

WILL TAKE ABOUT FIVE MINUTES TO RELIEVE YOU OF INDIGESTION

Read why nothing will upset your stomach or remain undigested if you eat Diap... pepsin afterwards.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of a case of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour in your stomach if you will take one 12-grain Triangle of Diap... pepsin after eating.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, flatulence, a feeling of fullness after eating, nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), heartburn, water brash, pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective Diap... pepsin is used. No matter what you think your trouble—call it by any name you choose—it is certain that the real cause is fermentation of the food you eat! All these are nearly symptoms or the result of this cause. For all these things you will find a sure cure in Diap... pepsin, and one 12-grain Triangle, taken after your next meal, will prove this. Diap... pepsin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. Each triangle will digest 3,000 grains of food and leave nothing to ferment or sour. Any good pharmacy here can supply these 12-grain cases of Paper's Diap... pepsin, which have the complete formula printed thereon to show just what you are taking, and that it is no more harmful than candy!

Start taking Diap... pepsin today, and by tomorrow you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

adding confidence on the part of the depositors in the banks as a prominent feature of any plan for preventing panics.

The senate also passed a resolution offered by Senator Tillman calling on the attorney general for all information concerning court proceedings in the Indian Territory affecting the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians.

A number of bills of minor importance were passed and at 5 o'clock the senate adjourned.

SIMS TAKES RESPONSIBILITY

Commander Says He Started Criticism of Naval Construction.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Commander William H. Sims, naval aide to President Roosevelt, by his own statement is responsible for the "row" over criticisms of battleship construction. At the outset of his testimony before the senate committee on naval affairs today he gave the committee to understand it could expect some sensations. This was done in a preliminary step outlining what he had to do with naval criticism, which, he said, began back of 1888 and was confined to official channels.

"Much of my service has dealt with these criticisms," he said, and continued:

"I began when I was 26 years old and now I am nearly 50. I put this in because I am persistently called a young man. I am older than Admiral Capps, who has referred to me as a 'young man'."

Continuing he said he would have to go into unpleasant facts, such as charging officers or inventors with having made misleading statements, the secretion of official documents and the refusal of superior officers to accept suggestions of value.

The plan of Commander Sims to give the committee a sensation was upset immediately by Senator Tillman, who suggested that the witness be instructed to confine his testimony to alleged faulty construction and to omit all this time criticisms of personnel, incomplete organization or other matters to be taken up later. The commander asked that he be permitted to continue his statement without interruption and the senators would not cross-examine him until he had concluded his statement in his own way. His request was ignored.

"The armor belt on all our battleships is too low," Commander Sims stated, broadly. He charged that the statements made by Rear Admirals Converse and Capps were misleading.

"If an admiral goes out of port without full bunkers, say on the cruise to the Pacific, and should meet an enemy, say in the West Indies, he would be court-martialed," said the commander.

"There might be a heavy sea running and the fleet not be able to use its guns for a week. Then the ships would need full bunkers."

Commander Sims said that the French allow for extra and unanticipated weights, and that the Germans in designing ships figure on a normal line with full bunkers. He said that when the American fleet arrived at Rio de Janeiro, the water lines of the Connecticut class were fully a foot and a half below normal.

At the conclusion of the criticisms of the water lines, which were made in the most general terms, Admiral Capps was given permission to cross-examine the witness.

The admiral did this chiefly by raising doubts as to the wisdom of the design of the German constructors figure on full bunkers in locating the water line; that the logs of a ship are accurate evidence and defied the witness to show that vessels were overdrat a foot and a half upon arrival at Rio. Admiral Capps asked the witness if he was sure the double bottoms of the ships were full of water when they arrived at Rio. Commander Sims had no data in this regard, so Admiral Capps declined to continue. He commented that it was "obvious" that the witness had no data on which to base his criticisms.

This question of turret construction and the relative merit of the direct and indirect ammunition hoists were taken up. The commander gave a graphic description of the open turrets with the open hoists, which pictured the danger that caused Mr. Hale to remark: "The wonder to me is that any man comes out of there alive."

Commander Sims declared that the shutters in the direct hoists do not work properly and that when sacks of powder burst the grains of powder frequently get down to the handling room in the hold of the ship. He referred to the explosion on the Georgia, and said that twenty odd burning grains of powder had found their way to the handling room.

Chairman Hale said he thought it had been established that only the interrupted or two stage hoists would be used in ships built hereafter.

