RAP GIVEN THE PRESIDENT

Treasury Department Refuses to Approve Rossiter's Bond.

HOLDS HIS AUTHORITY EXCEEDED

Reference Made to Statutes and Captain Brian Assumes Charge, Rossiter Being Executive Representative.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—William S. Rossiter, who was appointed on Wednesday by President Roosevelt as acting public printer in place of Public Printer Stillings, who is under suspension pending an investigation of the affairs of his office, went to the Treasury department today to have his bond approved. The department refused to consider the matter on the ground the president had exceeded his authority in appointing Mr. Rossiter; that under the law the assistant public printer, Captain H. T. Brian, succeeds to the vacancy.

Under this informal ruling Mr. Rossiter later in the day stepped aside and his place was taken by Captain Brian, who will administer the government printing office as acting public printer for the time being. Mr. Rossiter, however, does not relinquish the work of inquiry laid out for him by the president. His position in the government printing office becomes that of the president's personal representative and he is proceeding with the investigation.

The authority under which the Treasury department decided not to accept Mr. Rossiter's bond was the act of January 12, 1896, which provided that in case of death, resignation, absence or illness of the public printer, the chief clerk of the government printing office should perform the duties of public printer until a successor was appointed or such absence or illness shall cease. It also provides that the president may in his discretion authorize and direct any other officer of the government who appointment is vested in the president, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to temporarily perform the duties of vacant office.

It is also provided that such vacancy by death or resignation must be filled within ten days. By the legislative act of 1907, the title of the chief clerk of the government printing office was changed to that of deputy to the public printer. Under the ruling of the treasury officials, Mr. Rossiter can have no other standing than that of personal representative of the president without specific authority in any matters pertaining to the management of the office.

HEIR GOES AFTER HERITAGE

Genile Cave-Browne-Cave Sails for England, but Will Return to States.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Genile Cave-Browne-Cave sailed for England yesterday to secure the title and estates awaiting him there. He is the only surviving son of Sir Myles Cave-Browne-Cave, who died a year ago at the age of 84 years. Ever since the elder Browne's death his executors have been searching for his son and heir, who was only recently found in America.

The baronetcy is a very old one, dating from 1641, when it was created by Charles I. Sir Genile's life has been a romantic one. When a boy his father sent him to sea to cure him of his wildness and on his return home he enlisted in a Highland regiment and was then transferred to a cavalry regiment just leaving for the war in Egypt. He fought in the battle of Tel-el-Kebir under Lord Wolseley and later went to Afghanistan, where he was captured by the hill tribes, but escaped after being held a prisoner for some time. Returning to England, he quarreled with his father and came to America with a small allowance. He then went to Burma with an expedition sent out to kill big game for a museum and afterward served in the South African war. He lived for a time in Hong Kong and Yokohama, worked as a member of the "white wings" in Kansas City, was a cowboy in the southwest and in Wyoming, where he was found through inquiries set on foot by the British ambassador at Washington. He says that he will return to America as soon as his business in England is settled and will take up his residence in one of the western states.

TEN MEN ARE DEAD IN MINE

Explosion in Port Hood Working in Nova Scotia Causes Loss of Life.

PORT HOOD, N. S., Feb. 7.—Ten coal miners employed in the pit of the Port Hood mine were killed by an explosion today. All of the bodies have been recovered. There is ground for the belief that a charge of powder may have become ignited, causing the explosion. The mine had previously been suspected and the lower level as well as other parts of the mine had been found free from gas or fire damp.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Little Change Appears in the Commercial Situation.

DRIFT IS TOWARD IMPROVEMENT

Iron and Steel Industry in Better Position Than One Week Ago—Cotton Goods Market is Dull.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Little change appears in the commercial situation, but progress is in the right direction insofar as any difference can be discerned.

On the whole, the iron and steel industry is in a better position than a week ago, although new contracts are placed with much caution, and each order in the object of extensive negotiations. Business that appeared several weeks ago is still pending, and buyers have been able to secure small quantities of pig iron at further reductions.

