LITTLE FOR CONVENTIONS

Nothing But Adoption of Platform for Either Body to Do.

BOTH OF DOCUMENTS ARE LONG

Candidates of Both Parties Pledged to Municipal Ownership of Water Works—Republicans for Taxation of Railroad Terminals.

Having practically no other business to transact, both the republican and democratic city conventions held Saturday morning in the north and south court rooms, respectively, of the county court house, adopted lengthy platforms, in both of which municipal ownership of the water works is favored.

The republican gathering was called to order by A. F. Hollis, chairman of the city central committee, who named Spencer Smith as temporary chairman, W. J. Lovett as secretary and J. H. Thompson as clerk. In a brief address Mr. Smith called upon the members of the convention and every member of the republican party to use their best efforts to secure the election of all the candidates on the party ticket at the forthcoming election.

The usual committee on credentials was dispensed with and the following were appointed as the committee on resolutions: Charles M. Earl, W. J. Lovett, Marvin Schmidt, Ed Carr, Ed Ford and Harry Stewart.

The appointment of A. F. Hollis as chairman of the city central committee was ratified by the convention. The democratic convention which was held in the south court room, was called to order by City Chairman J. J. Hughes, who named Harry J. Robertson as temporary chairman, Leo Evans as called upon to act as secretary.

Those were appointed as the committee on resolutions: M. F. Rohrer, Herman Schurz and C. M. Crispin. While the committee was in session the republican talks were made by Thomas Maloney, the party's candidate for mayor; Mayor Macrae, S. E. Wadsworth and Fremont Baumgart.

In his address Mr. Maloney advocated the purchase of the city water engine pending the solution of the water works question. Both conventions adjourned at noon.

City's Financial Statement.

The report of City Auditor McAnaney for the month of February, completed yesterday, shows that of the $64,730 appropriated for maintenance of the several municipal departments which are dependent upon the general fund there remains but $5,652.63. While this amount, it is said, will be sufficient to carry over the municipal machinery until the next fiscal year, the report of the city auditor is at variance with the statement of Comptroller Fleming, chairman of the finance committee, that the committee expected a balance of $7,000 in the general fund at the close of the fiscal year to help out on the appropriations for carry over.

The portion of the city auditor's report showing the amounts appropriated for the several departments and the amounts used on March 1 follows:

Department	Appropriation	Used
Salaries	$49,750	$49,750
Police department	22,500	22,500
Streets and alleys	20,000	20,000
Fire department	2,500	2,500
Fire and police telegraph	2,000	2,000
Engineers' department	4,750	4,750
Printing and supplies	1,500	1,500
Electricity	1,500	1,500
City hall	1,500	1,500
Health department	1,500	1,500
Public works	1,500	1,500

GOVERNOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Seventh District Convention Meets and Elects Progressive Delegates to the Chicago Convention—No Contest Materializes.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, March 14.—(Special Telegram)—Iowa and Nebraska joined hands today in an effort to promote the great corn exposition now on foot in the Southwestern States. The Omaha Corn Show is interested in the fact that Council Bluffs and Omaha are jointly backing this great enterprise, and because Iowa has a dominant interest in corn, which product it grows more than any other state.

In a proclamation Governor A. B. Cummings says: "The development of agricultural science during the last decade is the most remarkable characteristic of the times. I believe the growth of knowledge with respect to agriculture has in this period added more to the material wealth of the country than has resulted from any other branch of learning and the fortunate thing is that not only has it added wealth, but it has also added wonderfully beautiful and clothed with a new interest."

In order to elicit the co-operation of the people of Iowa and to insure an adequate exhibition of Iowa corn and other cereals at this national exposition, of which J. Wilkes Jones is the general manager, the following commission of prominent business, farming and agricultural interests was appointed: Prof. F. G. Holden, chairman, representing the Iowa State college; Charles A. Cameron, president of the Iowa state fair; John Cowan, State Board of Control; Henry Wallace of the Wallace Farmer; E. E. Fawell, editor of Successful Farming; James Atkinson, editor of the Iowa Homestead; A. M. Turner, president of the Iowa Corn Growers' association; Melborn McFarlin, George White and F. H. Klipping. This commission and proclamation are the results of a visit to Des Moines of J. Wilkes Jones, general manager of the National Corn exposition, and Prof. F. G. Holden.

Seventh District Convention.
The Seventh district republican convention met at 2:30 and Henry Shankland of this city was announced by Chairman Mose Cohen of the district central committee as temporary chairman.

The convention passed resolutions endorsing the administration of President Roosevelt in glowing terms, as having saved the nation "at the close of a long period of domestic anarchy, and which were designed to prevent the republic and degrade the government into a mere agency of entrenched selfishness."

The candidate of Taft for president was endorsed and the Ohio platform, in its entirety, as meeting his views. The resolutions further state that the great production of the west, which is largely mutual with other sections, have well defined legislative requirements and should have in both houses of congress men who, while broad enough to care for the entire nation, are by conviction devoted to the interests of Iowa. The resolutions further state that Iowa, as a result of the unwilling legislators, and for these reasons endorsed the candidacy of Governor Cummins for senator.
