Charge of Embroidering—Arthur Larson, wanted in Council Bluffs on the charge of embroidering $150, was arrested by Detective Devereaux and Heitfeld of the Omaha force Friday. He will be taken back as soon as papers can be made out. Veteran Firemen's Picnic—The annual picnic of the Veteran Firemen's association of Omaha will be held at Krug park Wednesday, August 7. A number of prize contests will be given and an interesting program is being arranged. Officers Pursue Car Thieves—It has been rumored that a gang of freight car thieves which has been operating in Kenosha, Wis., is on the way to Omaha, with detectives in pursuit. If they are landed in this city, however, the police have heard nothing of it, and the Wisconsin officers have not been seen. Thirty-Thousand-Dollar Permit—Permit has been issued for the erection of a brick and stone building by the Merchants National bank in the rear of its present building on Thirteenth street. The building will be four stories and basement, 36x43 feet. J. E. Dietrich is the architect and Parsons & Klene the contractors. The price is given at $30,000. Gas Company Comes to Time—Test of gas by the gas commission city Thursday shows that the company responded to his notice of Wednesday by putting enough additional heat into the gas to bring it up to slightly more than 60 thermal units, it having been less than that at the Wednesday test. The commissioner is in correspondence with a Cleveland man. Robbers Fooled on Second Visit—Harmon & Welch, coal dealers, who were robbed at 11:35 by a hold-up night man Wednesday, were the victims of thieves again Thursday night. The burglars had evidently neglected to read the papers or they would have known that the safe was empty. They broke off the combination with a chisel and then found that the safe had not been locked and contained not a cent. Picnic of Yeomen—The annual picnic of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, in which the Omaha and Henderson home-steads of Omaha and the Polakian and Frenchy's home-steads of South Omaha will take part, will be held at Hancock park Saturday, beginning at 2 o'clock. Supper will be eaten at 6:30 and a program will be given, the speaker being Elmer E. Deel of Des Moines, assistant grand foreman, and G. B. Chestnut, Nebraska state manager. Scheme to Collect Board Bill—Bookman Moffat of Waterloo, Ia., was arrested in that city by Detective Danohoe of Omaha Wednesday on the complaint of Mrs. Anna Eastman and brought back to face a charge of grand larceny. Mrs. Eastman admits that Moffat robbed her of $75, but the police department has become convinced by an examination of the accused that the complaint is using an effective method of collecting a back board bill. Sale of Refunding Bonds—At the sale of refunding bonds held by the city Thursday, E. H. Rollins & Son of Chicago were the successful bidders, taking the entire issue of $75,000. These bonds were to refund $100,000 sewer bonds, $75,000 paving bonds and $20,000 renewal bonds. The new issue is for twenty years and bears 4 1/2 per cent interest. The bid of the successful company was $102.57, or a premium of $10.57 on the entire amount. This premium will bring the actual rate of interest down to 4.26 per cent. Year for Wedding Trouser Thief—One year in the penitentiary for stealing the wedding trousers of Jamin B. Root was the punishment given to William Mathieson by Judge Troup Friday morning. Last spring Mathieson, because of the farm residence of Falconer Gifford and stole the

ITCHING PIMPLES TORTURE 5 BOYS Arms and Hands Affected—Could Not Sleep Because of Itching—Suffered for Two Months Until Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and ONE BOX OF CUTICURA CURED THEM ALL

"I have five boys, from five to eleven years of age, who were affected some time last winter by some kind of skin disease. The worst case of the boys was around the arms and hands, where small pimples formed and itched. They suffered for two months so that they could not sleep at night. I noticed an advertisement about the Cuticura Remedies and we made a trial of one or two cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment which gave great satisfaction. I washed their bodies with Cuticura Soap and then applied Cuticura Ointment every other day. Since then they have all been healthy. A. E. Carlson, Norcross, Travers Co., Minn., Nov. 26 and Dec. 25, 1906."

WORST ECZEMA Baffled Medical Treatment For a Year, Cured by Cuticura.

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black spots all over my face and a few on my body, which produced a severe itching irritation and which caused me a great deal of suffering. I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of ——. After a thorough examination of the disease, the doctor announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for a year, but their treatment did me no good. Finally, I became desperate and decided to discontinue their services. My husband purchased a couple of cakes of Cuticura Remedies, which entirely stopped the breaking out. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every spot was entirely gone and the affected parts left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema for three years. Mrs. L. E. Hodge, 640 Jones Ave., Selma, Ala., Oct. 25, '05."

VALUE OF DOCTOR'S DIPLOMA

Question Involved in Suit Against Express Company for Loss of Physician's Sheepskin. How much money value does a physician's diploma represent provided a duplicate cannot be obtained? Dr. George H. Whiteside, a physician with an office at 23 South Fifteenth street, answers this question in a suit against the Adams Express company and the members of the State Board of Health, in which he demands $25,000 for the loss of the sheepskin granted him by the medical department of Harvard in 1882. The petition was filed Friday morning in district court by John G. Yeiser, Whiteside's attorney. Several years ago Whiteside sent his diploma to the State Board of Health for registration purposes. August 18, 1902, the board sent it back to him by Adams' express. He says it was lost in transit. The petition declares Harvard is one of the greatest colleges in the world and grants diplomas strictly upon merit and not for payment of tuition or other fees. It also asserts that Harvard will not issue duplicate diplomas and the loss of the document will greatly hamper Whiteside in his practice in Nebraska and will prevent his practicing in other states. Dr. Benjamin F. Bailey, Dr. George H. Braas, Dr. W. T. Johnson and Dr. A. B. Somers are the members of the state board who are made defendants with the express company. Quick Shine Shoe Polish contains no turpentine or acids, gives a satin finish and will rub off on the clothing.

