NEW YORK, Jan. L-Adjudged not guilty of the murder of Stanford White by eason of insanity at the time the fatal anote were fired, Harry Kendali Thaw today was held by the court to be a dangerone hinatic and was whirled sway to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Multeawan. It was a quick transition from the dingy little cell in the Tombs, which had been the young man's home for more than eighteen months, to the white-bedded wards of the big asylum tucked away on the snow-covered sloping bunks of the Hudson river fifty miles above the city. The fendants. verdict came after twenty-five hours of waiting, when everyone connected with the are had abandoned overy hope of an with the accompanying insanity clause, Thaw, protesting he was sane, was on bis later meeting with the operators. way to Matzeawan. The first thrill of the words of acquittal brought Thuw to his feet in the court coom and, with that lack of grace of action which has always characterized his movements, he awkwardly, almost haughtly, nowed his acknowledgments to the twelve jurymen as they were discharged by the nirt. A smile played about his pailed features, and there was every reason to be lieve that he was entirely pleased with the outcome. It was after he had heard the words of Justice Dowling committing him to Mattenwan on the ground that his recase, in the opinion of the court, would ndanger the public safety, and after the clation of the verdict had died away, that Thaw rebelled. He commanded his atlorneys immediately to sue out a writ of habous cornus to have his sanity tested before he was sent away to the up-state institution where the insane of criminal tendmeles were confined.
