Tramp Gets a Bath.

William Johnson, at least that was the name he gave when brought before Judge Snyder in police court yesterday on a charge of vagrancy, was given a bath, the first he evidently had been subjected to in many months, or perhaps years, by the officers at the city jail. He was made to shave himself and then was provided with some clothing which, while not fresh from the tailor, was at least free from vermin and dirt. He was then permitted to proceed on his way on his promise to shake the dust of Council Bluffs from his heels as quick as he possibly could.

Johnson was found by the police inhabiting a cave on Madison avenue which had been dug by boys of that neighborhood. The boys had supplied him with food and he in return spun them yarns of many an alleged adventure which he claimed had befallen him in his life as a tramp. The boys' parents, however, objected to Johnson taking up his abode in their neighborhood and asked the police to remove him.

In court Johnson said he was born in British Columbia and that he had been "on the road" for the last ten years.

HOUSE SAVES DETECTIVES

Corner of Building Behind Which They Took Refuge is Riddled.

SERIOUS CHARGE FOR HASKINS

Must Stand Trial for Assault with Intent to Commit Murder for His Gun Play of Thursday Night.

Josh Haskins, who went on the rampage Thursday night with a double-barreled shotgun and made targets of Detectives Gallagher and Tom Richardson when they attempted to arrest him, will have to face a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. An information making this charge against Haskins was filed yesterday morning by Detective Gallagher. Haskins' preliminary hearing is set for next Monday morning.

Examination of the store building at the corner of Sixteenth street and Broadway, behind which the officers took shelter when Haskins first opened fire upon them, showed that they had a narrow escape from being seriously if not fatally wounded. The side of the building was completely riddled with shot and in places the boards were torn away by the charge.

The detectives state that at first they fired their revolvers over Haskins' head, but when he moved out into the middle of the street to get aim at them, they fired to kill, as they realized he had the advantage, seeing he was armed with a double-barrelled shotgun. But for the fact that one of the shells became jammed in Haskins' gun, the officers said yesterday, they did not like to think of what the termination of the duel might have been.

The trouble, it seems, started over a dog owned by John Bridget, a neighbor of Haskins. Last Tuesday Haskins filed an information against Bridget for keeping an alleged vicious dog. Nothing having been done in the meantime in the matter, Haskins, who is said to have been drinking, armed himself Thursday night with his shotgun and proceeded to the Bridget residence where he called to the family to come outside and he would kill every one of them. Bridget slipped out of the house by the back door and hastened to police headquarters, where he filed an information against Haskins.

Haskins was suffering yesterday from several cuts in his head as the result of the detectives having been compelled to subjugate him with the butts of their revolvers after they closed in on him.

BOARD OF EDUCATION CAUCUSES

Both Parties to Name Their Tickets Tuesday Night.

Elmer E. Smith, chairman of the republican county central committee, issued a call yesterday for a mass meeting to be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the south room of the county court house to name two candidates for members of the Board of Education and one candidate for treasurer of the independent school district of Council Bluffs.

J. P. Hess and N. P. Anderson, the two members whose terms expire this spring, are both republicans and general sentiment seems that they should be both renominated and present indications are that they will be. Mr. Hess has served several terms, one as president of the board, while Mr. Anderson is finishing his first term. No names have been mentioned yet of possible candidates for the republican nomination for school treasurer.

The democrats will hold a mass meeting Monday night for the same purpose at the same place.

John Tollinger, deputy clerk of the district court at Avoca, who has announced himself as a candidate for the republican nomination for clerk of the district court has withdrawn from the race for this nomination and is now a candidate for the nomination for county recorder. Mr. Tollinger, it is said, withdrew as a candidate for the republican nomination for clerk of the district court in favor of Dillon Ross, who has recently announced his candidacy for this nomination.

H. T. Barber of Macedonia has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for county recorder. He is a veteran of the civil war and some time ago was a candidate for the position of deputy state oil inspector.

Petitions for the renomination of James W. Mitchell as county treasurer at the hands of the republicans of Pottawattamie county are being circulated. Mr. Mitchell is serving his first term as treasurer and unless something unforeseen happens, will, it is expected, be renominated by acclamation.

