

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM IOWA

COUNCIL BLUFFS

Office 15 Scott Street. Both 'Phones 43.

MINOR MENTION.

Davis, Aruga. Stocker sells carpets. Ed Rogers, Tony Faust beer. Burnt wood supplies. Alexander's. For sale cheap, vacant lot, 500 S. 13th St. Lewis Cutler, funeral director, Phone 72. Wedding Undertaking company, Tel. 28. For rent, unfurnished rooms, 231 Main St. Something doing in the pyrography line this week at Alexander's art store. J. G. Bone will leave today for a several weeks' sojourn at Excelsior Springs, Mo. ENROLL IN WESTERN IOWA COLLEGE, A SCHOOL OF INDUSTRY. Mrs. B. M. Turner of 1008 Avenue A was removed to the Edmundson hospital yesterday to undergo an operation. We have your clothes. Get wise and call up 344, both 'phones. The change will do you good. Bluff City Laundry. J. W. Kelley of Chicago will speak at the Pentecostal mission, 1008 West Broadway, this evening, Friday evening and Sunday evening. William B. Fisher and Ella Neary, both of this city, were married yesterday at the DeLong yesterday afternoon at the mission on Avenue F.

CHANGE OF VENUE FOR BURNS

Famous Mining Suit to Be Tried Next Time at Glenwood.

LOCAL PREJUDICE CHARGED

Court, After Hearing Testimony, Declines Ends of Justice Will Be Furthered by Sending the Case Elsewhere.

The next trial of the famous suit of James Doyle against James F. Burns, former president of the Pastland Gold Mining company, will be held in the district court of Mills county, Iowa. Judge Thornell of Mills county, Iowa, Judge Thornell yesterday afternoon, after a hearing on the application of James F. Burns for a change of venue to some other county, granted the application and after a consultation with the attorneys on both sides the case was ordered transferred to Mills county. In granting the change of venue Judge Thornell said that there was no question but that the case had been discussed in the newspapers and on the streets and in his judgment sentiment favorable to the plaintiff, James Doyle, had been aroused for which the court said it was less talk relative to the cost of the case upon the county and this talk had doubtless reached the jury. Members of the jury had admitted to him, the court said, that they had attended the theater in Omaha on the invitation of a stranger who doubtless was acting in behalf of one of the parties to the suit and there had, in his opinion, been an undoubted attempt on both sides to influence sentiment. Referring to the demonstration and applause at the close of John N. Baldwin's address to the jury on behalf of the plaintiff, Judge Thornell said that he had been criticized by counsel for the defendant, Judge Thornell said he was helpless, as the officers had left the court room on some business. This demonstration had been particularly referred to by Mr. Burns in his examination earlier in the day. "There is no question but that there has been feeling in the past and would be in the future and it is doubtful if matters would be mended even if the jury was locked up. It is in the interests of good government that the case be remanded to some other county," declared Judge Thornell in conclusion.

Basils of the Motion.

James Burns in his examination declared that the newspapers printed biased reports that tended to prejudice the people against him. When asked if the papers were biased at the trial when he secured a verdict in his favor, he said they were not. He said previously, but the bias was there just the same. When asked what he had meant then by saying he had received a fair trial the last time, Mr. Burns said he did not mean anything more than that the verdict was fair by the judge, and that the verdict was in his favor. Mr. Burns laid special stress upon the cheering of the people in the court room at the close of John N. Baldwin's address to the jury, which he declared showed the sentiment of the people against him. Counsel for Doyle made an effort to show by Burns that he was given a fair trial the last time and that as he had not been here since he could not be aware of any change in sentiment, and that there had in fact been none. James Doyle arrived in the city yesterday but did not take any part in the hearing before Judge Thornell. Burns and Doyle and their respective counsel left last evening for Des Moines to attend the hearing before the supreme court on the appeal of Burns from the ruling of Judge Thornell in granting Doyle a new trial.

20% discount this week on pyrography outfits.

C. E. Alexander, 233 B'way.

PYROGRAPHY SPECIALS.

Have you seen the great assortment of novelties we are showing for burnt wood work? See our window display and you will want to buy. 20% discount this week on all pyrography outfits and a free lesson with each set. ALEXANDER'S ART STORE, 233 Broadway.

Good Roads Conference.

