The wheat market was weak all day, with the exception of a short period immediately after the opening, when prices railied moderately on covering by shorts. There was a general selling througout the session, and the market received but little support, except from shorts. A 1d decline at Liverpool was a weakening influence at the opening, and later file estimate that the shipments from Argentina for the week were 6,800,000, which formed a new record for exports from that country, also weakened prices greatly. Receipts in the southwest again showed a falling off, and clearances were liberal, but the foreign news overshadowed everything. The market closed weak. May opened $50 to $60 to were at 24% to 94%, sold up to 55% and then declined to $5%, sold up to 55% and then declined to $5%, sold up to 55% and then declined to $5%. The close was at $5% c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 1,257,000 bushels. Frimary receipts were 20,000 bushels, against 47,000 bushels on the same day last year. Minneapolls, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of $67 cars, against 255 cars last week and 300 cars one year ago.

The corn market withstood the break in cars one year ago.

The corn market withstood the break in The corn market withstood the break in wheat until late in the day, when prices declined about ic on realizing. Sentiment early in the day was bullish because of firm cables and unsettled weather in the corn belt. The market closed weak. May opened is to it is in the corn belt of the market closed weak. NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Early Market Active and Higher on Buying by Shorts.

DEMAND SOON

Relaxation Follows and Prices Slump Nearly as Rapidly as They Rose-Bond Market is Irregular.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The early stock market today presented graphic evidence that an important proportion of the conspicuous selling which carried prices downwards on Monday, and sgain in the closing dealings on Tuesday, must have been rather reckless operation on the short side of the market. When those sellers felt impelled to cover their contracts today they found a scarcity of stocks offering, and a rather mercurial upshoot of prices resulted. Almost equally striking was the relaxed tone of the market when the needs of the uncovered bears had been satisfied. The inference pointed to is that while the genuine demand for stocks for the present is light, the supply offering in liquidation is also scanty. At occasional intervals there are sales in the market of special clearings up of leans in connection with adjustment of banking affairs holding over from the troubled period of last fall. With this exception, there does not appear any important selling, such as would suggest a general inclination among owners to reduce their holdings of stocks. Very positive assertions on Monday that the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific dividends would be reduced accompanied the free selling of those stocks. The declaration of dividends on these stocks today, at unchanged rates, accordingly caught an important short interest uncovered, and they were foremost in the advancing tendency. The coalers also were conspicuous. Not a great deal of activity characterized the rise and the subsequent sag was preceded by a period of hesitation and duliness. Unsettling factors were the pressure on American Smelting and violent breaks in several of the Gould stocks with no apparent support. Speculative operations in American Smelting are large at all times and their motives difficult to trace, but importance was attached to reports today of the retiring of a conspicuous engineer from the service of the controlling interests in this company. The weakness of the Gould stocks caused the revival of former reports of projects for new financing by

Hogs 27,175 300,065 127,110

Sheep 154,833 200,348 ... 25,525 The following table shows the average price of hogs at South Omaha for the last several days, with comparisons: Date. | 1908 .|1907.|1906.|1906.|1904.|1903.|1902.

The official number of cars of stock brought in today by each road was: **SHEEP—There were only a few sheep and lambs on sale this morning and the market showed no material change in any direction from that of yesterday, and for that matter for the entire week. The trade on mutten grades of sheep has ruled steady for the last several days. For lambs a slight decline was noted early in the week, but since that time there has been little or no change, so that outside of a possible decline of about 10c on heavy lambs on Monday prices are quotably steady all around. right from the start, with prices steady to a shade stronger than yesterday for practically all grades. There was nothing very choice or fancy here, while on the other hand the proportion of thin canning stuff was small, so that the average of prices looks better than last week, and in fact the advance has been about 10glise all around. The supply of stockers and feeders was very small and prices showed no material change as compared with yesterday. Anything at all desirable sold 15g25c higher than at the close of last week and for decent stock the demand has been in excess of the supply throughout.
