Congratulations on Victory.

Attorney General W. T. Thompson has received the following letter from United States Senator Norris Brown:

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Hon. W. T. Thompson, Lincoln, Neb.—Dear Will: You and Will Rose and Grant Martin are surely to be congratulated on your victory in the express company case. It was a great question, ably presented to a court able and inclined to declare the law as it is. The opinion I regard as a very strong one and I am greatly pleased to know that you fellows are responsible for the suit and entitled to great credit for its results. With personal regards and looking forward to seeing you the last of the week, I have the honor to remain, very truly yours,

NORRIS BROWN.

New Depot is Promised.

The Commercial club of Columbus has notified the State Railway commission that in view of the fact that the Union Pacific has promised to begin the erection of a depot in the year 1908, it will not push the case to compel the railroad company to build an addition to the present station. A special car was taken and the vote was in favor of doing nothing now.

University Certificates as Investment.

Attorney General Young of Minnesota in answer to an inquiry directed to him by Attorney General Thompson, replied that the university certificates which were offered as an investment in the state of Minnesota were liabilities of the state of Minnesota. The attorney general also said the state board refused to make an investment because it believed the state of Minnesota was not liable for the certificates. An investment probably will be made now.

Williams-Bradley Wedding.

Miss Gertrude Emily Bradley was married yesterday at Blair, at the home of her mother, to Earl Joseph Williams of Lincoln. They will reside at 827 B street, Lincoln. Miss Bradley was for several years clerk in the office of the adjutant general and made many friends around the state and in Lincoln. Her husband is a photographer and one of the well known young men of Lincoln.

John Zehring, formerly a prominent citizen of Lincoln, and father of F. C. Zehring of the Oliver theater, died at 9:30 o'clock last night at his home in San Francisco, Cal. He was 78 years old and had been in ill health since the San Francisco earthquake. During that catastrophe his place of business, a confectionery store, and his home were destroyed by fire. As a result he as well as thousands of others, was obliged to sleep out of doors and the air being cold and damp, the contract of a severe cold developed into consumption and since that time his condition constantly grew worse. When he visited his son in Lincoln about a year ago consumption had already asserted itself.

F. C. Zehring, learning that his father was not expected to live, left last night at 9 o'clock for San Francisco. After he had been gone about an hour a telegram was received at his office to the effect that his father had died. His trip was interrupted by his stenographer, who notified him by telegram at Kansas City of the death. Mr. Zehring will not continue his journey to California, but will return to Lincoln tonight. The body of his father will be brought to Lincoln and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

John Zehring was among the early residents of Lincoln. He came to this city in 1874 from near, Neb., and was engaged in the drug business for many years. Later he traveled for a drug concern. He went to California in 1894.

Leo Lung On Must Go Home.

Assistant United States District Attorney Lane today received notification from St. Paul, Minn., that the federal court of appeals had sustained the order of deportation against Leo Lung On, an Omaha Chinaman. On was arrested several months ago as a Chinaman who came within the prescribed list, and attorney Lane successfully prosecuted the case against him, but he took his case to the court of appeals, which has sustained the lower court.

Going to Argue Railroad Case.

Attorney General Thompson and Deputy Attorney Ross left tonight for Washington, where on Monday they will argue before the United States supreme court the injunction suit brought by the railroads against the enforcement of the 2-cent fare law. No injunction has ever been granted, and the 2-cent fare law is complied with. The purpose of the state officials is to have the case remanded from the United States district court of Nebraska to the state courts.

AGED RECLUSE FOUND DEAD

Body of Robert Johnson of Cozad Discovered in Dugout on Island.

COZAD, Neb., March 12.—(Special.)—Robert Johnson, an old man who has been living alone in a dug-out on a small island in the Platte river south of here, was found dead in his cabin by party of hunters early this morning. He had evidently been dead for several days. The hunters had been lying on a sandbar near the hut for some time and, becoming chilled, decided to go to the cabin to warm. Approaching, they discovered the door ajar and a savage dog guarding the entrance. They determined that they were in a driving the dog into the bed room at the rear of the hut, where he barked defiance from under the bed. On thrusting a lighted torch into the dark room the body of Johnson was discovered seated on a tub in one corner, with his head leaning against the wall. He was dressed in a suit of heavy clothing. A coroner made an examination and a verdict of death from heart failure was the result.

