to some extent within 24 hours. Today my health is better than for five years, and so far as I can tell, my kidney trouble has disappeared. "My wife, who had stomach trouble for some time, tried the preparation after noting its action in my case, and her improvement is fully as marked as mine. She now eats heartily three times a day without any distress whatsoever. Her nervousness has also left her. Certainly believe this man's success is fully justified, as he undoubtedly has a wonderful medicine. "We will gladly describe the remarkable record made by the Cooper medicines to all who wish to know of them.—Beaton Drug Co.

Overworked Women

The Suffering and Pain Endured By Many Working Women is Almost Beyond Belief.

THERE are thousands of American women whose duties call them out in all winds and weathers, many of whom sit with wet feet or stand all day, thus weakening and undermining their health. Women, however, for the most part, spend their lives at home, and these women are willing and ambitious that their homes shall be kept neat and pretty, their children well-dressed and tidy, and do their own cooking, sweeping and dusting, and often washing, ironing and sewing for the entire family. Both of these classes call for our sympathy.

Truly the work of such a woman is "never done," and is it any wonder that she breaks down at the end of a few years, the back begins to ache, there is a displacement, inflammation or ulceration of certain organs, and the struggle to continue her duties are pitiful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Made from native roots and herbs, is the exact medicine a woman needs whose strength is overtaxed. It keeps the feminine system in a strong and healthy condition.

Mrs. Sadie Abbott, of Jeannette, Pa., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I suffered severely with pain every month, and also a pain in my left side. My doctor prescribed for me but did me no good; a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I wrote you in regard to my condition. I followed your advice and am a perfectly well woman. The pains have all disappeared, and I cannot recommend your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Lena Nagel, of 117 Morgan St., Buffalo, N.Y., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I was completely worn out and in the verge of nervous prostration. My back ached all the time. I had dreadful periods of pain, was subject to fits of crying and extreme nervousness, and was always weak and tired. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women. Women suffering from any form of feminine illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience, Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND, made from Native Roots and Herbs, complies with all conditions of the new Pure Food and Drugs Law.