The examination by Admiral Capps resulted in more direct accusations and positive denials without bringing out anything of importance.

Gunnery was referred to incidentally by Senator Perkins, and Senator Tillman spoke of the record made at Santiago as "modern glory."

Commander Sims characterized the shooting by the American squadron as "the most disgraceful exhibition of gunnery that ever took place on the face of the globe."

He said that only one-half per cent of hits were averaged and four per cent was the best made by any of the big guns. "Our gunners could not shoot at all," he said.

"The Spaniards were in a wonderful condition," said the witness, "or they could have escaped easily."

NAVY APPEARS TO BE DIVIDED

Commander Fletcher Defends Ammunition Hoists in Use.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Commander E. F. Fletcher, a naval expert on the subject of turret construction and particularly on the subject of ammunition hoists, today appeared before the senate committee on naval affairs and contradicted much of the testimony given by Commander Sims yesterday.

"The ammunition device of a straight hoist," he said, "is similar to five-sixths of all the hoists in use, and therefore is not the senseless experiment some critics have charged."

He said of the Missouri accident, where 300 pounds of powder burned in the handling room, and said that there had been forty or fifty accidents in the French and other foreign navies where powder had burned in the handling rooms of ships without causing explosions. He agreed with Admiral Converse, Capps and Mason that the turrets can be made safe at a comparatively small cost.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE

Charge That Railroads Have Defrauded Government.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The startling charge that the railroad of the country carrying mails have robbed the people out of $700,000 was made in the house today by Mr. Lloyd of Missouri.

He declared that the new system of weighing mails was an admission of the postmaster general that the weighing in the past twenty-seven years had been fraudulent. He called for an investigation of the postoffice department and Mr. Wagner of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee to control the expenses of that department promised that an inquiry would be conducted.

Others who spoke were Messrs. Moon, Tennessee; Goebel, Ohio; Briggs, Georgia; Murdock, Kansas; and Smith, California. The postoffice bill was still under consideration when the house at 5:30 p. m., adjourned.

DEATH RECORD.

Colonel Xavery Piasicki. ST. PAUL, Neb., March 2.—(Special.)—The career of one of the most notable men of this community was closed today, when Colonel Xavery Piasicki breathed his last at his home in this city, after a few weeks of severe sickness. Decemur was born in Russian Poland seventy-six years ago, and was one of the devoted patriots of his native country. He was colonel of a regiment of the ill-fated revolution of 1861-62, and when the patriots were beaten he, with all others who could get away, fled from the vengeance of the czar—first to France, then Switzerland and other places, and eventually emigrated to Canada, and from there moved to Howard county in 1878.

Dr. Reuben Samuels. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 2.—Dr. Reuben Samuels, stepfather of Frank and Jesse James, died at the State Hospital for the insane here today, aged 82 years. When Dr. Samuels was a resident of Kearney, Mo., in 1876, a bomb was thrown into his house, supposedly by detectives, which blew off the arm of his wife, mother of the James boys, and killed his 7-year-old son, Arthur. Dr. Samuels was in the house, but was unharmed. Dr. Samuels was famed for his mildness of disposition and bore the highest reputation. One son, John Samuels, a prominent resident of Excelsior Springs, Mo., survives him.

DRAGNET FOR ANARCHISTS

Identity of Chief Shippy's would-be assassins was shown by the arrest of a young man, Arthur Averbuch, at 221 S. 22nd St., Monday night. He is believed to be the assassin of Chief Shippy.

"I never heard of Lazarus Averbuch, but I know that he is no anarchist. He is not a member of our society, and further than that, no anarchist would attack a boy or girl. The son and daughter of Chief Shippy were in the same home and the son was arrested in the same way. The fact is, the Chicago police have been so active and so bitter in digging up plots that they have got a fraction of foreigners against them, but they are not anarchists."

"The Chicago police," said Miss Goldmann, "are absurd. Immediately after the assassination of Chief Shippy they started the world with the discovery of a similar plot in Chicago. They are always discovering plots after it is all over."

"If Chief Shippy got into trouble with any faction, it was his own fault, but I know that Averbuch was not an anarchist."

Chief's Assassin Identified. CHICAGO, March 2.—The would-be assassin of Chief of Police George M. Shippy was tonight identified as Lazarus Averbuch, a Russian student, of presumably anarchistic tendencies.

