AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Mayor Hector Calls Meeting to Select Delegates to River Convention.

GOOD REPRESENTATION WANTED

ward of Health Issues Stringent Orders for Vaccination of People in Public Places and Quarantine for Smallpox.

In order to awaken interest in the question of Missouri river navigation in the city, Mayor Hector has issued a call for a mass meeting of South Omaha citizens to be held at the council chamber of the new city hall this evening.

The Board of Health met yesterday afternoon to take action in the smallpox situation.

The Board of Health and the city physician, E. L. DeLaney, the board consists of Thomas Hector, E. L. DeLaney, James Parsley, W. J. McCran and R. E. Schindel. James Parsley was chosen secretary of the meeting.

The board passed resolutions requesting all school children, clerks and people engaged in public institutions, such as packing houses, to be vaccinated and fixed penalties for breaches of the quarantine regulations.

JAPAN AND CHINA CLASH

Mikado Will Forcefully Prevent Building of Railroad in Manchuria.

TOKIO, Jan. 17.—The diplomatic relations between Japan and China over the proposed Shinjintun-Aukumen railroad have reached a stage where Japan has assumed a most firm attitude and has assured China that a railroad paralleling the South Manchurian shall not be built, because it violates both the spirit and the letter of the Peking treaty. A British syndicate has been proposed to build the railroad.

The correspondent of the Associated Press has been informed by the authorities at Tokio that under no circumstances will Japan permit construction to commence.

COMPLAINT ON GRAIN RATES

Senator Shibley to File One with Commission in Missouri.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 17.—State Senator C. A. Shibley of Frontier county this evening notified the State Railway commission that he would tomorrow or Monday file formal complaint against the Burlington railroad for raising the rates on grain and other commodities to such an extent that they are greatly in excess of the rates charged in Iowa and Kansas. His petition was completed today ready for filing. The complaint is aimed at all Nebraska roads, but the Burlington alone is specified, for the reason that it is expected the other roads will be joined in the issue. If necessary, it will be amended to include all. Senator Shibley swears to the complaint as a farmer and shipper.

the expense of the county government for the ensuing year, the total being $200,000, or $200 more than the estimate made a year ago. Estimate for election expense has been increased from $60 to $200, because of the primaries.

OXFORD—Alex Lewis, wife and two of his children, residing ten miles northwest of Oxford, are ill with a pronounced form of smallpox. The family is under strict quarantine and it is thought further spread of the disease beyond the immediate household will be prevented. Mr. Lewis is believed to have been infected while in Oklahoma recently.

HEATRICE—Goodrich encampment No. 18, Independent Order Odd Fellows, installed these officers last evening: G. W. Hoover, chief patriarch; J. W. Murphy, senior warden; Byron Lawton, junior warden; W. R. Tripp, high priest; W. J. Pease, treasurer; A. P. Kelley, scribe; W. S. La Salle, inside sentinel; W. H. Penny, outside sentinel.

OXFORD—Two hundred citizens of Emerson township, Harlan county, yesterday participated in a wolf hunt, with no other results than a lone jack rabbit, although a similar roundup in an adjoining township, a few days before, produced fourteen wolf scalps. Another hunt, covering Grove township, will be held next Wednesday, the 23d.

FREMONT—The annual report of Steward Sexton of the county poor farm shows that that institution is not only self-supporting but that after a sale of surplus hogs and stock on hand there remains a profit of over $400. The county board inspected the place yesterday and found everything in good shape. The average number of inmates during the year has been ten.

FREMONT—Miss Dolly Castle, a chorus girl of the "District Leader" company, who gave her residence as Cincinnati, O., and Clyde C. Pratt of Omaha, were married by County Judge Stinson at the county court room yesterday afternoon. A big delegation of the bride's fellow chorus girls was present. The groom was apparently a business man, not a member of the company, and had nothing to say.

