JIM IS ORIGINAL BRYAN MAN

Mayor Claims Credit for Bringing Out Peerless Leader.

HE WILL NOW PULL FOR OMAHA
Proposes to Go Down to Lincoln and Land the Democratic State Convention for the Metropolis.

Mayor "Jim" will be a sturdy champion of Omaha at the meeting of the democratic state committee in Lincoln next Wednesday. He goes as proxy for C. E. Fanning, who has gone to Havana. "I'll be for Omaha in the committee, as I am at all other times," says the mayor. "We ought to have the convention here. The democrats haven't held a state convention in Omaha since Holcomb was nominated to the supreme bench. It's time we had it here. "I am in favor of the direct primary. No, I would not favor giving the people an opportunity to express their preference by president. That would be carrying the scale to Newcastle—utterly unnecessary because they are all for Bryan." The mayor let his gaze rest lovingly on one of the pictures of the Peerless Leader which adorn the wall of the office. And the look seemed to revive old memories, to cause the spirits of old triumphs to stir in their quiet slumbers in the mayor's loyal bosom. A smile curved the corners of his mouth and then he spoke, spoke as a man who tells of good deeds.

Original Bryan Promoter.

"I was the first man in the country to propose instructing a state delegation to nominate Bryan for the presidency," he said proudly. "It was back in '96. I was a member of the Dawes county delegation to the convention. Every place in the house was full, and so we occupied a box. I had my resolution prepared and in the course of the meeting I rose and reported that I wished to present the resolution. But the chairman waved me aside. The gentleman's out of order," he said. But I insisted and he also insisted. Finally, I said, 'If the chairman will look at the resolution I have I don't think he will declare it out of order.' "Well, I got someone to take up it and the chairman looked it over. 'I hardly think this is out of order,' he said, and he was pleased. So he read it. The minute he had finished Mr. Bryan was on his feet fighting to have it laid on the table. He declared that the delegation ought not be instructed by anyone and he finally carried his point. But I'd got the resolution in the minutes and that was all I cared about. "But I knew then that Bryan was the coming man. I could read him and I knew he would one day be the biggest man in this country and would occupy the presidential chair. He is the biggest man in this country today. He will occupy the White House before many more months. Mark my words." And the mayor puffed his cigar again and the curling blue smoke arose to form itself into laurel crowns upon the massive brow of the Peerless Leader as represented in his three pictures on the wall.

TAFT CLUB IS FORMED IN OTTO

Settlement for the Ohio Man Overwhelming in that County.
NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The preliminary steps were taken last evening toward organizing a Taft club in this city and the meeting was in every way a success and clearly proved that the republicans of this city are strongly in favor of Taft for president. The call was only made public a short time, the intention being to meet and make a temporary organization, but there were so many present that it was decided to complete the organization at once. R. P. Egan was chosen chairman and Deputy County Treasurer E. H. Hoeman secretary. The principal address of the evening was by ex-District Judge Paul Jensen.

The secretary was instructed to correspond with Mr. Vorse, one of Taft's managers in Ohio, and with the secretary of the Douglas county club, so as to get in touch with them. Another meeting will be held on January 24 and then an effort will be made to organize throughout the county. It is intended to have a club in each precinct and all be connected with the club in this city, this being the parent club. It was also announced that when the presidential primaries are held that the effort will be made to have every Taft man go to the polls and express his preference. All can depend upon Otto being strongly in the Taft column.
The officers elected were: President, Colonel W. L. Wilson; vice president, T. F. Roddy; secretary-treasurer, E. H. Hoeman. A committee consisting of T. F. Roddy, Charles Johnson, John Crichton and R. C. King were appointed a committee on membership. They expect to have at least 200 names on the list at the next meeting.

Seldom Wear Out

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain—not only once, but as many times as it is necessary to take them. Many persons who suffer from chronic ailments find in them a source of great relief from the suffering which they would otherwise be compelled to endure. Their soothing influence upon the nerves strengthen rather than weaken them. For this reason they seldom lose their effectiveness.

"I am 62 years old and have suffered for 42 years from nervous troubles, rheumatism and neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and pain around the heart. The Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have been a blessing to me. I don't know what I should do without them, and they are the only remedy I have ever used that either did not wear out in less time than I have been using them, or else the injurious results were such that I would be obliged to cease their use."