Chief Shippy, attacked in his home, 221 S. 22nd St., Monday night by Averbuch, shot and killed the latter, but until his assassin had stabbed him in the arm, had shot and dangerously wounded Harry Shippy, a son of the police officer, and had wounded James Foley, a member of the police department, detailed as a night watchman. The younger Shippy, who was believed at first to have been mortally injured, was said at a late hour tonight to have a good chance of recovery. Neither of the other men was dangerously hurt. The identity of the young Russian, who was instantly killed by a shot through the head, was learned tonight by the Chicago police. Averbuch, 23 years old, a Russian student, who for three weeks had lived with two sisters at the home of Mrs. Harry Pine, 212 Washburn avenue, in the western portion of the city. He had only been in America three months, having come direct here from Austria. After he had been in Kishinev two years ago to escape the persecution of the Jews in that city. His plans to kill Chief Shippy are believed to have been formed as a direct result of the latter's interference with a parade of unemployed men through the city's streets several days ago.

After working all day Lieutenant Alock, with two detectives took Olga Averbuch when she returned from a southside dressmaking establishment, where she was employed. She was taken to the police station, where she was held until she had been identified as the wife of the young man who had been shot.

Sister Identifies Body. After working all day Lieutenant Alock, with two detectives took Olga Averbuch when she returned from a southside dressmaking establishment, where she was employed. She was taken to the police station, where she was held until she had been identified as the wife of the young man who had been shot.

While talking with the assistant chief of police the young woman asserted her belief that her brother had deliberately planned to kill Chief Shippy. This assertion had little weight with the authorities, however, as they claim to have information that the would-be assassin held meetings with a number of his friends in the former's room here Sunday. It was here, say the police, that the young anarchist had read and given anarchistic literature and listening to anarchistic speeches, planned details of the crime, which was attempted this morning.

After Miss Averbuch had been taken away, Assistant Chief Schuetter divided the duty of the story from the normal, although this was fragmentary owing to the mental stress under which the prisoner labored.

THREATENING LETTER TO PRIEST

Frank Zajicek, Arrested at Chicago, Admits the Offense. CHICAGO, March 3.—Frank Zajicek was arrested early this morning charged with sending a threatening letter to a Roman Catholic priest, Procopius Nual, a priest of the Benedictine fathers. The prisoner, who is 35 years old and lives at 54 Blue Island, on the borders of the Ghetto district, admitted sending a demand for $1,000 to the priest, according to the police.

Railway Notes and Personal.

D. Clem Deaver, superintendent of the Burlington, left Tuesday for the Big Horn Basin with a large party of home-seekers, who are about to be thrown open for settlement.

Twelve new monster locomotives from the Baldwin works passed through Omaha Tuesday for the Southern Pacific Railroad company. These caused considerable comment for it is well known that all the railroads of the country have large orders for locomotives. These probably were ordered before the financial flurry started and were too far along to be cancelled.

The Union and Burlington stations were crowded Tuesday with emigrants waiting to move to the west, Tuesday being the date of the low homestead rates to the northwest.

Family Doctor Prescribed

At 80 years of age Mr. John Van Luvanee, Moline, Ill., was restored to health and vigor by taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as prescribed by his doctor.

Mr. Van Luvanee says he feels as young as he did 40 years ago, and is so delighted with the benefits received from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, that he recommends it to old and young.

"I am over 80 years of age and I have had to work hard ever since I was old enough to do anything. I was generally rugged and healthy up to about three years ago, then I began to feel that I was getting old. I could not go up or down stairs without having to hold on to something. About a year ago I was out riding on an open wagon, the weather was chilly, I caught a bad cold and fever followed. I had to send for a doctor. I got over the fever, but I was still sick. I had no appetite. I was weak and had no flesh on my bones. The doctor told me to get Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, take it as directed, and I did so. I was soon better, my appetite returned and I felt as well as I did 40 years ago. I must say that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been a great benefit to me, and has prolonged my life. I feel as well and can get around, I think, as smartly as the majority of men can at 80 years of age. I am very sure that it all came by using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and I advise every person, both old and young, especially the old, who have not very good health to take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed, and be temperate in all things. What I have said of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is my personal experience; it is by using it that I know it is a good medicine and I cannot help speaking of the good it has done me."—JOHN VAN LUVANEE, Moline, Ill., Nov. 5, 1907.

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a family medicine.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken and that our guarantee is on every bottle. Price $1.00. Write Dr. B. C.
