

EX-Governor of Wyoming Endorses Pe-ru-na. Other Prominent Americans Give Pe-ru-na Great Credit.

"I have such confidence in prominent personal friends who have used and endorsed Pe-ru-na that I feel justified in assuming that it is a valuable remedy for catarrh and an excellent general tonic."

John W. Hoyt, Ex-Governor of Wyoming.

The Magnificent State Capitol Building of Wyoming.

Gen. W. H. Parsons, Confederate Army, ex-State Senator, Texas. Col. Bailey, of Washington, D. C. Labor Organizations and U. V. L. Col. Patten, of Washington, D. C. Military and Masonic Orders. Hon. R. S. Ryan, of Alaska, Ex-Member English House of Parliament. Congressman Cale, of Alaska, well known on Pacific Slope.

Gen. W. H. Parsons is ex-State Senator and ex-Special Judge of the Supreme Court of Texas, also Brigadier General in Confederate Army. In a recent letter from 925 H. St., N. W., Washington, D. C., this prominent gentleman says: "Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials as to the efficacy of Peru-na in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the grippe with which I have been afflicted for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment with this justly celebrated formula. I feel a decided change for the better after using it only one week. It is especially good in soothing the stomach and has had a decided effect upon my appetite. I therefore feel much encouraged and am on the road to complete restoration."

William Bailey, U. S. St. N. E., Washington, D. C., Post Co. No. 69, United States Veteran Legion, and prominently identified with many of the great labor protective associations in Chicago and New York, and Secretary of one of the largest associations in the former city, had for nearly thirty years been afflicted with kidney trouble. Within a short period he has been persuaded to try Peru-na, and his present healthy condition is attributed to his judicious use of that great remedy. Washington climate is notoriously bad for kidney and liver troubles, yet by a judicious use of the remedy he is now quite cured and in excellent physical condition. This brief statement of facts, without exaggeration or hyperbole, appears to tell the whole story, while the Peru-na Company is authorized to use, if it so chooses, the name of Peru-na as a sense of obligation on my part for its wonderful efficacy."

Col. C. L. Patten, 809 T St., N. W., Washington, D. C., a Lieutenant in the Old Guard, an exclusive organization composed of soldiers of distinction who fought in the civil war, and a Thirty-second degree Mason, writes as follows: "I have used Peru-na, and desire to recommend your remedy as an invigorating spring tonic; also one of the best remedies that I ever tried for coughs, colds and catarrhal complaints." Hon. R. S. Ryan, now residing in Nome, Alaska, was formerly a member of the English House of Parliament, and Secretary of the late Irish patriot, Charles Stewart Parnell. His Washington address is New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C. He writes: "I have used Peru-na and can recommend your remedy as a very efficient cure for colds and catarrhal complaints." Hon. Thomas Cale, elected to Congress from Alaska, is well known in the Pacific slope, where he has resided. His Washington address is 1312 9th St., N. W., Washington, D. C. He writes: "I can cheerfully recommend Peru-na as a very efficient remedy for coughs and colds."

SETTLEMENT WORK MOVES ON

Campaign Pushed by Local Women Promises to End in Success.

THIRD AND WILLIAM AS A SITE

Wherever in That General Vicinity Will Be a Good Place, So the Women Promoting the Enterprise Believe.

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae of which in Omaha Mrs. E. H. Scott is president, believes its plans for the establishment of a settlement house in this city will meet with entire success. Its workers are getting results in their solicitation for funds and moral support and several locations are under consideration. The most popular general location for the work is at the vicinity of Third and William streets, though another may be selected if it offers superior advantages. Mrs. Draper Smith, chairman of the social science department of the Omaha Woman's club; Miss Jane Wallace of the high school, chairman of the committee on sites, and Mrs. C. C. George are leaders in this campaign. Mrs. Smith, perhaps, being the pioneer in the immediate movement in Omaha.

One of the women has called attention to an impression which prevails and which she thinks is entirely erroneous. That is, that this settlement work is adapted and meant only for the largest cities, where squallor and congestion in large tenement districts exist and where there are armies of poor children to be cared for. This is not at all true, she says, and to sustain her argument, she offers the fact that in Des Moines, a city much smaller than Omaha, and where congested tenements are unknown, a settlement house has been maintained for many years and is remarkably successful. She asserts that Omaha, though one of the most prosperous cities in the country, offers a fertile field for this character of work.