TWO ALDA COUPLES ELOPE

Young People Leave Home in Peculiar Manner.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., March 12.—(Special.)—What appears to be a case of double elopement has taken place at Alda and the parents of the young people, who at first kept the matter quiet, are at a loss to know what means to adopt to find the children. Charles Curry and Marie Taylor and Charles Williams and Corbell Calton were the young people who eloped. They last seen at church in the village of Alda on Sunday night last. Since then a one-seated buggy and a single horse is missing and it is believed that the two couples went away in the one rig, but no trace of them can be found. In none of the surrounding counties are married licenses issued to any such young people. The families concerned are among the most estimable of the county and are much concerned over the disappearance of the young people, which is especially mysterious in view of the fact that there was no objection by any of them to the young people keeping company.

SPIRIT MEN ON THE JURY PANEL

Irregularities in Connection with Furnas County Body Uncovered.

BEAVER CITY, Neb., March 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Something of a sensation was sprung in district court when the attorneys for the defense in the criminal court attacked the validity of the late grand jury. The county commissioners testified that names were drawn that had not been selected by them as provided by law. One member of the jury admitted in court that he was not a resident of the United States, but was a British subject. The foreman of the jury was one name that was mysteriously spirited into the panel. The judge has not rendered a decision, but there is no doubt the indictment will be quashed by reason of the irregularities.

A COLLEGE GRADUATE

Fond Clear Thinking Assured by Night Food.

A college student should know that clear thinking comes easiest from a grain well and properly fed. "I have now been using Grape-Nuts steadily four years and having passed the experimental and over-enthusiastic stage, I feel sure that the food has settled down to a solid basis of fact. This I have derived largely from the excellent little booklet, 'The Road to Wellville,' which I have largely adopted as my faithful guide in matters pertaining to eating, exercise, and health in general. My first reading of the booklet was struck with its plain common sense and moreover found that it was in harmony with physiology and psychology so far as I had learned them in my study of these subjects at college. "For at least ten years before I began to eat Grape-Nuts I had been accustomed to eating freely of fried meats, white bread, biscuits and what not, with resultant headaches, some dizziness and an appetite that was capricious and uncertain. All this, too, seemed to affect my brain and nervous system, for while engaged in study I found it hard to concentrate my thoughts. "I could think very well for a little while, but soon grew restless and inattentive. Nor can I emphasize too much the change that I have brought about by adopting rational habits in food and exercise. "There is now an elasticity in my muscular system, a steadiness of nerve, and an ability to think continuously along a given line, that I prize most highly and which I attribute to the use of Grape-Nuts food. "There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in book.

VETERAN TELEGRAPHER DEAD

W. H. Heiss, Associate of Field in Submarine Cable Work, Passes Away at Sioux Falls.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., March 12.—(Special.)—The death of William H. Heiss, Sr., which was just taken place at the family residence in this city, is worthy of more than a passing notice. He was a pioneer in the play in events of historical importance during the dark days of the war of the rebellion and since that time. He was born in Philadelphia on July 28, 1826, and, therefore, was nearly 82 years of age at the time of his death. After marrying, his wife took him to his residence in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he remained until they took up their residence in Sioux Falls in 1867. The deceased was the oldest of a family of nine children, and started out for himself early in life. It was in the early days of the telegraph that he took up this line of business, first by becoming a telegraph operator for the Western Union and later as superintendent of the American People's, the Magnetic, the Western Union and International Ocean Telegraph companies. At the breaking out of the civil war he was superintendent of the Southern telegraph system and endured many hardships in making his escape from the confederates and seeking safety in the north. In 1862 he was made assistant manager of the United States military telegraph, and as such had charge of the laying of the submarine cable across Chesapeake bay to Rock River, at which point he made a connection with Washington and by working night and day completed the work just in time to send out a message to the country announcing the victory of the Monitor over the Merrimack.