Candidates on the democratic city ticket have been invited to attend a conference to be held Sunday afternoon at the office of Chairman J. J. Hughes of the city central committee. The city central committee is called to meet next Wednesday evening at the same place.

Steinbaugh Goes to Eldora.

Roy Steinbaugh, the 15-year-old boy charged with breaking into the commission store of Barney Gilbert and stealing a case of oranges, was yesterday ordered committed to the reform school at Eldora by Judge Thornell. The boy's mother, Mrs. Anna Steinbaugh, filed an information in the juvenile division of the district court charging Roy with being incorrigible and asking the court to send him to Eldora. The box of oranges was found at the boy's home. Young Steinbaugh said he got into the store by unlocking the back door with a skeleton key.

Convention of Insurance Men.

The annual convention of the Iowa Association of Fire Insurance Agents is to be held in this city on Thursday, June 18. H. W. Binder of this city, who is secretary of the state organization, will call a meeting of the local fire insurance agents for some day next week to make the preliminary arrangements for entertaining the convention.

It was decided at the annual meeting in Des Moines last year to hold this year's convention in Council Bluffs, but the date was not set. Mr. Binder returned yesterday from Des Moines, where he attended a meeting of the executive committee of the association, at which June 18 was decided upon as the date for holding the convention.

It is expected there will be an attendance of between 150 and 200 of the leading fire insurance underwriters of the state at the convention. There are about twenty-five local fire insurance agents and it is expected they will form an organization and elect the necessary committees to make preparations for the convention.

Among the business to be transacted by the convention will be the election of delegates to the meeting of the National Association of Fire Insurance Agents to be held in St. Paul, Minn., August 11, 12 and 13.

Dr. T. B. Lacey, who will pilot the lead car in the New York to Paris automobile race, will leave this morning for Carroll, a distance of ninety-four miles. The lead car will be picked up at Carroll and escorted by Dr. Lacey and party to Council Bluffs along the Northwestern route.

Dr. Lacey will be accompanied in his touring car by Lieutenant Frederick Test, Henry C. Atkins and a driver. The party on the return trip will strew the route with confetti as a guide for the two French cars which are expected to be close behind the American car.

Petition Roosevelt to Run.

A petition asking President Roosevelt to permit his name to be used as a candidate for renomination has been circulated in Council Bluffs and vicinity recently and now bears many signatures. The petition will be sent to President Roosevelt in the near future by Mr. Bouricius, a well-known business man of this city.

Allison and Hepburn Endorsed.

SIDNEY, Ia., Feb. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The republicans of Fremont county met in convention in Sidney this afternoon to select delegates to the state and district conventions. The attendance was good and the convention harmonious. W. T. Davidson of the Hamburg Republican was made chairman and E. H. Harrison, vice president. Resolutions were adopted praising and endorsing Roosevelt, Allison, Hepburn and Representative A. Mann. Allison was commended to the people of the state for such further service as he may be able to give. While there was no friction in the convention, some dissenting voices were heard around the edges. There were no speeches and no candidate for president was mentioned. The delegates to the state convention are S. N. Heaton, A. Mann, W. S. Greenwold, N. B. Snapp, William Eaton, W. H. Sheldon, Peter Friel, R. C. Campbell.

Kerr Head of Palmer College.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Feb. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—E. C. Kerr, of Troy, O., was chosen president of Palmer college, Legrand, Ia., for five years, by the directors today. Mr. Kerr has been acting president for years. The college is owned by the Christian denomination.

Iowa News Notes.

MARSHALLTOWN—H. Y. Brown of Minneapolis, was today appointed general foreman of the Iowa Central car and paint shops. Mr. Brown has been assistant foreman of the Minneapolis & St. Louis car shops at Cedar Lake. He succeeded J. H. Chamberlain, resigned.

MARSHALLTOWN — Colonel C. W. Wadeworth of New York, assistant inspector general of national homes for volunteer soldiers and sailors, made annual inspection of Iowa Soldiers' Home today. A total of 812 members, not including women and civil employes, were reported present and absent with leave.

