Letters Alleged to Be Forged Contain Charges Against Postmaster. PERU, Neb., Jan. 12 .- (Special.) - A postcitizens to inquire concerning the management of the postoffice. He explained that charges had been filed against the postmistress, Mrs. Fay Whitfield, and that he had been sent to make an investigation. Everybody was surprised and wondered as to the cause of the investigation. It was ascertained later that the charges had been made in letters containing the signatures of people who are not now living in Peru, and that no one could be found who would admit that they knew anything at all concerning the charges contained in them. The letters making charges against Mrs. Whitfield had been sent to Congressman Pollard, and by him turned over to the Postoffice department at Washington. Conter county consulted the board of rallway gressman Pollard is said to be greatly displeased with the methods used in this with the efforts to influence him and the department by sending letters alleged to be forged. The people of Peru now insist and 31. on an investigation as to who wrote these letters to Congressman Pollard, and feel assured that the government officials will not rest until the parties who have violated the national statutes have been brought to justice.

A little fruit, A dish of Grape-Nats and Cream. One or two soft eggs. A cup of Postum Food Collee and perhaps a piece of hard Toast. A man says, "I couldn't go on that until noon." One or two days' trial will teach him a big volume of facts and make him feel "fit as a lord." There is a deep underlying and scientific reason. The best argument. however, is the actual experience with such breakfasts.

His father was an honest hard-working man, who farmed in season and in the fall run a threshing outfit, assisted by his sons Sol and Ed, and some by his son John The last named was a "dreamer." He imagined he was an inventor, and wasted away his time and all the means he could worm out of his friends in efforts to construct some sort of an engine, all of which proved dismal failures. He soon there after left for Nebraska, where he dropped out of sight until his matrimonial entanglement brought him into prominence.

GOVERNOR ON STATE BANKS Sheldon Writes Letter to Tukey Defining Position on Guarantee.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 12 - (Special Telegram.)-Governor Sheldon is in receipt of a letter from A. P. Tukey of Omaha, urging that the legislature be called in special session posits. In reply the governor has writter to Mr. Tukey, telling him that legislation on the topic is not required, but that the banks organized under the state laws are amply empowered now to guarantee all deposits. All that is needed is for the banks to unite in contribution to a fund that shall be large enough for the purpose, and keep

In speaking of the matter, Governor Sheldon said he had been giving the matter some attention, and might make some rec ommendations to the next legislature. His correspondence with bankers on the tonic convinces him that many bankers are oppored to the guaranty proposition. Governor Sheldon's recommendation em bodied in his letter to Mr. Tukey is not an announced policy. In his letter he says expressly that it is a mere suggestion for a temperary course that might be pursued until the legislature could meet and take deliberate action.

Governor George L. Sheldon has out lined a plan for guaranteeing the deposits be Mayor Dahlman, Victor Rosewater and of state banks without legislative enactment, the governor proposing that the state banking board take the matter in charge and secure from the bankers, by some my tual agreement a fund to be used for making good the losses of any institution by failure, placing the sum needed to star

Mr. Tukey wrote in the interests of the Omaha Real Estate exchange, the proposed special session having been the outgrowth of exchange discussions.

In his letter to the Omaha real estate dealer the governor says he has contem-plated writing to the bankers himself, but withheld action while waiting for the reports to learn their actual condition, but he intimates that he will start to work out his plan at once. "I don't think it is just the thing," said

Mr. Tukey. "We probably will discuss this at the next meeting of the exchange, but it seems to me the law would be needed to compel the banks to contribute. I do not believe they would volunteer funds for such a purpose, or if they did that there would be the feeling of security about the guarantee that there would if the law was be hind the guarantee."

AND A WOMAN'S WORK

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills. Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N.C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public.

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice re stored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.