LEGALLY DEAD MAN LIVES Ernest L. Rumery Appears After Wife Had Secured Insurance. MISSING OVER NINE YEARS Insurance Company Against Which Verdict Was Secured Traces Him to Lumber Camp in Washington.

Three months after he had been declared legally dead by a jury in district court, Ernest L. Rumery has appeared to bail his wife's attempt to collect a $2,000 insurance policy on his life. Rumery has been located by agents of the Equitable Life Assurance company in a lumber camp at North Yakima, Wash., and Wednesday it filed a suit in equity to have set aside the verdict of a jury in Rumery's court, awarding Mrs. Cora E. Rumery $2,000 on Rumery's life policy. The verdict was secured on the evidence of Mrs. Rumery that her husband had been missing more than nine years. Legally, a man who has been lost to his friends seven years is presumed to be dead. The verdict was secured under this rule. At the trial Mrs. Rumery said she last saw her husband in June, 1898, when they were living in Chippewa Falls, Wis., when he went away without an explanation and failed to return. She said neither she nor any of his friends, as far as she knew, had had any clue to him since. She denied that there had been domestic difficulties between them at any time during his absence. This money she said she had expended for stamps for letters she wrote to her friends in regard to him. It was from a clue given in Mrs. Rumery's testimony that Rumery was located. She said he had worked for a long time at Park Falls, Wis. Sending an agent there the insurance company finally traced Rumery to North Yakima, and secured an affidavit from him, testifying he is very much alive. In the affidavit he tells of his travels since leaving Chippewa Falls, but he gives no reason for his going away. From other sources, it is hinted, however, he fled because his domestic relations were not such as he desired, and that he has been hiding from his family since his disappearance. With Rumery's affidavit is one by William H. Greenwood, who knew him in Wisconsin, testifying he is the same one who formerly lived there. John Sawbridge and A. Johnson have also signed affidavits identifying him. Rumery was located February 11, less than two months after the verdict had been returned.

OIL EXCITEMENT AT BYRON Byron, Wyo., March 12.—(Special.)—The people of this locality are very much encouraged over the oil outlook at the present time. The Wyoming and Montana Oil company has brought in a well that is a sure enough gusher as it throws out fully 100 feet above the surface. Three other large outfits are now on the ground and various other interests have experts here watching operations and staking out new claims. Prof. Samuel Aughey, a geologist of international reputation, who was here recently to examine the Byron oil field, has this to say of the district: "After going over a part of this field again and seeing the confirmation of my first report, the conclusion reached is that the Byron is one of the great high-grade illuminating oil fields of the world. There are larger fields, but none that yield so high a grade of oil. "While the present developed field is comparatively small, the consensus of opinion of the experts is that the field extends from Bonanza, Wyo., on the south, through the vicinity of Greysbull and Byron to a point a short distance south of Bridger, Mont., and it now looks like this entire district will be staked out in oil claims within the next sixty days, as surveying parties and locators are to be seen in several parts of the district. "The Barnard people have already taken up and leased about 2,000 acres. The Bateson, Okl., firms have leased some 2,000 acres and have a modern drilling outfit working day and night. The Miles City company is putting down a well just half a mile north of Byron, and an Indiana firm has shipped eight cars of modern drilling machinery to be used in testing some 2,000 acres of leased locations that were located by local people. At the present time not to exceed 25 per cent of the supposed oil district has been located, but it is believed that the great majority of the locators are feeling like millionaires.

Former Governor of Ohio Says Financial Plan is Bad for the Banks. COLUMBUS, O., March 12.—Former Governor Myron T. Herrick today addressed a joint session of the Ohio legislature in answer to the speech of Wm. J. Bryan some time ago before the legislature on the financial question.

HERRICK ATTACKS GUARANTY Former Governor of Ohio Says Financial Plan is Bad for the Banks. "Mr. Bryan says the guaranty of bank deposits would revive the business of the country," said the speaker. "I do not agree with him. The period of depression following a panic is a natural economic phenomenon, and the power of legislation to avert it, I agree with Mr. Bryan that 'the situation is not what it was in 1857.' Then the constant agitation for free coinage of silver drove capital from the country and caused violent liquidation. At that time, Mr. Bryan advocated free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 as a panacea for all financial ills with the same intensity and
