Have Root Print It. Coal 55-Cent and Squires, Tel. 12920. Diamond, photographer, 18th & Farnam. Diamant, Edholm, Jeweler, 16 & Harney. Bowman, 117 N. 16. Douglas shoes, 13.50. If interested, see Delmaro Cheney, voice culture.

We Always have Rock Springs coal. Central Coal and Coke Company of Omaha, 1018 and Harney streets. Dr. Stuart to Lecture Here—Next Monday evening Dr. George R. Stuart, the Tennessee humorist and orator, delivers his lecture "Is Fun Divine or Devilish" at the Masonic Park Methodist church, and this lecture closes the Dakota course.

W. C. A. Meets at W. W. C. A. Rooms—A meeting of the Women's Christian Association will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. in the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association. All persons interested in the Old People's Home are invited to attend.

Revival at First Christian—A series of revival meetings will be held at the First Christian church early in February with Dr. J. L. Brant of St. Louis as the principal speaker. The music will be reinforced by the choir of the church under the leadership of F. C. Hill.

Asleep at the Switch—While the night force in the Deaver restaurant, 406 North Sixteenth street, slept Sunday morning, a sneak thief entered the place and stole the cash register, which contained $6 in cash. The register is worth $20 and is marked "Coca Restaurant."

Conductor Straight Slightly Better—The condition of Harry C. Straight, the veteran conductor on the Hanson Park line of the Omaha & Council Bluffs street railway, was somewhat improved Monday night. The attending physicians give some hopes of his ultimate recovery, should no further complications ensue.

Suspect Arrested on Return Home—Marion D. Carver was arrested by detectives early Monday morning when he returned to the room on Dodge street where he had been living. The detectives were on watch for him there. He is believed to be responsible for a number of burglaries committed lately in Omaha.

Sun Dives Away Jack Frost—Sunday was a beautiful day and Omaha people took advantage of it to leave their places of refuge sought when the zero weather set in and drink in the bright sunshine and exhilarating air. The mercury arose from zero to 25 degrees above and it seemed like a real Omaha winter day once more.

Two Fair Sized Burglaries—Unbidden, some coarse men entered Kendis Bros', general merchandise store at 28 North Sixteenth street Sunday night, while the proprietors slept, and stole some revolvers, gloves and hats; likewise did, perchance, the same scamps take razors and knives from the hardware store of Patton & Yates, 40 North Sixteenth.

Valentine Gets a Wind-Fall—The village of Valentine is rejoicing over the fact that a bill has just been passed in the United States senate granting that village about 20 acres of the old Fort Niobrara reservation. The allowance of the grant hinged on the approval of the War department, the reservation being under its control. That approval has just been given.

Omaha Men Not in Harrison Case—Little is known in Omaha concerning the case of the government against the Harrison men which was filed last Saturday at Salt Lake City for the dissolution of the alleged combination, known as the Harrison system. John N. Baldwin, general solicitor of the Union Pacific in the Pacific coast on a vacation. It is probable the case, however, will be handled from the New York office of the Union Pacific. A copy of the complaint has not reached Omaha as yet.

Several Yokes That Gail—Mike Uredovics declares in a petition for divorce filed in district court Monday that his wife, Katie, and their two sons have so mistreated him it is impossible for him to remain at home any longer. He says his wife refused to get his meals and had him arrested on false accusations. He says he has acquired about $2,000 worth of property and he wants the court to order Adam Butkus, who owes him on a lot, and the Tishan Stock Yards National bank from paying any of his money to his wife or children.

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness—you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of

to conquer all female diseases. Mrs. Norman B. Barnard, of Allentown, Pa., writes: "Ever since I was sixteen years of age I had suffered from an organic derangement and female weakness; in consequence I had dreadful headaches and was extremely nervous. My physician said I must go through an operation to get well. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and wrote you for advice, following your directions carefully, and thanks to you I am today a well woman, and I am telling all my friends of my experience."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration, some until the case can be heard. Charles W. Cook says in his divorce petition that Ross J. Cook assaulted him with a chair on Washington's birthday last year. He says she beat him a number of times prior to that so he had to leave home for the sake of peace. Harvey Henry has secured a decree of divorce from Matilda Henry in Judge Radick's court and the custody of their two children.

