was well advanced before anything like a clearance was effected.

Practically everything desirable was sold before the close, out the holders of shorn stuff found it harder work unloading and buyers are beginning to talk that the range between wooled and shorn sheep is too narrow and that there ought to be a wider difference. This feeling was shown in their neglect to some extent of the shorn sheep here today. Some good Colorado yearlings sold up to 16.5, with westerns as high as $6.19 and western ewes at $6.5. Beef steers were in good demand and in spite of the fact that the offerings were large buyers were out reasonably early looking for supplies. Bellers who happened to have something that seemed to take the fancy of buyers thought that they secured strong prices as compared with yesterday. On the other hand, holders of less desirable kinds in some cases were quoting the market a little easier. Taking the trade as a whole it is safe to quote it as a good, steady and reasonably active market.

What has been said regarding the steer trade would apply equally well to cows and