Basis and Function of Work. The basis and function of settlement work is set forth at length by George Herbert Mead, professor of philosophy in the University of Chicago. In the course of his remarks, Prof. Mead says: "The social settlement movement dates back to the early seventies and appeared in London as the result of the inspiration and efforts of men in Oxford university—especially Canon Barnett. The movement in these earlier forms was more or less definitely religious or ecclesiastical in its nature. Its later developments have been on the whole distinctly away from this ecclesiastical point of view. The settlement has come to stand by itself in the community as an institution that has its own reasons for existence, its own types of activity, and its own criteria by which to judge them. It is an outgrowth of the home, the church and the university."

DAVIS GOES UNDER GROUND Eighth Ward Councilman on the War-path to Knock Out Subway Ordinances. Dr. J. C. Davis, councilman from the Eighth ward, announced he will institute a rigid investigation and exploration of "Omaha under ground." To this end he will introduce a resolution at the Tuesday evening meeting of the council to repeal the ordinance and the permit giving J. L. Brandegee the right to construct the bridge and subway under Douglas street and to declare the subway the property of the city of Omaha.

ENGINEER WILL NOT YIELD

Refuses to Have Sidewalk Plans Approved by Council.

WILL DROP DEPARTMENT FIRST

Says This is First Step Toward General Demand by Council to Approve All Public Works Plans.

Refusing to comply with the order of the council instructing him to submit plans and specifications for sidewalk building to that body for approval before advertising for bids, Andrew Rosewater, city engineer, says he will send a communication to the council Tuesday evening containing the specifications for approval, that the charter does not so provide. The order for the submission of specifications was passed at the last meeting of the council. "The city council can not make a foot ball of this office," says the engineer. "The law gives us the right to prepare plans and specifications for all public work, and instructs us to do so, but says nothing about the council approving those plans and specifications. That is the duty of this office. The council is not supposed to order, whether it does so or not, that the city clerk do for all it is to do is to order the city clerk to advertise for bids after the specifications are drawn. The specifications are ready; this office has done its work and is through, and while the city clerk has not advertised for bids, that does not concern this office in the least, except that it may mean that there will be no sidewalk building this year."

Just an Entering Wedge. The city engineer further expressed the opinion that the ordering of the submission of sidewalk specifications was simply an "entering wedge" and that next the council would ask to approve specifications for all public work.

The council Tuesday evening passed a new ordinance specifying that asphalt "topping" on residence streets shall be one-half inch thicker and on business streets one inch thicker than heretofore. The city engineer advises that his department will place of such a thickness that asphalt shall be entirely within the province of the engineering department and that that department has whole control of the matter. The statement is made that brick paving contractors could get an ordinance through the council specifying that asphalt shall be of such a thickness that asphalt contractors would be put out of business entirely. Providing the present weather continues the work of repairing the street pavement will begin the latter part of the month, Engineer Rosewater says. The plan is in good condition, the machinery is up in shape, and 100 tons of asphalt are now on hand. The department expects to use 200 tons of asphalt this season.

EUGENE MILLER IS NOT GUILTY

Acquitted in Trial of Forgery Charge—Jury Out Just Twenty Minutes.

Under his plea that he had been tricked by a friend, who gave him the express money order to which he was accused of forging an endorsement, Eugene J. Miller was declared not guilty by a jury in criminal court. Miller was charged with signing the name of F. W. Miller to an order for $1.00, said a friend by the name of A. Holtz had given him the order and he supposed the transaction was a proper one. One of the principal pieces of evidence was a letter signed by the name, A. Holtz, and addressed to Miss Myrtle Merritt, in which the writer says he had played a trick on Miller by passing a money order for $1.00 on him. The state contended that Miller himself wrote the letter, signing Holtz's name to it, and introduced expert hand writing witnesses to support it. But the jury took it at its face value and acquitted Miller after being out twenty minutes.

LIGHT ON PARK BOARD CASE

Decision in Action at South Omaha of Interest in the Present Fight.

In view of the attack on the legality of the present Park board appointed by the mayor a decision of Judge Redick in the case of Wallace against the city of South Omaha, rendered a short time ago, is of timely interest. The South Omaha board is appointed by the district judges and the validity of their appointment was raised in the fight on the park bonds. Judge Redick held the law providing the judges should appoint was not unconstitutional and that the South Omaha board is at least de facto board and its title to the office could not be questioned in a collateral suit. While the Omaha case is not exactly the same as the South Omaha case the decision of the court holding the appointment by the district judges to be good will be considered by the judges in determining their course in the Omaha matter.

