CHINKS ON WATER WAGON

Chinamen Will Board Thirst-Killing Buggy New Year's Day.

MELICAN MAN ALSO INVITED

Saturday is First of Chinese New Year and it will be celebrated by Rush for the Water Wagon.

"Happy New Year," likewise happy day for those who have topped off the water wagon or dropped the whip and climbed down after it as the great tank passed on. Promptly at 12:01 Saturday morning the Chinese cart will start from Eleventh and Dodge streets, near the police station, and Omaha Chinamen will welcome all Americans or others who wish to join them in ushering in the year of 1908.

"It'll be a grand chance to hide for Melicans who follow from round wagon," said a Celestial. "Alee may come but them wearing celluloid collars and hide until 14:30."

Many Americans have slipped from the round top wagons which they caught at midnight January 1 and some of those who announced in the newspapers that they were in comfortable seats, just behind the drivers, were the first to slide off the buggies. But the Chinese have a flat top wagon, and if the crowd is large have promised to use a hayrack or holed.

No qualifications will be required, according to Wan Lee Sing, the driver, except that celluloid collars be left at home. Gradually the Americans who ride with the Chinks will be expected to learn to drink water through their teeth, instead of spraying it between their shoe pegs, as the Chinese laundymen are required to do.

Daily Plans for the Day.
Outside of the preparations for launching the water wagon, the Chinese of Omaha have made little or no preparations for celebrating the day. They have been sending greetings to their friends in the old country, but just what is written on the postal cards, is an unalloyed mystery at the postoffice. Wan Lee Sing translates some of the characters to mean "Happy New Year," while after an hour's hard work a postal clerk at the office has pulled a penmanship wreck apart, which was deposited on a newly laundered cuff and addressed to China. The clerk is authority for the statement that the greeting sent on the cuff meant "Happy Year," but no one seems to know what year. Wan Lee Sing thinks it is 1908, but other Chinks make a string of figures which looks like the total sum of money Lawson has expended telling the "shrimps" about the system.

Mail coming to Omaha Chinamen from the cities within the walls will be delivered—if possible—to the right Chinks, but the mail carriers may be compelled to hand some of the cards with fractured addresses to the first Chinaman they meet, and let him do the rest.

Some of the Omaha Chinamen will turn over a new leaf on Saturday, but the police believe most of them will turn over on their bunks and roll another litter of pills.

STRAWBERRIES FROM FLORIDA

Fruits in Tempting Array Adorn the Grocers' Racks at Present Time.

Strawberries, big, red, luscious strawberries, such as have not been seen since last spring are plentiful in Omaha. Just now and banded in among quantities of tender green garden stuff, made the grocers' racks look strangely inconsistent with the snow and cold Friday morning. The berries come from Florida, and sell from 45 to 50 cents a quart box and the box really holds a quart, too. The fruit is unusually fine for this time of year and unusually cheap, too—it is also unusually plentiful. A few pineapples are offered this week. They come from Chicago, where they have been in storage, but are nice and sell for 20 cents each. Oranges continue to be plentiful, and sell from 15 to 40 cents a dozen. The best kind of apples are to be had from 40 to 50 cents a peck, but the dealers complain that they are not selling very fast.

New plants are among the most tempting offerings just now. The stalks are tender and sweet and there are from three to five in a bunch, which sells for 19 cents. Cauliflower is getting much cheaper, selling from 15c to 20 cents a head.

Those who care for sweet potatoes had better make the most of their opportunity for another week will exhaust the local market, the dealers claim, and there will be no more in for a while. They are selling now for 5 cents a pound. Irish potatoes are a little bit higher than they were and the best Colorado potatoes sell for 31 a bushel.

All the new vegetables are cheaper, some of them by half, than they were at this time last season and they have never come through in better shape. Everything is abundant, too, excepting tomatoes, which sell at 25 cents a pound and cucumbers, which bring 15 cents each. There has been an unprecedented sale of mushrooms at 60 cents a box.

Eggs ranged from 15 to 50 cents a dozen Friday morning, the 2-cent eggs being the best candied and the 4-cent eggs guaranteed not over twenty-four hours old. Package creamery butter sells from 25 to 35 cents a pound; roll butter from 25 to 30 cents a pound and tub-butters from from 25 to 30 cents a pound.

