The fathers have deposited money to pay their way home and they will be sent in charge of the train officers.

He Gets His Discharge.—A young man giving his name as F. J. Walker, who was arrested Thursday on a charge of insulting women on Sixteenth street, declared the officer who arrested him and the citizen who appeared as complaining witness had made a mistake in identity. The citizen said positively that Walker and another man were enjoying themselves by stopping directly in front of women and girls who were passing along the street and leering into their faces and making insulting remarks. Walker was discharged.

than legislation, Harry E. Burnam, city attorney, believes the best way to cope with the bill board evil is to tax either the boards or the land upon which they are erected. Vacant land is not taxed anywhere near as high as lots on which buildings are erected, he says. Mr. Burnam holds that if a bill board is erected on a lot, that lot is occupied and should be taxed accordingly. This method of procedure has been adopted by a number of eastern cities, the city attorney says.

In the Divorce Court.—Mattie E. Bell has filed a petition for divorce from Robert Bell, in which she asserts that he was fraud in the procuring of their marriage license in 1901. She says she discovered the alleged fraud just before the ceremony, but went on with the marriage service regardless of it. She says she spends all her money for intoxicating liquor and does not support her. Mary Etta Miles wants a divorce from Harvey M.