OXFORD—An important business change this week was the sale of the Oxford Flouring Mills by J. H. Darner of Corad to W. F. Young of this city. The property was recently overhauled and equipped with modern machinery throughout at large expense, and now ranks among the best mills of western Nebraska. Fred M. Darner, who has represented his father's local manager for some time, will again go on the road.

OXFORD—Next Sunday, January 19, is the date announced for the dedication of the new German Methodist Episcopal church, four miles north of town. Presiding Elder Kleininger of Lincoln will conduct the formal ceremonies, preaching services being held during the day in both English and German with the assistance of visiting clergymen. Rev. J. W. Klein is the regular pastor. The edifice completed will cost $250.

STROMSBURG—Among the stalwart democrats who attended the festivities at Lincoln this week from here was Hon. V. E. Wagner, a German with the assistance of Wilson has been a prominent factor in local politics for many years. He was invited to attend the event as a guest and personal friend of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Green is the father of the famous base ball manager of the same name. He was present at the funeral.

PLATTSMOUTH—The body of Joseph Wort was yesterday interred at the funeral home of the Arlington and taken to the Masonic lodge room. The funeral services were held in the lodge room this afternoon by Rev. J. H. Salisbury, and interment was in Oak Hill cemetery. Deceased was born in England, emigrated to this country in 1850, and has resided in this city for many years, being employed by the Burlington and associated in business with the city. He was a member of the Nebraska Masonic lodge, and was well liked in Lincoln for treatment recently.

TABLE ROCK—Theodore Alderman, a pioneer of southeastern Nebraska, who settled on a farm a few miles north of here, in the edge of Johnson county, many years ago, and lived there until some two years ago, died at the residence of his son, Thomas McClure, near Pawnee City, was suddenly stricken with paralysis Monday while sitting in the office of Attorney George E. Becker, at Pawnee City, which he had just moved to the farm. He was taken home and removed to the Exchange hotel, where he died this morning. He was about 70 years of age and leaves a wife and several children.

STROMSBURG—The regular run of public sales has begun in this county with the usual brisk bidding from the farmers. Prices are about the same as last year. The rate of interest on deferred payments is 4 per cent, as before, and the banks of Stromsburg are buying the notes at par as a rule. The Stromsburg banks have not refused full payment of the notes made upon them at any time during the "boom" hurry. Land and Stromsburg property is just as high as before. One quarter section sold last week for $86 per acre, with very few improvements on it, the land being not far from the city.

OGIOLEA—There was never a greater number of sympathizing friends gathered in an Osceola church than gathered there last night at the funeral of the late Benjamin C. Campbell. All of the seven children of the deceased except two who ordered have promissory notes due in quantities to farmers at such a low price that they could in turn distribute it around to neighbors at a reasonable price, and it would leave them a good sum for their trouble and work in handling it. Under this plan he succeeded in placing a number of orders ranging from $25 to $200, and those who ordered gave promissory notes due in six months. The party disposed of the notes, which in due time fell due and had to be paid, but in the meantime the stock food failed to arrive. Marshall Durdin's errand to Arlington was to try and induce the party to return the money without taking recourse to the law.

BENNINGTON—The Royal Neighbors of America and Modern Woodmen of America camps held a joint installation of officers on Thursday evening, installing the following officers for the year 1908: Royal Neighbors—Oracie, Emma Mangold; vice oracie, reflection on the ability of the members. The councilman declined any intention to slander any one and admitted his remarks a little hasty.

BLAIR HILL—Mike Durdin, city marshal, went down to Arlington Tuesday to interview a Mr. A. L. Glover of that place, who had such success in this territory some time ago selling stock food to farmers. His plan was to sell stock food in large quantities to farmers at such a low price that they could in turn distribute it around to neighbors at a reasonable price, and it would leave them a good sum for their trouble and work in handling it. Under this plan he succeeded in placing a number of orders ranging from $25 to $200, and those who ordered gave promissory notes due in six months.