THIEVES HAVE BUSY NIGHT

Attempt to Steal Byron Reed Collection at Public Library.

ENTER BUILDING NEXT TO IT

Money and Personal Articles Are Stolen from Half a Dozen Other Places During the Evening.

An attempt was made Thursday night to rob the valuable Byron Reed collection in the city library building. The burglars pried open the doors of Boyles college, the adjoining building. Eighteenth and Harney streets, made their way to the second floor and attempted to place a ladder across from there to the library building, which is only about ten feet away. The ladder was too short and the attempt was abandoned.

The Byron Reed collection is very valuable, including many rare gold and silver coins, the intrinsic value of which is thousands of dollars. Burglars attempted to rob it a few months ago, but were found by the night watchman. Since then iron doors have been placed on the room where the collection is kept. The windows are not barred.

A thief entered the home of F. A. Squires, 1615 Madison avenue, Thursday night, through the kitchen door and stole an overcoat, watch, meerschaum pipe, fountain pen and two gold rings.

The rear window of Swanson Bros. company, 112 Howard street, was broken and thieves took $15 worth of cheap jewelry.

While Minnie Beach of 112 Harney street was gaily dancing in Washington hall a thief took her brown coat and fur collar-stole from the cloak room.

Hill Gipero, a Greek, was robbed of $90 from 614 North Nineteenth street, a pair of pants, a pair of shoes and a bunch of keys disappeared, and a Mexican named Lado is suspected.

LEGAL FIGHT OVER MURRAY

Parents of Nat Brown Sue to Set Aside Quit Claim Deed They Made.

A motion was argued before Judge W. H. Munger in the United States circuit court Friday morning to vacate and set aside a quit claim deed for the Murray hotel property and to restore to the complainants their property rights in the premises.

$100,000. They gave the quit claim deed on that presumption, but have since learned that the property was of great value.

The defense holds that while the property was ostensibly in the name of Nathaniel Brown, it actually belonged to Mrs. Columbia Brown, who had advanced the money to her husband for its purchase, and that the delinquent payments on the property had been made up from the proceeds of the hotel, which was operated and controlled and managed by Mrs. Brown.

Judge Munger has taken the case under advisement.

ENTIRELY UP TO DILLON NOW

Prosecution of Visccher Depends on Disposition of Officer He Shot, Says English.

William Lightfoot Visccher, the Chicago newspaper man, has been charged formally in district court with shooting Policeman Peter H. Dillon, with intent to wound. The information was filed by County Attorney English, Friday morning. After filing the information, County Attorney English said so far as he knew the charge would be prosecuted. This, he said, was up to Mr. Dillon, the prosecuting witness.

Informations were also filed against the following: Charles Ward, breaking and entering; Moses Williams and George Matthews, breaking an entering; James Johnson and Charles Barker, breaking and entering; George Clark, breaking and entering.

CAUSE OF MRS. DUNN'S DEATH

Bright's Disease and Heart Trouble Found by Post-Mortem Examination.

Coroner Davis held a post-mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Julius S. Dunn, the woman found dead Wednesday in the house which she occupied alone at 22 North Twenty-fourth street. The examination showed she had Bright's disease and heart trouble. Death probably was instantaneous from the latter cause.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from Davis' undertaking room, Rev. J. B. Cherry of the Third Presbyterian church officiating. Interment was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

PRIES LAKE SALOON IN BAD

Falls Under Eye of the Sheriff on Charge of Littering Lid and Gambling.

As a result of a complaint made Friday Sheriff Brailey is investigating the Pries lake saloon and may order it to close. The complaint was made by Will H. Thompson, an attorney, who represents clients living near the lake. He says the saloon has been open on Sunday and that gambling is allowed in it.

NO GUNS FOR MOTORMAN
Man Who Shoots at Barking Dog Loses His Job on Street Car.
"We bought out his interest in the company."
That is the way former Superintendent Tucker would have explained the absence of a certain motorman, who has been missing for the last few days from the Harney street line.
The real reason for the absence of the said motorman is that he tried his marksmanship with a revolver on a dog which was barking at one of the Harney street cars about midnight a few nights ago. The company does not encourage the men to carry firearms.