Aside from a moderate demand for prompt shipments of novelties or special constructions, the primary market for cotton goods is dull, staple lines being almost wholly neglected. Purchases continue to await lower quotations. Variations in the raw material have no effect, and the export demand has not improved. All cotton goods are in a state of stagnation, and buyers have been unable to secure any definite impression regarding the trend of the market. A fair number of certain lines of wool goods have encouraged a more active work at some mills and fancy worsteds have a better demand than in the past.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Business Situation as a Whole is Rather Quiet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

While retail trade in some lines of wearing apparel has been stimulated by the cold or stormy weather of the winter, other branches of trade and industry and transportation have been interfered with sufficiently to make the week as a whole a quiet one for the country over. Wholesale and jobbing trade has been rather quiet, and while there are signs that improvement along conservative lines is making progress, the outlook as regards spring buying is as marked as ever and the country prospects, even where the weather is active buying is noted, is in the direction of small and frequent rather than large purchases. Commodity prices as a whole are irregular, grain quotations rallying from the depression of last month, but other lines show little strength and this week some metals, provisions and cotton are lower, with most other lines displaying a weak tone. Cotton goods are no lower, but raw wool sales are largely at actual needs, and some varieties are from two to four cents lower than at the best prices of last year.

From the southwest come reports that some cancelled orders are being reinstated. From the south come advices of slow trade and collections, but some lumber mills are reported resuming with stocks reduced by the recent shutdown. Eastern trade reports are quiet, except where helped by special weather-born demand.

Buying of pig iron is of the small lot

GLASS RELEASED ON BOND

Supreme Court at San Francisco Decides His Health is in Danger.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The supreme court sitting en banc today granted Louis Glass, manager of the Pacific Telegraph and Telephone company, release on $20,000 bonds. Assistant District Attorney John O'Gara consented, saying the representatives of examining physicians convinced the district attorney that further confinement would permanently injure the health of the defendant.

NO FREE PASS LEGISLATION

Senate Committee Opposes Reopening This Subject.

UNFAVORABLE ACTION ON BILLS

Newspaper Contracts for Transportation, as Well as Passes for Transfer Employees, Go by Boards.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The senate committee on interstate commerce today decided to go squarely on record against most of the bills now before the committee that propose enlargements of the pass privilege clause of the new interstate commerce law. Two of the bills were debated and it was agreed to report them to the senate unfavorably on Monday.

NEW STRENGTH FOR OLD BACKS.

When past middle age, there comes a noticeable weakening of the organs of the body, and the danger of quick decline. It is quite necessary to give prompt help to any part that first shows signs of wear.

Healthy kidneys mean a hale old age. Weak kidneys bring a constant backache, lame back, stiffness and twinges of pain, annoying urinary troubles, and the danger of diabetes or Bright's disease. There is likely to be a loss of albumen and a gain of uric acid and other poisons, with loss of flesh, vigor and nervous force.

Doan's Kidney Pills bring quick help to sick kidneys, and are entirely free from poisonous drugs; it is a remedy that can be taken by young or old, weak or strong, and in every case with prompt benefit.

If you have backache, lame or weak back, quick pains when stooping or lifting; if you are tired and nervous, have headache, dizzy spells, watery swellings under the eyes or around the ankles, rheumatic or neuralgic

Trust Relation Continues.

—W. G. Porter of this city, assistant United States attorney for South Dakota, has been advised that the state supreme court has rendered a decision of considerable importance in the case of J. L. Mindor, an sheriff of Roberts county, against the First National bank of Sieston, and the United States appearing by suggestion. The case involved the status of money derived from the sale of inherited Indian lands. Pending the settlement of the action a sum estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000 has been tied up in various counties in South Dakota, about $20,000 of this amount being in a single county, Roberts. The decision was rendered on the ground that when land included within an Indian allotment is sold the trust relation between the Indian and the government ceases. The supreme court reverses the lower court.

Trust Relation Continues.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The senate committee on interstate commerce today decided to go squarely on record against most of the bills now before the committee that propose enlargements of the pass privilege clause of the new interstate commerce law. Two of the bills were debated and it was agreed to report them to the senate unfavorably on Monday.

Senator Stone's bill providing for the issuance of transportation to publishers of newspapers in return for advertising went quickly by the board, and the committee, foreseeing no end of debate on the proposition if it ever came up in the senate again, ordered that their attitude should be published through an unfavorable report.

Senator Cullom endeavored to have the committee look with favor on his bill allowing large transfer companies to exchange with the railroad companies in order to gain free transportation for their employes soliciting business on trains. This bill was also ordered reported unfavorably.

The committee decided to make a favorable recommendation of Senator Clapp's bill authorizing railroad companies to grant free transportation to furlogged and pensioned employes.

S. H. Cowan and Murdo McKenzie, representing stock growers' associations, appeared before the committee in support of Senator Culbertson's bills regulating the supply of cars and empowering the Interstate Commerce commission to make rules in respect to carrying freight.