The newly appointed good roads committee of the Commercial club yesterday sent out invitations to the trustees and road supervisors of Garner, Lewis, Rockford, Crescent and Kane townships to attend a meeting to be held Monday, March 23, in the rooms of the Commercial club. The meeting is for the purpose of conferring on road work, and if the plan meets with favor a district good roads association will be organized. The townships, the trustees and road supervisors of which have been invited to attend the meeting, are: Garner, Lewis, Rockford, Crescent and Kane townships. The meeting will be entirely informal, and the visiting township officers will be guests of the committee at dinner in the middle of the day at the Neumayer hotel. The net proceeds of the last street fair and carnival, amounting to $2,000, are to be devoted to the betterment of the main roads leading into the city, and the committee will have the disposition of this money. How to expend this money in order to secure the best results will be one of the matters to be discussed at the conference with the township road officers. The good roads committee is composed of Colonel W. F. Baker, chairman; H. W. Binder, C. W. McDonald, H. H. Van Brunt, Charles A. Beno, T. N. Peterson, Victor E. Bender, Spencer Smith, and F. R. Davis.

Claus Moeller Commits Suicide.

Claus Moeller, a retired farmer about 60 years of age, committed suicide by hanging himself in the barn at his home in Walnut, this county, yesterday forenoon. The body was found by his wife when she went to call him in for dinner. The body was hanging from a rope which was attached to a beam in the roof. Moeller was apparently in perfect health and no cause can be assigned for the deed, although it is presumed that he became suddenly mentally deranged. Moeller's brother committed suicide in a similar manner and under the same conditions several years ago on his farm south of Walnut. Moeller arose at the usual hour yesterday morning, ate breakfast without betraying anything out of the ordinary in his conduct, and then went about his work about the place as usual. He is survived by his wife and a son living at home. Coroner Treynor was notified and after learning from Justice of the Peace E. C. Thompson the circumstances surrounding the case decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Postoffice Robber Sentenced.

Pleas GUILTY and is Given Two Years in Prison. The federal grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against William B. Sterling, who, with two companions, was charged with breaking into and robbing the branch postoffice at Highland Park station in Des Moines on November 29 of last year. Sterling at once entered a plea of guilty and Judge McPherson sentenced him to two years' imprisonment in the federal prison at Leavenworth and a $100 fine. Sterling, who claims to be but 19 years of age, but is said by the United States officers to be older, was paroled about a year ago by Governor Cummins from the reformatory at Eldora. His two companions in the robbery were James Hook, who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment at the last term at Creston, and Elmer Johnson, a colored lad, whose trial is set for the May term in Des Moines. The jury also returned an indictment against G. A. Ervin on the charge of breaking into the postoffice at Weston, Pottawattamie county. Ervin pleaded guilty in the last term at Creston, and entering the building in which the postoffice is located and was sentenced to the penitentiary at Fort Madison. Nothing will be done in his case by the United States officers until he is released from the state penitentiary. Judge McPherson announced yesterday that he probably would give all of today to hearing of arguments in the Cut-Off land cases. The petit jurors reported yesterday morning for service, but there will be no trials until Friday.

Save your carpets and keep your home warm with deadening felt-soft heavy paper.

C. Hafer Lumber company, Council Bluffs, Ia.

Dates for Republican Rallies.

A republican rally will be held this evening at the old Delong mission building on East Broadway. Spencer Smith will preside and among the speakers will be Robert R. Wallace, candidate for mayor; C. F. Kimball, candidate for city solicitor; John Olson, candidate for councilman-at-large and Carl Morgan, candidate for councilman from the First ward. Friday evening there will be a republican rally at the Delong building on Avenue F near Tenth street. There will be the same speakers with the addition of C. A. James Doyle, candidate for councilman from the Second ward. A. F. Hollis of the Second precinct of the Second ward has been selected as chairman of the newly organized republican city central committee. Chairman Hollis of the city central committee and Chairman Elmer Smith of the county central committee have been authorized to secure suitable rooms for campaign headquarters. These are the dates for registration for the city election: Thursday, March 19; Friday, March 20 and Saturday March 21. It will pay you to take a look at Bourcier's fine pianos, sold now at astonishingly low prices during their Annual Clearing Sale. 335 Broadway.

New Incorporations.

