Federal Judge Refuses to Interfere in Missouri Sunday Fight.

INJUNCTION ASKED FOR DENIED

Decision Victory for Judge Wallace of Criminal Court—Suits Must Go Through the State Courts.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—Judge Smith McPherson, in the United States district court here, today denied a decision declining to interfere with the county officials of this county in the enforcement of the Missouri statute making unnecessary labor on Sunday a misdemeanor.

The decision was rendered in a case brought in the name of Nancy O'Neil, the actress, and the local theater, who sought permanently to enjoin the county grand jury from indicting them.

The decision is a victory for Judge William H. Wallace of the criminal court, who, in his campaign for Sunday observance, has caused the indictment of 2,000 stage folk and theatrical managers and attaches, as well as hundreds of storekeepers, for violating the Sunday laws.

The complainants last Saturday secured a temporary injunction restraining the grand jury from indicting them.

The complainants alleged that the grand jury now in session was illegally drawn and that Judge Wallace personally selected the jurors in violation of the law.

Judge McPherson in his decision today says: This court expresses no view with reference to the constitutionality of the Sunday statutes of this state.

The Missouri legislature has the power to enact laws which prohibit the sale of any article of merchandise on Sunday.

The Missouri court of Jackson county is right or wrong; United States courts cannot and must not interfere.

The trial took place in October, 1888, and Allen was prosecuted by District Attorney General Dilworth, assisted by John M. Thurston, and defended by former Congressman George William Neville, and Judges G. W. Hines and The Hon. J. H. Hastings.

Allen was commuted to life in prison and was discharged in 1892.

The 40 per cent increase proposed for enlisted men will mean a total of $28,895,583 for both the active and retired list.

After the success in selling the Hastings bank, the gold bricks were made in Denver for this syndicate.

The two unsold bricks were left here in Anders & Williams' capitol saloon and have been hidden on top of an ice chest for the last twenty years.

The last brick caused the death of Pete Lavin, the gambler.

BANK EXAMINERS IN CHARGE

New York "Chain" Banks Unable to Pay for Certificates.

DEPOSITORS CAUGHT UNPREPARED

Other Institutions Not Believed to Be Affected by the Suspension—Run on Oriental Bank.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Bank examiners took active charge today of the affairs of the New Amsterdam National bank and the Mechanics and Traders bank, a state institution, both of which closed their doors yesterday.

Both of these banks were included in the Morse-Heine-Thomas chain of banks, and after the closing of the National Bank of North America a few days ago there had been practically amounted to runs upon them.

Both of them were still unable to take up their allotment of the certificates which the clearing house issued during the stringency beginning in October, and when the renewed drain upon their resources began the clearing house authorities declined to further extend their credit.

Fearing heavier withdrawals tonight, the officials of both banks decided last night to close their doors today.

Although this action was not unexpected among the bankers and well-informed men in the financial world, it found many of the depositors unprepared and caused them much inconvenience.

As a result of the closing of these banks several thousands of dollars in the important class met heavy withdrawals of deposits this morning.

Run on Oriental Bank.

One of these was the Oriental bank, where quite a run of depositors began as soon as the offices were opened today.

All depositors were paid promptly and President Kelly announced that several other institutions had come to the aid of the banks and that he hoped to be able to withstand the drain.

It is not anticipated that the closing of the New Amsterdam and Mechanics and Traders banks will have any effect on the general banking situation in this city, as both of them have been going through a gradual liquidation for the last few months.

State Superintendent of Banks Williams, who came down from Albany last night to take charge of the Mechanics and Traders bank, said today that the general condition of banking institutions in this city is good and that weakness has developed only in special instances.

The Oriental bank withdrew the run successfully. When its doors were closed for the day the line of waiting depositors had disappeared.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Bank Examiner Charles A. Hanna, temporary receiver of the National Bank of North America, was today appointed temporary receiver of the New Amsterdam National bank of New York.

No statement has yet been made as to the condition of the New Amsterdam bank, but the officials in the office of the comptroller of currency in New York have indicated that they are inclined to the belief that all depositors will be paid in full, with a considerable sum remaining.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 30.—That the National Bank of Commerce will reopen before the last of March is the positive statement of a high official of the bank today.

It is understood that J. Wilson Perry of St. Louis has the support of the St. Louis stockholders and that a number of Kansas City stockholders are due to him for president of the reorganized bank.

DOCTORS SUED FOR DAMAGES

Boy Loses Leg and Arm and Charges Result is Due to Carelessness.

CODY, Wyo., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—A petition has been filed in the district court of Big Horn county in a case which promises unusual developments and to attract much local attention because of the prominence of the defendants.

Martha Perko, the plaintiff, an Austrian boy employed upon the Shoshone irrigation project near Cody, asks $25,000 damages for an arm and leg, the loss of which she alleges in his petition was due to gross neglect, carelessness and unskillful treatment while in the government hospital at Cody.

The contracting physicians are James T. Bradbury and Francis M. Lane, a local family practitioner. These physicians are paid for their services by the compulsory deduction of $1 a month from the wages of each man employed in the building of the highest dam in the world upon the Shoshone canyon, eight miles above Cody.

Complaints have been made and bitter of these doctors and the Lane-Bradbury hospital, since its establishment something over eighteen months ago, but no action had been taken in the cases until the loss of the arm and leg by the Austrian boy. The men employed upon the government works have contributed to

PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE

Urgent Deficiency Bill, Carrying Nearly $24,000,000, Passed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The urgent deficiency appropriation bill was passed by the house today. The total amount carried by it is $20,000,000, or $400,000 less than as reported by the committee.

The largest single reduction was that of $200,000 in the clothing fund of the army.

When the session was resumed today only a few pages of the bill remained to be disposed of. Included in these was a provision for the appointment of thirty-four additional policemen for the new house office building.

Chairman Tawney urged the provision, because of the necessity of protecting such costly government property and of guarding the reputation and honor of the members.

Mr. Mann of Illinois opposed the provision and it was stricken out on a point of order after considerable discussion.

The house adjourned at 2:56 o'clock.

WARREN REPORTS ARMY BILL

Voluntarily Statement Filed with Measure to Increase Pay.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Senator Warren reported to the senate today the bill to increase the pay of the army and filed with it a voluminous statement showing the present army pay and the amount of appropriation that will be needed to make the increase. He also filed various tables showing rates of pay in the navy and pay of foreign armies. The bill con-national banks, so that they may be ready to issue immediately upon the receipt of applications and after securities have been approved.

In the bill as reported there is no mention of the reserve of banks located outside of the reserve or central cities. In the original bill it was required that they should hereafter hold at all times at least two-thirds of their reserve in lawful money.

It is specifically provided that all acts and orders of the comptroller of the currency and the treasurer of the United States authorized by the act shall have the approval of the secretary of the treasury.