ALLEGED MURDERER CAUGHT

Frank O'Brien, Alissa Dougherty. Wanted in St. Louis, Arrested in South Omaha.

The South Omaha police made an important arrest at 7 a. m. Saturday morning. Frank O'Brien, alias Dougherty, was arrested by Jailer William McCraith and Officer Jacob Small on the charge of murder in St. Louis. O'Brien and two other men are said to have killed John Baker, an old man, on the night of March 4 and afterward to have thrown his body into Cahokia creek, where it was found floating next morning. The two companions of O'Brien were arrested in St. Louis, but he made his escape to South Omaha, arriving Saturday morning at 2 o'clock. He is known in South Omaha as Dougherty and has worked for the Armour Packing company. He has been arrested for resisting an officer, and was well known to the South Omaha police and especially to McCraith the jailer. As he was going home from his night duty he saw Dougherty on the street and arrested him on the spot. There is a standing reward of $50 for the arrest of Dougherty. The St. Louis authorities have been notified and will come to South Omaha at once. Dougherty claims he left St. Louis the night before the crime was committed of the evening of March 4. On this he will seek to establish his alibi.

ONE MAN BLAMES TROLLEY

Witness Who Testifies Car Dragged Kicker Boy to West Credited at Inquest. Coroner Davis held an inquest Saturday at 9 a. m. on the body of Eugene Kilmer, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kilmer, 3077 Q street, who was instantly killed when the wheels of motor car No. 10 of the Omaha street car and trolley railway, the motorman, Clarence Postel, testified that a delivery wagon was driving west on the south side of the street at a rapid gait and just before reaching him the driver pulled across the tracks. The boy was hanging on the back endgate and when the trolley struck him he was thrown and he fell off or was shaken off on the rails. The wagon did not slack speed and the name of the driver or his identity could not be learned. Several other witnesses corroborated the story of the motorman and only one (Edly) disagreed, Morris Conroy of South Twenty-seventh street. He said the car dragged the boy 200 feet before it was stopped. He said there was no wagon on the street and that the motorman made no effort to stop and that the signal was given for the stop from the rear platform. The jury paid no attention to the evidence he offered, but brought in a verdict stating simply that the boy came to his death under the wheels of the car and offered no recommendations.

How to Stop Pimples

In Five Days You Can Get Rid of All Skin Eruptions by the New Calcium Sulphide Wafers.

Stranded From Red Tape Troops Enroute to Fort Riley Run Out of Provisions in Omaha. A detachment of five cavalry recruits for the regular army from Fort Sheridan, Ill., to Fort Riley, Kan., were stranded in Omaha Saturday morning and had to appeal to army headquarters for sufficient sustenance to enable them to reach their destination. The detachment was routed from Chicago to Fort Riley by way of Omaha over the Northwestern and Union Pacific, which involved by routing at least a three days' trip. The men were provided with sustenance for but a day and a half and through the routing required ran out of food twelve hours before reaching Omaha. While the detachment was provisioned for the shortest route between Chicago and Fort Riley, which would have naturally been by way of Kansas City and then direct to Fort Riley, it was compelled by the red tape regulations of the army transportation authorities to go by the longest route, via Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice and Manhattan and thence eastward again to Fort Riley. The stranded recruits were furnished with sufficient subsistence by army headquarters on Omaha Saturday morning and sent on their way.

INSURGENTS EASY WINNERS

So Says F. M. Steere of South Dakota Republican State Executive Committee. F. M. Steere of Washington Springs, S. D., and member of the republican state executive committee of that state, is in Omaha. Mr. Steere is the law partner of R. F. Vessey of Washington Springs, who is the republican candidate for governor of South Dakota, and he emphatically denies that the "insurgents" have any show of a chance for victory. Mr. Steere is one of the leaders of the "insurgents" and said, when shown the telegram from Aberdeen claiming the stalwarts have won: "There isn't the slightest foundation for the report of the stalwarts that they have or will win out. Their alleged indications are all moonshine. The insurgents have a clear majority of forty-three in the convention. The stalwarts have but 23 delegates and they have combated their very advantage ground to a finish. The insurgents have 36 delegates in the convention, which gives us a nice working majority. We are going to land the nomination of R. F. Vessey for governor, too, in the direct primaries, which will be in June."