Ask Judgment Be Vacated—Gurley & Woodrough, attorneys for Perry A. Yeast, recently convicted in the United States district court for land frauds, have filed a motion for vacation of judgment, notwithstanding the verdict returned by the jury against Yeast. The motion asks that the court enter a judgment of acquittal on the ground that the verdict was not in accord with the instructions of the court as to the second count of the indictment, which charged perjury and subornation of perjury in the matter of certain land proofs.

VOILES ARE AS GOOD AS EVER

Will Appear This Season in Some of the Very Finest Gowns. The ever useful voile is to be as popular as ever, and for a general utility between seasons dress few things are so serviceable as a good voile, preferably a silk voile, embroidered in soutache or trimmed in masculine or liberty. A frock of brick red silk voile touched and made with a becoming white gumpie and a little black cravat was one of the prettiest models among a number shown by a fashionable uptown dressmaker, and another frock in the same group was a wood brown silk voile trimmed in fine soutache braiding and bands of self color.

The gumpie and underleaves were of cream hand-run Atencot, and for use later in the spring there was a rather long semi-loose coat of taffeta lavishly braided in soutache, opened up the sides and fastened in front with only one big button at the bust line.

Cooking Dumplings. When making dumplings of any kind see that the kettle you cook them in has a tight-fitting lid or they will not be light. Mix the dumplings like biscuits. Have the chicken stewing and the gravy slightly thickened. Put in the dumplings, cover, and stew gently for thirty minutes without raising the lid; then take the kettle off the stove and set it where it will stop boiling. Do not raise the lid for two or three minutes, when the dumplings will be ready to serve.

PHANTOM BALL ROLLS SOME

Catches Several Victims, but Lands Its Promoters in the Police Court with Fines. "The Phantom Ball" would be a suitable and euphonious title for this story. Chris Thompson, Charles Johnson, and Louis Johnson took the principal parts in the play and were fined $5 and costs Monday by Police Judge Crawford for doing so.

The three gentlemen in a moment of inspiration had conceived the brilliant idea of holding a phantom ball. A ball of this kind has advantages involving no expense whatever. One can hold a phantom ball without hiring a hall, without engaging an orchestra, without going to any expense except that of printing tickets. The elimination of this feature of expense was indeed a strong point in recommending the scheme to Messrs. Johnson, Thompson, and Johnson for truly they need the money. The tickets being printed and in the hands of the three principal characters, the others now enter. On the complaint the names of these characters were plain John Doe and Richard Roe, but in police court they were represented by a great number of honest people who had bought the tickets to the phantom ball. They had bought the tickets, they claimed, ignorant of the fact that it was to be a phantom ball and believing that it was to be a real one with all the joys of brilliantly lighted ball, tuneful orchestra and happy people.

GLAD HOWARD IS GOING UP

Omaha Friends Gratified Over Probability He May Become Lieutenant General. The Department of the Missouri officials express genuine pleasure over the probability that the veteran Major General O. Howard stands a good chance of being advanced to the grade of lieutenant general and retired with that rank. General Howard was for a number of years commander of the Department of the Missouri. He is one of the few surviving corps commanders of the civil war. He has been but recently bereaved in the death of his brother, Brigadier General Charles H. Howard, United States volunteer, who died January 27 at his home in Glencoe, N. Y.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

GIRLS' HOME GIFT INVALID

Clause in Creighton Will Too Indefinite, Says Leslie. Because of vagueness and indefiniteness in its terms the clause in Count John A. Creighton's will bequeathing $50,000 to found a Working Girls' home was declared invalid by County Judge Leslie in a lengthy opinion handed down Monday morning.

LAST BAR TO FINAL SETTLEMENT

If Higher Courts Uphold County Judge Fifty Thousand Will Be Divided Among Heirs and Legatees. It is not known whether an appeal will be taken to the supreme court or not. Two of the executors are ill and the question of appeal will not be settled until they can be consulted. It is stated, however, the mooted question which has prevented the closing up of the estate. The final hearing will come up before Judge Leslie Tuesday morning and it is probable a decree of distribution will be entered then. If this is done sufficient funds to cover the Working Girls' home will be reserved for sale of the supreme court should decide the legacy valid.