SIOUX CITY—At a meeting of the Commercial club Judge J. S. Lawrence, representing the Sioux City Traction company, said that the company was willing to construct a viaduct over Wall street at a cost of something like $50,000, providing the electors of Sioux City would grant the company an extension of street franchises about to expire. It is probable the matter will be submitted to the voters at the regular fall election.

MARSHALLTOWN—In an address, J. F. Weart of Cherokee, secretary of the Northwestern Retail Lumbermen's association, told the 140 lumbermen at the convention that by liberal, persistent and untiring advertising, and newspaper advertising largely, alone could they hope for success against the mail order competitor. He advocated the use of the same cuts, the same reading matter and the same or better prices by the retailer in the newspaper advertising that the mail order house uses in its catalogue. The fourteenth annual convention will be held in this city late next winter.

MARSHALLTOWN—Rev. Frank W. Parsons, Ph. D., who for four years has been pastor of the Mason City Baptist church, has gone to Los Angeles, Cal., and it is probable that he will not return to his Mason City charge. Dr. Parsons left his work temporarily on account of poor health, but to friends here he has confided that it is very likely that he will not resume work with the Mason City congregation. For ten years, prior to his going to Mason City, Rev. Parsons was the pastor of the First Baptist church of this city. He also held a charge at Glenwood, Ia., for several years. He is widely known in the denomination in Iowa.

LAKE CITY—At a meeting of delegates from Storm Lake, Sac City and Lake City, held at Sac City, the partial organization of a company to do the preliminary work preparatory to the construction of a railroad from these towns to Des Moines, was accomplished. The company when incorporated, will be known as the Des Moines & Sac City Railway company, with its principal place of business at Lake City, Ia. The following officers were elected: President, S. N. Elwood, Sac City; vice president, M. H. Miller, Fort Dodge; treasurer, E. M. Bailey, Sac City; secretary, A. O. Anderson, Lake City; directors, M. H. Miller, Fort Dodge; S. N. Elwood, Sac City; E. N. HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE DATE

Schools in Southeast Part of State to Contest on Sixth of March.

FLAVIN TO BE THE ARBITRATOR

Street Car Men Accept Priest as Third Man to Settle Wage Differences with the Company and Strike Averted.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 29.—(Special.)—High schools of the southeastern section of the state will meet for their annual oratorical contest in the Drake university auditorium in this city on March 6. The date was fixed today and the judges selected are C. E. Reed of Ottumwa, T. W. Else of Oskaloosa and Miss Louise Smith of Highland Park college in Des Moines.

The state of Iowa has forty-eight high schools which affiliate with the state association and these are divided into the four quarters of the state. Following the contests in the four districts the winners will meet for the state contest, the date of which has not yet been fixed upon.

The high schools in the southeastern section are: Grinnell, Moulton, Valley Junction, Colfax, Wilcox, Bloomfield, Pella, Albia, Centerville and Washington.

Father Flavin Selected.

The street car employes have accepted the suggestion of the company of the Right Rev. Monsignor Flavin of St. Ambrose Catholic church in this city as the third member of the Board of Arbitration to fix the scale of wages of the company's employes. Father Flavin today accepted the appointment and the chief step towards adjusting the difficulty as to wages without recourse to a strike has been taken. Confirmation was received today that the company has brought strike breakers to the city.

Dr. Miller Recovering.

Dr. J. E. Miller, city physician of Des Moines, who was shot by a drunken man recently when the doctor went to his home to care for injuries the man had inflicted on his wife, is thought to be recovering. His condition has so far improved that it is believed he is past all danger.

State Buildings Completed.

State Architect J. F. Liebbe today returned from a trip to the southwestern part of the state. He says the custodian building at Glenwood is all completed except the plumbing and workmen are now engaged on that and will have it completed by the middle of March, when the building will be occupied. The woman's infirmary building at Clarinda is now nearly ready for the plastering. The state is having new slate blackboards placed in the old school building for the deaf and dumb at Council Bluffs.

Proudfoot Files.

A. V. Proudfoot of Indianola has filed his primary nomination papers with the secretary of state as a candidate for senator from the Warren-Clarke district, now represented by Senator Jamison of Osceola. It is understood that Senator Jamison will not be a candidate and it is reported as more than likely that Mr. Proudfoot will be without opposition.

