MISSOURI PACIFIC IS SUFD Atchison Elevator Company Asks $54,419 Damages Because of

Alleged Discrimination. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.-A proceeding instituted here before the Interstate Commerce commission by the S. R. Washer Grain company of Atchison, Kan., against the Missouri Pacific railway involves charges of discrimination and unfair regulations respecting the operation of grain elevators along defendant's line. By an arrangement with the defendant the grain company erected an elevator at Atchiscs. the alleged understanding being that the road would give that elevator a fair share of its business. Instead, however, as alleged in the complaint, the defendant, owning elevators at Kansas City, Leavenworth and Coffeyville, operated them free of charge, yet refused to perform such free service for the complainant at Atchison, thus discriminating against the Washer company in an unreasonable and unlawful manner and seriously damaging its business. The complainants ask damages in the sum of $54,419 and reasonable attorney's fees, and requests the commission to make such regulations regarding elevator service as will insure to the Washer Grain company "a square deal."