The clause in the will in which the disputed legacy is made, reads: "I hereby give, devise and bequeath to the executors of this, my last will and testament, $50,000 in trust to purchase a site and build thereon a home for working girls, extending not more than one-half of said sum for the purchase of said site and erecting a building thereon and investing the balance in interest-bearing and approved securities, the interest derived therefrom to be applied to the support of the charity."

Vital Part of Case. Discussing the vital part of the case, Judge Leslie said: "The question now is whether or not the bequest to the executors in trust for a working girls' home comes within the rule laid down in the St. James case. The clause in the will which selected the individuals from the class who are to be the recipients of his generosity? If not, has he delegated the power to do this to the trustees? The bequest is in trust of the executors to purchase a site and build thereon a home for poor working girls. This class is a most numerous one; Mr. Creighton, of course, did not intend that it should be a home for all the working girls in the whole world, regardless of age, creed, color, nationality, place of residence, habits or condition of life, for it would not be possible to provide for every one. He did not intend this, then what did he intend? What kind of working girls and under what circumstances or conditions are they to be permitted to enjoy the protection of this home?"

Judge Leslie said Count Creighton should either have designated the individuals from the class named as beneficiaries or have conferred the power upon his executors to do so. He failed to do this, hence the court holds the bequest is invalid.

COMMERCIAL CLUB AT NIGHT

Rooms Open Until 10:30 Hereafter—Cafe for Women is New Feature. Beginning Tuesday evening, the rooms of the Commercial club of Omaha will be open every evening until 10:30 o'clock and the elevator will run until 9 o'clock.

The cafe for women was opened at noon Monday and it is one of the most cozy and artistic little dining rooms in Omaha, the tables being decorated with real reds, under silk shades, the draperies of green silk plush and carpets to match. It promises to be a popular feature of the club.

New carpets have been laid in the office and lobby and the new and cleaned hangings placed in the reading rooms. When the house committee finished improvements an expenditure of over $2,000 will have been made and the rooms of the Commercial club placed on a par with anything of the kind in the west.

M'VEA TO SEEK CONVENTION

Omaha Plumbing Inspector, Backed by Mayor, Will Try to Bring Tradesmen to This City. Armed with a strong invitation from Mayor Dahman, Harry W. McVea, city plumbing inspector, will leave Friday evening for Chicago, where he will attend the annual national convention of inspectors of plumbing and sanitary engineers and make a strong effort to get the convention for Omaha next year. Mr. McVea has written inspectors in a number of western cities and has received assurances of help and confidence that he will be able to land next year's meeting in Omaha.

BOY PLUNGES INTO COURT

Youthful Broker in Blooded Bulldogs Winds Up Before Juvenile Judge. Claude Doherty, a 13-year-old boy living at 803 South Twenty-eighth street, furnished for a day or two as a broker in blooded bulldogs, but the probation authorities got busy and his business is now in the hands of a receiver.

BE WANT ADS—THEY BRING RESULTS

Building Permits. O. Mosher, Central Boulevard and California, frame dwelling, $2,500.

At the Theaters

"Coming Through the Rye" at the Boyd. Frank Lator and company in "Coming Through the Rye," a song-play in two acts by George Y. Hobart, music by A. Baldwin Slooner, under direction of the Boyd company. The principals: Nott, the jolly, Frank Lator (the original creation); Lord Batterbee, the Englishman; Eileen Vanduzee Brown, the artist; Sidney Telle; William Cactus Claude, the cowboy; Harry Macon Spayce, the press agent; Augustus Pietro, matrimonial agent; Amos Lawrence; Eekie; Charles Wallace Broncho Boy; Elmslor; Miss Saline Steinhilber; Miss Evelyn Dunmore; Miss Julia Hunt; Miss Edith Lowe; Miss Georgia Harvey; Miss Margaret Taylor.