Articles of incorporation of John G. Woodward & Co. were filed for record yesterday. The incorporators are John G. Woodward of this city and Harry Cartan of Omaha, the business heretofore having been conducted under co-partnership. The capital stock is placed at $20,000 and the business of the corporation will be managed by four directors, who are John G. Woodward, Harry Cartan, G. E. Williams and Carlton H. Woodward. The company is engaged in the manufacture of candy. Articles of incorporation of the Presbyterian church of Des Moines, Ia., have been filed. The church was organized in 1871. The trustees named are Henry P. Wilson and John Lewis, sr., for one year; W. E. Smith and W. C. Miller for two years; O. G. Miller and Samuel Pfister for three years. An amendment to the articles of incorporation of the Iowa Lumber and Box company changing the name of the corporation to that of the Greater Lumber company, was filed for record yesterday. The amendment was signed by C. Hafer, president, and Frank Blank, secretary.

Bourcier sells pianos very cheap at his cash annual clearing sale, 335 Broadway.

Marriage Licenses.

Licenses to wed were issued yesterday to the following: Name and Residence. Age. John C. Sorenson, Council Bluffs, 24. Albeane Goodwin, Council Bluffs, 24. Louis Schmitt, Council Bluffs, 24. Dora Attwille, Omaha, 17. E. Nennemann, Knox, Ia., 28. Grace Birkby, Knox, Ia., 28. Nancy W. Schulte, Champaign, Neb., 21. Lucinda J. Barnes, Reno, Nev., 20. G. M. Butler, Crescent, Ia., 22. Nancy Dingman, Council Bluffs, 22. George W. Moore, Omaha, Neb., 21. Lydia C. Anderson, Hooper, Neb., 21. Harry Swanson, Council Bluffs, 21. Helma Swanson, Council Bluffs, 21. William S. Fisher, Council Bluffs, 21. Ella Neary, Council Bluffs, 21. Victor McCart, McClelland, Ia., 20. Maggie E. Laurin, Oskaloosa, Ia., 20.

Stephen O'Neil Dead.

Stephen O'Neil, who was found unconscious on the street near his home at 207 Franklin avenue about three weeks ago, died yesterday morning without having regained consciousness. His trouble was diagnosed by the attending physician as uremic coma. Deceased was 55 years of age and is survived by his wife, four daughters and five sons. The children are Mrs. J. L. Bates of Salt Lake City; Mrs. M. Haller of Topeka, Kan.; Emma and Nellie O'Neil, living at home; Charles O'Neil of Buffalo, Wyo.; John O'Neil of Valley Falls, Kan.; W. J. O. B. and J. J. O'Neil of this city. Use Bee Want Ads to boost your business.

PAY TRIBUTE TO ALDRICH

Public Funeral Exercises Held in State Historical Building.

HABITUAL CRIMINAL ACT VALID

Berwick Man Arrested on Charge of Horsestealing on the Day He Had Arranged for His Wedding—Elephant Has Toothache.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, March 12.—(Special.)—Iowa paid appropriate honor to the memory of Hon. Charles Aldrich today. The body of Mr. Aldrich was brought to the city this morning and was viewed by many at the Historical building during the forenoon. Services were held in the afternoon. Prominent men from all parts of the state were present. The funeral was held this afternoon, beginning at 1:30 in the State Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his work in the Historical department. Governor A. B. Cummins spoke of the worth of his life to the state as a citizen. Honorary pallbearers were: Ex-Governor William L. Fairbank, Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst, Secretary of State W. C. Hayward, Auditor of State B. F. Carroll, Treasurer of State W. W. Morrow, Attorney General H. W. Byers, State Superintendent John F. Riggs, Judge S. M. Weaver, State Librarian Brigham, Hon. Isaac Brand, Hon. L. F. Andrews and John M. Bralnard. The funeral services were held at the Historical building, which was erected and equipped because of his untiring efforts. Rev. A. L. Frisbie opened the services with prayer and this was followed by a number of short addresses. Hon. Life Young spoke of Mr. Aldrich as a journalist. Hon. Warren Dungan of Chariton spoke of his work in the legislature. Colonel Crossley of Webster City spoke of his service in the civil war as a soldier. Hon. John A. McCall spoke of him as a man of letters. Judge Horace E. Deemer of the supreme court, one of the trustees of the Historical department, spoke of his