GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Prices Fail to Advance on the Bull News.

BEARS ARE STILL CONFIDENT

Wheat Opens Solt and on Strength of Heavy Selling at the Start Values Go on the Decline.

OMAHA, January 24, 1908.

GMAHA, January 24, 1988.

Grain prices fall to advance on the builtness and covering by shorts. Bears are confident and it looks like there was a readjustment of prices in line.

Wheat opened soft and on heavy seiling at the start values went on the decline. Cables came weak and news from Argentina was bearish. The cash market lid show the desired strength and there was a general lack of support from the built faction. May wheat opened at 97%c and closed 18%c. Corn went off with wheat on general selling at the opening. Buying was very light and much scattered and there was only a fair market activity.

May corn opened at 65%c and closed at Oats were easier on the opening, in sympathy with corn and wheat. Selling was general by locate.

Shorts fought to sustain values and belped to hold prices near yesterday's close. May oats opened at 534c and closed at 54c.

Prices on Beard of Trade.

CHICAGO, Jan. M.—Additional reports of damage done by "green bugs" to the crop in the southwest, and the advance in the southwest, and the advance in the southwest, and the advance the corn, imparted strength to the wheat market teddy, the May delivery closing at a gain of the Corn was up to the crop to the provisions of the control of the final hour of trading, and was inspired largely by an advance of almost i cent in form. More reports from the southwest, teiling of the unhealthy appearance of the new crop in Kanasa, however, caused considerable buying. During the greater part of the day the market was weak because a stiftent of the movement in the provisions. The continues fair in the corresponding day of the last three years:

cars, against 36 cars last week and 18 cars one year ago.

The corn market opened week, but prices soon advanced on an active demand from commission houses and shorts, and sentiment continued bullish through the remainder of the day. The chief reason for the firmness was the falling off in receipts despite the excellent weather now prevailing for the movement. The close was strong. May corn opened highle lower at $25,60% or advanced to Glipfic and closed at $15,900 or the corn grade.

Outs made a fair gain late in the day because of the advance in corn. Trade in general was light. May outs opened unchanged at 130 c. sold at 50% c. advanced to $45 c and closed at 50% c. Local receipts were 155 cars.

Provisions were firm all day because of LONDON, Jan 24.—Money was pientiful and easy on the market today and discounts, were outed. Trading on the Stock exchange opened fairly steady, but with further leans coming out and the absence of outside support, traders evidenced a desire to take profit in gilt-edged securities and home rulls, and this resulted in prices in this section closing lower kill around. Foreigners, however, continued steady on good Paris buying. American securities ruled full on reports of poor intrinsigs. Later there was a slight instruction of the market closed weak.

PARIS Jan 34.—Prices on the Bourse today were stronger.

BEPLIN Jan 31.—Trading on the Bourse today was listless and there were few transactions. American securities were depressed.

HOGS-Hogs sold higher this morning, but just how much higher as compared with yesterday is not easy to say, for the reason that the market yesterday was so very unthat the market yesterday was so very uneven. Thus yesterday hogs sold on the opening lightle lower, closing with the decline practically regained; hence anyone comparing today's market with yesterday would of necessity be guided largely by the time of day he sold resterday. The market today was certainly a good be higher than today was certainly a good like higher than yesterday's early market, but not very much better than yesterday's close. White the trade was not particularly active, the ings changing hands and the bulk of the receipts was disposed of in fair season. The sales were largely at $4.0004.0, as against $4.0004.00 yesterday. The top today was $4.55 which was 10c higher than keything brought yesterday.

The later market was not quite so good as the early market was not quite so good as the early market apart of the advance being lost, especially on light hogs, still the average market was 5000c higher than