Big Poultry Show.

Arrangements are already being started for a big state poultry show in this city for next winter. The Central Iowa Poultry and Pet Stock association, which was organized only a few months ago and which gave a very successful small poultry show here this winter, has arranged to use the new coliseum next winter. This is to be a mammoth building on the river front. The association has engaged two of the best poultry judges in the country.

IOWA EDITORS IN CONVENTION

Announcements of Candidates Principal Topic of Discussion.

CRESTON, Ia., Feb. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The Southwest Iowa Editorial association met here today with a large attendance. The old officers were re-elected as follows: President, J. J. Huston, Centerville; vice president, William Robb, Creston; secretary, O. E. Hull, Leon.

Attorney General Byers was to have delivered an address, but was not able to be present, and the address was delivered by his assistant, George Cossan.

The principal discussion of the convention was over a resolution by Junkin regarding the announcements of candidates and it was the consensus of opinion that these should be so worded as to show for themselves whether they were advertising or the opinions of the editors. The visitors were entertained in the evening at a theater party.

City Demands Representation.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Feb. 29.—(Special.)—Believing that Sioux City has not received justice at the hands of the Woodbury County Board of Supervisors in the matter of taxation, the Commercial club has inaugurated a campaign having for its purpose either a change in the representation of the board of the redistricting of the county. The Sioux City business men believe that no results will follow the agitation for a change in the tax loan of the state, and they point out that every attempt to bring tax reform since 1884 has resulted in the defeat of proposed measures by the legislators from the agricultural districts. The commercial interests of the city point to the fact that Sioux City, with 40,000 inhabitants, has only one representative on the Board of Supervisors, while the remainder of the county, with scarcely 19,000 population, has four members on the board. The present law makes it possible for the question relative to representation to be changed by the voters at a regular election. Sioux City favors a board of only three members. If this is not possible, it will urge the redistricting of the county, giving it a more equal representation.

Grief Cause of Suicide.

STORM LAKE, Ia., Feb. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Robert Sauter, living in Coon township in Buena Vista county, committed suicide last night by shooting herself with a revolver. The only reason which can be assigned is that she was grieving over the death of her child, which occurred in December.

COLUMBIA WINS DEBATE

Cornell Team Defeated in Discussion of Federal License for Corporations.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 29.—A coed on the Cornell debating team, lending all her forensic ability to express her contentions, and a Chinese, a member of the Columbia university team, developing his argument with resourcefulness, were the features of a debate tonight between the two universities, which resulted in a victory for Columbia.

Miss Elizabeth Cook, the coed, opened the debate for Cornell, taking the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that aside from all questions as to the constitutionality involved, congress should require all corporations engaged in interstate business to take out a federal license."

Victor K. Wellington Koo, the Chinese, pleased his audience with the force of his well prepared arguments. M. L. Coleman and D. E. Lapham were the two other Columbia debaters, and D. T. Smith and H. T. Kent made up the Cornell team with Miss Cook. The judges stood two to one in awarding the victory to Columbia.

NEBRASKA FROM DAY TO DAY

Quaint and Curious Features of Life in a Rapidly Growing State.

New Engine Trouble—The engine attached to the 10 o'clock passenger was attacked with a fit of explosions here Friday night. Some one thought one of the banks was being touched. A relief engine was sent for, but it was a wait of several hours for the passengers before they went farther west.—Ewing People's Advocate.

Ready for Spring—The big steam plowing outfit was set up this week and is ready for work. The engine is a monster of thirty-five horsepower with drivers thirty-eight inches wide. Mr. Groves says it is heavy enough to pull twenty-four plows, but he did not want to run it at its full capacity and has only eighteen plows. He expects to run it day and night and thinks that with eighteen plows he will be able to do all the work he has contracted and this fall he will sow small grain on the ground broken for non-residents if they desire.—Chappell Register.

