Attorney Edson Rich of Omaha, reprebenting the Union Pacific, sent a letter to the railroad commissioners today in which he made further explanations of the pass situation. In this he says the transportation given surgeons in Nebraska by the Union Pacific is in accordance with continuing contracts entered with them in 1906 and under which the passes are renewed each year. The contracts were made before the enactment of the anti-pass law, hence the claim the transportation is unaffected. Each contract is perpetual, depending on the pleasure of the road for ermination for cause. The road, therefore, claims the right to issue its surgeons their pasteboards.

Compensation for Services. The road, Mr Rich says, compensates its surgeons in addition to furnishing free transportation and the pass is a portion of the payment under this contract.

Mr. Rich names three physicians who have returned their passes, being Peter C. Kelley of Alda, Frontz J. Swoboda of Barnard and C. J. Smith of Big Spring. Mr. Rich says further that in the first

LYDIA E. VEGETABLE COMPOUND

No other medicine for Woman's Us in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified lorsement as has Lydia E. Pinktam's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, Inflammation, Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circum-stances it acts in harmony with the female system. It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues." These are indications of Feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement

He says he has his doubts about the feasibility of being able to establish a regular line of steamers on the river which would pay unless the government can be induced to improve the look after the river as they do those in Germany. He states there is plenty of water for the navigation of boats of heavy tonnage, but the trouble is with the shifting bars of sand, which will have to be controlled, and the government can do this by a series of walls and dikes the same as used in foreign countries, thus confining the current and it will take care of the shifting sand.

HEAVEN PLACE OF ACTIVITY

Loveland. WORK AFTER GETTING THERE

Life, and Heaven is Scene of Perpetual Energy.

Eurprising his hearers with the statemen that beaven is not a place of everlasting restful peace, and that those who reach the promised land will not forever rest on islands in pursuit of a couple which was Abraham's bosom, Rev. Frank L. Loveland at the First Methodist church Sunday morn ing declared that heaven will give the faith ful a chance of expansion of capacity and extension of activities. In support of his theory, he quoted Christ's parable of the talents; "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over s few things; I will make thee ruler over many things enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." "The theologians teach us that when we reach heaven comes rest and peace, and all human effort, all intellectual effort, all son immediately Mrs. Olson disclaimed Loveland. "This idea is fostered by the scriptural effort cease," said Rev. Mr. thought that heaven is a goal to be won and that when we have reached that goal it is all done. But that does not seem to be the conception of Jesus Christ. With Him heaven was never a goal to be won, never an attainment. With Jesus of Nazareth, heaven was simply not a goal and the completion of a program, but was the beginning of the everlasting life and the com mencement of a program.

Activity, Not Idleness. "The parable of the talents proves that heaven is not a place of idleness, but a place of activity. Heaven is by no means a place of psalm singing, waving of palms and lolling on the banks of the river of life with nothing to do forever, but, to my conception, heaven is the soldier who has fought well in the ranks and steps out into command of a regiment; it is a scholar who a month pension, and inasmuch as the prosecutions of them, if they continue has learned well his lesson and heard his Master say he may matriculate in the sky; it is the artisan who has done well and heard the call, 'Come up higher, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

"What is the 'joy of thy Lord?' Is it simply waving palms and walking over golden streets? Never. Get rid of that structures of its kind in the state and will thought that through all milieneums to come we have got to be lazy. I know that if I am faithful with the talent I have here I will have some kind of rulership over there. For Jesus hitches this world right onto the next. What's right here will be right over there; what's duty here will be duty over there; what's service here will be service over there; what's wrong here will be wrong over there, and if idleness is wrong here it will be doubly condemned over there.

"Finality rests in graveyards, not in life. Heaven is a scene of perpetual activity. Jesus gives us the idea that it will be of expanding duties: "Thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make you master over many things."

EDUCATION A FIRST ESSENTIAL

Universal Learning Necessary to Good Citizenship, Says Dr. Conley. "Be ye good citizens in the kingdom of God, for if a man is a good citizen in that kingdom he will be a good citizen everywhere," said Rev. J. W. Conley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Sunday morning, in a sermon on "Good Citizenship in the Kingdom.'

"Intelligence is one of the first essential elements of good citizenship in a nation or any kingdom. Charlemagne long ago insisted that all who helped in government should be educated. As all in this country assist in government, we should insist on universal education.

"A good citizen should read and under stand the constitution of the United States, and while not necessarily a lawyer, he should understand the fundamental laws of the country. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Best For Children

HUGH CAMPBELL, JR.

Hugh Campbell, Jr., has had croup time and again, but his parents feared serious results when they had Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house It always relieved him promptly. When he had tonsilitis we found that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was the best medicine we could give him, and I had a chest full of different medicines. Chamberlain's was the one of my choice because it always cured and because it was pleasant and safe to take. Mrs. Hugh Campbell, this boy's mother says, "I wish every mother of young children that have eroup was as familiar with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as I am. The first cause of my pinning my faith to this wonderful rough medicine was on account of being informed that it contained no opium or other narcotic, and that it was as safe to give a child as to an adult."
