ITALIAN CAR IS WELCOMED

Second World-Touring Machine Plows Through Iowa Mud.

GETS INTO OMAHA LAST NIGHT

Cheered as it Threads Its Way Up Farnam Street, Thronged and Lighted, on to Stopping Pince.

Piloted by Frank Parmelee and several cars filled with automobile enthusiasts who had gone to Council Bluffs to meet them, the occupants of the Italian car in the New York-Paris automobile race, passed up Farnam street between cheering thousands Saturday night and entered the Kimball garage at 8:10. The pilot car carried red torches, which made the crowded thoroughfare look like Rex himself was making his entry to fall. The welcome was as warm as if the car had been American and in the lead.

Since early morning the car had been working its way from Woodbine, Is., thirty-three miles east, and two days were consumed in coming from Denison, sixtythree miles. The condition of the roads was frightful. To avoid some of the mud permission was given to use the Illinois Central tracks, but this was slow work as every cattle guard had to be boarded over. as well as an approach laid to all frogs and switches. Dr. Tom Lacey, Lieutenant Test and Dr. Atkins of Council Bluffs piloted the car in their own ear, from Denison.

The occupants of the Italian car are Ccarfoglia, the driver; Sartori, his assistant; A. N. Ruland, an assistant, and Agee, the machinist. The Zust weighs stripped, 7,000 pounds, or 2,500 pounds more than the American car, and carries about 2.000 pounds of traps besides.

When Kimball's garage was reached the police closed the door to keep out the crowd, but Scarfoglia asked that the doors be opened that all might have a look. The garage was soon filled with the curious ones who wished to see the big car. Scarfoglia did not know just how long he would remain in Omaha, but said he thought he would spend most of today here as the men have been having a most strenuous time and needed the rest. A stop was made in Council Bluffs to give the occupants of the car a chance to enjoy a complimentary dinner at the Grend hotel, given in their honor by Donald Macrae, former mayor of that city.

Omaha and aroused so much enthusiasm called on Secretary Taft we were assured the Italian residents of Omaha have been by him that he would not have entertained five years and during that time has built Omaha in favor of giving all the machines a good send off as they passed through this city. Four automobiles filled with Italians tried to go to meet the Italian car Friday, but they found the roads north of Council Bluffs impassable and had to turn back. This was a warning to the occupants of the Italian car and they changed their route and got permission from the Illinois Central road to use the right-of-way of that company from Denison to Omaha. Among the prominent Italians of Omaha who went to meet the car were A. Minardi, Joe Salerno, Vincent Randazzo, A. Selerno, Jasper Sailla, Poe Sessto and Pete Pocor

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., March 7 .- (Spe cial Telegram.)—The American car reached here at 11:40 this morning. Several local automobiles went out to meet it. The streets were thronged with about 2,000 people. Whistles began to blow when the car reached the experimental station, three miles south of the city. The occupants of the car took dinner at the Pacific hotel, Cody Boals, Colonel Cody's grandson eating with them. Montague Roberts expressed appreciation of the reception. Gasoline was furnished here, but the car was not cleaned. One member of the party said the car would not run good without some dirt. The car left here at 1 o'clock this afternoon with a pilot furnished by the Rocky Mountain News. The pilot car has been here several days awaiting the arrival of the American car.

The car arrived in splendid condition, covering the last ten miles in fifteen minutes. The Leavenworth Automobile club escorted the tourists to army headquarters. Mayor Everhardy extended a large key to the

FOR PIMPLES, TOO.

New Discovery Cures Eczema and Eradicates Minor Skin Troubles Over Night. About a month ago the dispensers of oslam, the new discovery for the cure of eczema, decided to allow the druggists of the country to handle it. Previous to that time it could only be obtained direct from the laboratories. Since this change in the method of distribution, poslam has met with the most phenomenal success of anything introduced to the drug trade in the last 30 years. All leading druggists, including Sherman & McConnell in Omaha are now carrying the special 60-cent size recently

This great success is not surprising when it is remembered that, in eczema cases, poslam stops the itching with first application, proceeds to heal immediately, and cures chronic cases in a few weeks. In minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, acne, herpes, blotches, rush, etc., results show after an overnight aplication. Experimental samples of poslam are sent to anyone by mail free of

That "colds" are due to "catching heat" is another one of the curious paradoxes due to the modern investigations of discase, and by "colds" is meant all the acute inflammation of the respiratory tract, including pneumonia. Estimos never have pneumonia at home, but they nearly all die of it when they come to New York. This disease is now the most fatal one in the heat of Fanama. Peary states that none of his party suffered from coughs and colds in the arctic, but after their return they have all had such diseases. "Tropical colds" are the persistent forms of bronchitis found in white men in the tropics and so hard to "throw off" or cure. It is well to inquire, now that the benefits of cold air are being recognized, whether our winter colds are not really due to the unwholesome heat of our houses, which are hotter in winter than in summer. If so, we do not "catch cold" when we leave the house, but "catch heat" when we enter it. Every new fact seems to point to the necessity of a reform in our methods of overheating our houses.—American Medicine.

FLEET BACK BY WAY OF SUEZ

Arrangements Made for Voyage in Eastern Waters. WASHINGTON, March 7 .- Now that it has been practically determined by the president that the battleship fleet shall return to the Atlantic by way of Sues, the near approach of the fleet to its original destination-the California coast-has made it necessary for the naval officials to arrange the details of the itinerary for the homeward movement.

