Hope Expressed that Government Efforts Will Relieve Strain.

NEW YORK BANKERS CRITICISED

Britons Think They Are Not Aiding in Restoring Confidence.

TEN MILLIONS NOW ENROUTE

This Amount Withdrawn from Bank of England During Week for Export to United States.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Bank of England's discount rate remained unchanged today as was regarded as indicating that the directors are still hopeful that the American government's efforts to relieve the currency famine in the United States will prove successful, but it did not suffice to dispel the uneasiness regarding the American situation prevailing in the money market here.

The Bank of England lost the greater part of £2,000,000 in gold during the last week and American orders for the metal are still coming in very little.

The released reports that American bankers propose to utilize the new treasury certificates as a means of attracting gold to New York are not favorably received, with the strained financial situation both in Chile and Portugal further increasing the local tension.

Defense in Walsh Case Brings Out That No Profit Was Made on Sale.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Attorney Miller, for the defendant, continued today his cross-examination of Bank Examiner Mokey in the trial of John R. Walsh, ex-president of the Chicago National bank.

During the cross-examination, the defense brought out the fact that all of the bonds of Mr. Walsh's various companies accepted by the Chicago National bank had been sold to outside parties without loss to the bank.

On re-direct examination it was brought out that many of the memorandum notes which the defense claimed Mr. Walsh had paid had been simply renewed. It was shown that the original memorandum notes were in the bank when it was closed in December, 1905.

The bank examiner asserted that when the bank closed there were thirteen notes, each of the face value of $2,000 still unrepaid, although the discount book purported to show them as paid.

TRACED BY CIGAR SMOKE

Two Men Arrested Before Burglary in Known to the Victim or the Police.

As Officer Hudson was walking his beat in the cold gray dawn of Thursday morning he thought he smelled smoke. He gave another sniff and was positive he smelled smoke. Another sniff convinced him that it was smoke from the cigars and he started to follow the scent, and he followed it till he overtook two hard looking individuals who were smoking 15-cent cigars.

That looked suspicious. Had they been smoking stogies or cheap cheroots, of course, the case would have been different. The officer figured that there was no place open at that time of the morning that sold such expensive cigars, and even had there been it seemed highly improbable that these two wanderers would or could purchase them. They gave their names as George Thompson and Frank Towney, and when searched at the station a large quantity of cigars and chewing tobacco, together with $9 in money was found on them.

In the sweet box they admitted they had had little or no sleep. There were pounds of mud on their shoes and pants and their clothes were wet from rain. The more Captain Mostyn talked to them the more muddled they became in trying to give an account of themselves, and at last confessed they had made a trip to Irvington and turned a little trick in a drug store there in the middle of the night when the rain was falling and the proprietress, Mrs. Holly at Irvington, the proprietor of the drug store, and apprised her that her store had been robbed during the night. That was her first intimation of the fact.

"You sometimes read accounts of the police catching a burglar within a short time after the burglary, and you are usually pulled off," said Chief of Detectives Savage, "but for the police to catch a burglar before they are notified of the burglary, especially when the burglary was done in another city, and then to be the first to notify the victim that he has been robbed, that's a stunt you seldom read about."

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST OMAHA

How Omaha fares under the present conditions will be seen from an examination of the table showing the comparison of class rates from New York to points in the northwest via St. Paul and via Omaha. Whatever differences in haul exist in favor of Omaha, although this is the case in most instances, the differences are practically equal at St. Paul. However, there is a differential of 22 cents, 21 cents, 17 cents, 15 cents and 11 cents in its favor to Montana common points. To Huron and Pierre, S. D., which are shut off from Omaha altogether by the rates, the difference is peculiar. Huron is closer to Omaha than Pierre by 119 miles, yet the rates are 14 cents, 11 cents, 8 cents, 5 cents and 4 cents higher to Huron than they are to Pierre, respectively. The discrimination in the first class rate against Omaha is in favor of St. Paul to Huron 35 cents, while to Pierre it is only 21 cents, although the haul to Pierre is 119 miles farther over the same track. The other rates show the discriminatory difference noted. Plains, Mont., the discrimination in the first class rate on first class freight, or about the "Chicago roads" total share of the rate from New York to the Missouri river "common points." Some reason may exist for this, but why should the first class rate from New York to Missouri be 40 cents more by way of Omaha than it is by