BELLEVUE ASSEMBLY IS OPEN

No Creed or Party Dominates, Says President Wadsworth. GOVERNOR HANLEY FIRST BIG GUN Chief Executive of Indiana Will Address the Assembly Saturday Afternoon—Arrangements Indicate Success.

The Bellevue assembly is "on." It began at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the big tent on the pretty grounds in "beautiful Bellevue." The work of those in charge during the last few weeks has done wonders and the visitor to the grounds is surprised at the completeness of the arrangements for the comfort of visitors and for those camping there. The grounds proper are located in Washington park, a beautiful stretch of meadow and shaded grove a block from the car line. This space includes some twelve acres and has been enclosed with a high wire fence. The general headquarters are in a frame building on the north side of the enclosed space. Here are located the ticket office, turnstiles, postoffice and information bureau. The tent in which the sessions will be held accommodates 3,000 persons. It is located a few yards to the north of the church. The latter is also within the enclosure and will be used for the Sunday school and Bible classes. These will start next Monday morning and will be held each morning after that. The Sunday school hours are 9 and 10 a. m. and the Bible study hour is 11 a. m. The Sunday school work will be in charge of E. C. Knapp of the Hartford (Conn.) School of Religious Pedagogy. The Bible study next Monday and Tuesday will be led by Dr. D. E. Jenkins of the Omaha Theological Seminary. He will use the blackboard method. Opening of the Assembly. The Bellevue band furnished music for the opening session of the assembly Friday afternoon. Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth, president of Bellevue college and also of the assembly, delivered the introductory address.

MARKET HOUSE IS DOOMED

Capitol Avenue Structure to Be Sold at Auction. HIGHEST BIDDER MUST MOVE IT Plan Decided on by Mayor and Some Members of the City Council on Advice of the City Attorney. The doom of the Capitol avenue market house is sealed if the plan agreed upon between the mayor and some of the members of the city council is carried out. Under this plan the building will be advertised for sale to the highest bidder, who will be required to remove it from its present location as soon as possible and the street will then be placed in its former condition. This decision was reached after long conferences, during which the opinion of the legal department was secured on a number of phases of the question. Mayor Dahlman desired to convert the building into a public bath house and some members of the council desired to rent it to the person who would pay the best rent until such time as it could be used for the purpose for which it was intended. Both of these plans were declared impossible by the city attorney, who insisted that under the terms of the law under which the house was built it could only be used as a market house and that any other use might entail lawsuits upon the city and members of the council who authorized such use. The building cost about $22,000 and since its completion about three years ago has been of no practical use. Farmers and truck gardeners absolutely refused to sell vegetables in the house and with these features absent merchants would not rent stalls. The house was the cause of considerable friction between the city authorities and members of the Retail Grocers' association, who fought the idea of a market house, alleging that it would injure the business of members, since a large part of the vegetables used in Omaha would be purchased direct from growers at the market. The association took the matter up with the growers and it was this which caused the growers to boycott the market house. J. C. Root, a milk dealer from Millard, entered the police station Thursday afternoon, barefoot, coatless and hatless and excited. A strange man, whose name he had never learned, had stolen a team of horses from him. Mr. Root drives to Omaha every morning with a milk wagon drawn by a four-horse team, and Thursday he hired this stranger to drive for him. On his first trip Mr. Root followed him in a light buggy to show him the way, but when about half the distance was covered he saw that his new driver was not making very fast progress, so he took the wagon and put the man back in the buggy. His hat, coat and shoes, which he had doffed, he also left in the buggy when he reached Twentieth and Farnam streets. He looked back and saw the buggy following, but he turned there, and when he looked again it was gone. After looking around a while he reported it to the station.

CATTLE KILLED BY NIER

Stock Said to Be So Destroyed in Southern Part of Sheridan County. A postal card was received at the office of the United States district attorney Friday morning stating that a reward of $2,000 was offered for the arrest and conviction of parties who poisoned a number of cattle belonging to J. W. Cameron of Blinham, in southern Sheridan county. The card conveys no further information relative to the poisoning of the cattle. The matter does not come within the province of the United States courts and hence no action can be taken by the district attorney. "I do not know anything about this particular case of cattle poisoning," said Judge A. W. Crites of Chadron, "but I have heard there has been some character of cattle poisoning in southern Sheridan county recently, but I do not know the extent of it. The method of poisoning cattle is by scattering nitre over the grass, which decays the cattle" into a belief that it may be said, "Nitre is fatal to cattle, and a few pounds of it can destroy a big herd. The practice of poisoning cattle in this way has been carried on at intervals in the cattle country for years, but is less frequent now than formerly. Nitre is also peculiarly fatal to sheep and is often used for their destruction by enemies of the sheep men. I do not know that the poisoning case of which Mr. Cameron complains is from nitre poisoning, but such is probably true; as there is very little loco weed in that part of the state."