"Coming Through the Rye" is still a merry mixture of good and indifferent things. But the good things are in the majority and come along so often that most of the others are forgotten in the enjoyment of the bright spots. It has been shown here last season and it is improved greatly. The changes in the cast have been for the better, and the singing corps has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Miss Evelyn Dunmore, a young actress of a splendid voice. The music set for her to sing is so good that she wins her audience quickly by the strength and beauty of her voice and the surprising range and clearness. Miss Lowe is also new to the cast, and she won favor last night. In Mr. Tilden Mr. Lator has an amusing comedian whose ability long ago won for him many friends in Omaha. He is quiet, eccentric, but sure in his comedy efforts and easily holds his place by the excellence of his work. Mr. Toler and Mr. McCarthy do their share of the entertaining very well.

On Frank Lator falls the bulk of the low comedy work, and he meets it with a face that as solemn as a graven image, but capable of more ludicrous expressions than can easily be catalogued. Something peculiarly grotesque sticks out of Lator from the time he appears until he disappears, and even long after he has gone for good. He is a burlesque, but makes the fun just the same, and his plea to Brown to pay for the pants and let him go is irresistible to all but Brown.

Miss Steinhilber is a delight in more than one way, but mostly for her premeditated and artistic singing. Miss Margaret Taylor sings well and dances gracefully. The chorus is a study. It covers the entire range in age, height, complexion and costume. Blondes and brunettes, and all that come between, tall and short and middling, plump and lean, are there; some can sing and some can dance, and do not. The costumes range from the latest of tailored fashions to those that offer excellent opportunities to students of anatomy. But they are numerous and hardworking, and are busy all the time. And they are in closing.

"Coming Through the Rye," was well welcomed to the Boyd last night by an assemblage that filled the house, and from first to last the best of humor prevailed. The audience was in a good humor, and applauded the performance to the extent that we were required for everything, and laughter and general evidences of approval were continuous. The company stays till after Wednesday night, with a matinee Wednesday.

Vandeville at the Orpheum

Six years ago Tom Nawn put on his mythical one-act comedy at the Orpheum. This week he repeats the program at the same house in the same act. In the meantime, however, he has visited Europe and Australia, and his play has been sold a hit. The comedy is called "Pat and the Gent," with Mr. Nawn as "Pat," the gardener, who meddles with his master's Egyptian curios and accidentally frees a beautiful girl from an antique vase. For a few brief minutes he is a stiver, everything he wants and the resulting situation affords some very clever comedy. The life of the piece is in Mr. Nawn's character work, which is very real. In drawing his Irish character he is conservative, but funny. He does not for a minute descend to caricature, and his play is a study in the strong points. Mrs. Nawn as the housekeeper and Miss Charlotte Appelle, who makes a very beautiful girl, complete the speaking characters of the cast.

The rest of the bill is high class throughout. The Four Lesters, comedy acrobats, do some clever wheel balancing and are full of fun. Oterita does a half a dozen too and Spanish dances with a grace and agility that earn her several encores. Misses Catherine, Florence and Juliette Weston present a dainty musical number and were greeted with a storm of applause. The act is good and their own freshness and naturalness helped win them high places in the hearts of the audience.

Edward Clark and his "six winning widows" are versatile and cram all sorts of entertainment in their miniature musical comedy. In their singing and dance and comedy, they are full of fun and freshness. The act is good and their own freshness and naturalness helped win them high places in the hearts of the audience.

MAN WITH MONEY TO BURN

Awaits Million Dollars by Wire and City Tansker Twelve Thousand for Opening Door. Charles Krans was found by the police Saturday at the Western Union telegraph office waiting to have $1,000,000 wired to him. He is a man of middle age and respectable appearance. He told the officers his brother had written that he would telegraph the money to him and he was just waiting for it.

At the station the man spent most of the time trying to pick the lock of the cell with a nail. When word was received from the man's relatives to send him to St. Bernard's hospital in Council Bluffs, Turnkey John Burns unlocked the door at which the man had been patiently picking. When he came out he was taken to the office of the good offices of Mr. Burns he immediately presented him with $12,000. Captain Mostyn protested that this sum was too large for the services performed. But Krans said he had plenty more money where the $12,000 came from and refused to reduce his gift to Mr. Burns by a single dollar.

NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY

Current Topics Department of Woman's Club Gives Informal Tea. Temple Israel Sisterhood Has Party of Fourteen Tables—Miss Switzer Entertains Luncheon for Miss Gurley.

CARD PARTIES ARE POPULAR

The informal tea that followed the open day meeting of the Woman's club Monday afternoon was the conspicuous social affair of the day and one of the most enjoyable club affairs of the winter. Being a club affair it was necessarily restricted to the membership and the special guests of members. Captain and Mrs. J. F. Merry of Randolph, Ia., were the honor guests. Captain Merry having been the speaker before the club on the afternoon program. The tea was given by the members of the current topics department and the receiving and assisting committee included Mrs. C. W. Hayes, Mrs. L. J. Healy, Mrs. E. Oberle, Mrs. H. S. Rhoades, Mrs. A. G. Maters, Mrs. W. H. Wilbur, Mrs. T. R. Ward, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Edward Johnson, Mrs. J. R. Glover, Mrs. J. N. Adams, Mrs. McLafferty, Mrs. C. H. Townsend, Mrs. A. B. Somers, Mrs. Ben S. Baker, Mrs. J. Reader entertained the Original Swastika club Friday afternoon, when the prizes were won by Mrs. J. E. Shaffer and Mrs. C. Martin. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. J. E. Shaffer.

Come and Go Gossip.

Mrs. E. V. Lewis and Miss Florence Lewis are spending two weeks in Springfield, Ill. Mrs. Kimball, Miss Belle Kimball and Miss Susan Holdrege are in Chicago with Mrs. George Holdrege, who has been ill, but is much improved. They expect to return to Omaha shortly. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCord are in New York City. K. K. Padlock are both new men in politics. Charles Mann has no opposition. H. C. Murphy and A. H. Murdoch are old wheel horses. In a three-sided fight last year Murphy won the nomination. It now has narrowed to a point blank contest between the two men. The republican candidates for tax commissioner are J. A. Hall and Jay N. Williams. Hall was the nominee last election.

Magic City Gossip.

H. T. Brass for city treasurer. The city council meets tonight in regular session. For Rent—10-room house, steam heat, 355 North 24th street. Let's Get Top Beer delivered to all parts of the city. Telephone No. 8. Superior lodge No. 211, Degree of Honor, will give a valentine party at the Workmen Temple, February 12. James Austin, Twenty-fifth and J., is confined to his home by a severe illness. Miss Jane H. Abbott, librarian of the South Omaha public library, has recovered from her recent illness. The Good Government league will meet Wednesday evening at the Workmen Temple. Important business will come before the body. An Albright Democratic club has been organized. J. P. Kraus has been elected president. The meetings will be each Tuesday and Saturday evenings. Superintendent N. M. Graham has announced that he has secured the services of Governor Henry C. Pritchard as a lecturer before the East Central Nebraska Teachers' association. O. A. Tucker was taken up by the police yesterday in an irrefragable condition, suffering from temporary aberration of the mind. He was taken in charge by his friends and removed to the St. Bernard hospital in Council Bluffs.

Take one Cascaret just as soon as you know that you need it.

Then you won't need a purgative. It is an easy and pleasant way to keep well. This is the day of the gentle in medicine. The cathartic pill is old-fashioned. Salts and castor oil belong to grandmother's time. The modern doctor deals mildly. Cascarets are effective, yet gentle. They don't irritate or gripe. They don't, like cathartics, waste the digestive fluids.

Cascarets do only what some foods will do, what some fruits will do, what exercise does for the bowels. Their action is natural, not artificial. If you live out-of-doors, exercise a great deal, and avoid rich foods, you don't need them. Otherwise you do.

The most helpful laxative ever devised is Cascarets. Then, they are candy tablets, pleasant to take. Then, they are convenient. The ten-cent box fits the vest pocket or the lady's purse. That is a vital point. The time to take a laxative is the minute you suspect that you need it. Don't wait till you get home; don't wait till night. One Cascaret, taken promptly, wards off trouble.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with C.C.C. on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and 10 Cents per Box.