Already several conferences have been held upon this subject between the president and Secretary Metcalf, Admiral Pillsbury, chief of the navigation bureau, and Admiral Cowles, chief of the equipment bureau, the latter being specially charged with the duty of coaling the fleet. The last conference, held yesterday, was intended to place Secretary Metcalf in possession of full information as to what had been accomplished by the bureau chiefs in preparation for the return cruise. He was perfectly satisfied with the result.

Admira! Cowles has already dispatched large stores of coal to the Hawaiian islands and to Manila and he has further ascertained just how much fuel he can obtain at Port Said and the price he will have to pay for it. This is as far as he could go in the absence of official orders to make purchases. It is the business of Admiral Pillsbury to prepare these orders and he has already, after consultation with his assistants in the navigation bureau, been able to frame them and lay them before and decorations that had been conferred the president. So it is expected that in upon him. Benator Clark, at a studio tea in New York, declared that his recent purchase for $40,000 of Jules Breton's "Harvesting of the Poppies" was a bargain. Then he added: "I have got such a bargain as a small tobacco dealer tried to get last Easter. An advertising agent told me about it. The tobacco dealer called at a newspaper office and pointed out the half-page tobacco advertisement of a powerful firm. " Is this advertisement to appear again?" he asked.

"'Oh, yes,' replied the clerk. 'It is to appear all Easter week." 'Well,' said the dealer, 'just insert this Cure. small card of mine immediately below it.' "And he handed the clerk a card that said:

Shortly after January 1, when the law prohibiting all liquor traffic in Georgia went into effect, sporadic cases of the grip were treated by the physicians with whisky and pine syrup. This prescription prohibiting all liquor traffic in Georgia went into effect, sporadic cases of the grip were treated by the physicians with whisky and pine syrup. This prescription did not seem, however, to prevent the spread of the disease. On the contrary, the scores of patients multiplied into hundreds, all enamored of the same medicine, until the complaint became a raging epidemic and the apothecaries could scarcely meet the demand for the popular remedy. Then a strange thing happened. The doctors and druggists were arrested for violating the law in prescribing and seiling compounds containing ardent spirits, and the court sustained the complaint; and immediately following the legal boycott of the whisky cure the grip took unto itself wings and flew away. There is food for thought for both the medical student and the politico-meral philosopher.—Norfolk Virginian.

Hardly a day passes that we do not receive one or more letters from patients who are congratulating themselves and us on their new ALVEOLAR TEETH. A lady recently wrote in and told us that her teeth were so natural looking and beautiful that they had rejuvinated her face. Her friends and those who did not know her so well were completely mystified at the wonderful change in her looks This was the burden of her song of thanks giving. Letters of this kind are very gratifying, but they come with such froquency that they are becoming an old

One of the prime factors in Dr. Murphy's ing teeth without the aid of partial plates or so-called bridge work is that each is a tooth and is set in its own socket, thus carrying out nature's plan of supplying teeth in the first place. These teeth are not only natural looking, but they may be used in exactly the same way that one can use nature's teeth. We wish to impress once more upon our readers that in supplying these teeth we perform no surgical operation and do not bore or out into the gums. There is nothing about the proposition that is to be feared. The very strength of the method lies in its simplify and in its conformity with

Bowles, a soldier from Fort Crook, at Twelfth and Davenport streets, on the night of December 11, This was decreed by te jury in Judge Sears' court, which returned a verdict of gullty yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. after deliberations beginning at 1 o'clock. It is understood the jury was unanimous on the question of guilt, a few of the jurors holding out for a time for a life sentence instead of for the extreme pealty. Fouse received the verdict without any show of emotion, though he was extremely nervous. He was unable to eat dinner at noon Saturday owing to his anxiety. As he was lead back to the jail he refused to talk about the verdict, but he told the jailor he would try to eat something.

The verdict was received in the present of almost 100 people, most of whom had waited around the corridors of the court house for some news from the jury. The case attracted more than the usual amount of attention. After Robert Smith, clerk of the district court, had read the verdict the jury was polled at the request of H. G. Meyers, who with Frank Crawford represented Fouse. Each of the jurors unhesitatingly answered in the affirmative when asked if he concurred in the verdict.

Most Brutal Crime.

The crime for which Fouse was conrioted was one of the most brutal committed in Douglas county for a long time. Bowles, the victim, had been drinking in the saloons of the lower part of the city with Fouse and several others. The two were last seen together near Twelfth and Capitol avenue. The next morning Bowles was found with his head literally beaten to a pulp and in a dying condition. Fouse was arrested in South Omaha shortly afterward with Bowles' watch and knife in his possession. Bowles' clothes had been torn and cut from his body and part of them were found some distance away from the

A written confession signed by Fouse was introduced in evidence, in which he said Bowles had attacked him, and he had struck Bowles with a brick tiwice and had then taken the watch and knife. This substantially was his evidence before the coroner's jury. When he went on the witness stand in his own behalf, however, he told a story materially different in several respects. He said Bowles had attacked him with a knife and he had struck the soldier with the brick and then run away. He said he was very drunk, and he went to the rooms of Julia Rose, a colored woman, and sythe, in charge of the dormitory, had a slept all night. In the morning, before daylight, he said he told a colored man in the room about hitting the soldier, and a little later this man came back to him and gave him the watch and knife, and told him to keep quiet. He went to South Omaha, he said, with the purpose of pawning the articles. The state contends he had planned the murder deliberately, with the intention of robbing Bowles.