Out of the Snow Zone—Monday was a day of fire fighting in this neck of the woods. Several big fires set by engines raged fiercely. One just west of town eat its way nearly to Dr. Amos' ranch building and then swept on south. Another fire south of Bushnell traveled miles and miles southward, burning good range. Everybody in town who could get away took brooms and went out to fight fire. The railroad company pays 10 cents an acre this time of the year, it is said. The big fire east of town is said to have burned off all of Hans Gunderson's range and he is caring for 6,000 head of sheep. This is hard luck.—Kimball Observer.

Brotherly Love—The days when editors glowered in silence as they passed on the streets, when they exhausted their vocabulary of billingsgate in writing of each other and when they did job printing for nothing to keep the other fellow from getting it are passed. There is a kindly and fraternal spirit among them and they enjoy each other's society. This state of feeling has been brought about very largely, we believe, by the association, but not altogether. The tone of the press is less vitriolic and the feeling and heart of the editor are changed. He feels more kindly toward all, he cultivates the gentler and more humane side, he is more literary and the refinement of literature has remolded him. How much it has added to the influence of the press and to the pleasure of reading it the public knows full well.—York Times.

No, the Boys Wouldn't Play Poker—A rumor has been going the rounds to the effect that the boys who had a club in the rooms over L. L. Coryell's office on Central avenue, had been compelled to give them up because of the fact that they had been caught playing poker there in violation of the rules that had been promulgated by Mr. Coryell when he gave them the apartments. Both Mr. Coryell and the boys who conducted the club indignantly deny this. They say that they never conducted poker games in the rooms and that the only reason why they abandoned the club was the fact that the roller skating rink afforded more fascinating and pleasurable attractions and that the lure of the rink caused such a falling off in attendance that not enough visited the rooms to keep them in order or make it worth while to keep the rooms open.—Nemaha Republican.

PARDO CALLS UPON EVANS

President of Peru Spends Several Hours with Admiral Aboard Connecticut.

LIMA, Feb. 29.—President Pardo visited Admiral Evans on board the battleship Connecticut last night. As he passed down the pier to take a launch to the warship a large number of American sailors and marines formed in two lines and greeted him with enthusiastic cheering.

President Pardo was received on board the Connecticut by Captain Osterhaus. Later he went to Admiral Evans' quarters and spoke to the commander-in-chief. In conversation with the president of Peru, Admiral Evans said:

I thank your excellency, in my name and in that of the American people, for the splendid demonstration that has been given our fleet during its stay in Peruvian waters. I have communicated to the United States a recital of the sympathetic reception given us upon all sides. I have with me 15,000 men who, when they get home, will give verbal report of all that has passed on the Pacific. This, coupled with my official communication, will permit our people to comprehend the character of your noble and hospitable nation.

Admiral Evans proposed the health of President Pardo, the Peruvian congress, the chiefs of the Peruvian navy and the entire Peruvian people.

President Pardo replied as follows:

I thank you deeply for the kind words you have just uttered, speaking for myself, for the government, for the officers of the Peruvian navy, and for the Peruvian people. The attentions with which your fleet were received here were not only a national courtesy, but they were a spontaneous demonstration of the sincere friendship which unites our two countries. I rejoice to see the people of Lima fraternizing with the brave sailors from your vessels. I glory that the execution of the Panama canal, to which President Roosevelt has dedicated his best efforts, intelligence and energy, shall be connected in history with his name.

President Pardo then proposed the health of President Roosevelt, the American nation and the admirals and officers of the fleet. He expressed the hope also that Admiral Evans would recover promptly from his indisposition.

President Pardo landed from the Connecticut at midnight. He was cheered again by the men on the pier and the crowds on shore.

A great many people went down to Callao from Lima last night to witness the illumination.

A theatrical performance was given on board the battleship Louisiana yesterday in honor of the sailors of the Peruvian warships in port.

NEBRASKA ROADS MEETING

Officials Preparing Protest to Proposed Tariff to Be Submitted to Commission.

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—Representatives of several railroads having lines in Nebraska met here today and appointed a committee to present to the Nebraska Railroad Commission statistics in an effort to demonstrate the net revenues of the roads will be endangered by enforcement of a maximum distance tariff. The undertaking was in response to an order of the commission to the roads to show cause by March 10 why such a tariff should not be established. The committee will try, it was said by the railroad traffic men, to bring about a greater spirit of co-operation between the railroads and the commission.
