Omnhans Outbat Ducklings, but Make Errors, While Visitors' Errorless Playing, Assisted by Decisions of Conahan, Wins.

Omaha was forced to lose another extra inning game to Lincoln Tuesday, when, after fourteen innings of ups and downs, the Holmes family were winners by the score of 4 to 2. It was all fooliahness to lose that game Tuesday, but when the fates and the umpire are against a team which is making errors it is pretty hard sledding. In the fourteen long innings the loss of the same results and the loss of the same results and the loss of the same results are results. The same results are results and the same results are results and the same results are results. The same results are results and the same results are results and the same results are results. The same results are results and the same results are results and the same results are results and the same results are results. The results are results. The results are results. The results are r Bryantics hit Sanders safely but seven times, but they hit at opportune times, the Rourke family. Lincoln played an errorless game, which was largely responsible for the lack of runs on the part of the Omaha team, for Omaha hit the ball harder than did Lincoln.

War Sanders not only pitched a splendid game, but he also fielded well and was responsible for everyone of the runs Omaha made, as it was his little bat which drove them bome-two the first time and one the second. He made three hits altegether, but one was wasted, as neither Belden nor Gonding could boost him around. Shorty was also quite active with the stick and made two hits, one a double.

The umpire was just as rotten as he was the day before and a couple of his rank decisions, if different, might have changed the tide of battle before the extra inning session began. At the opening of the seventh inning Graham, the first man up, hit the ball down the first base line for a double, clearly on fair ground, but the Empire said nay-it might give Omaha a shance to win.

Omaha's Poor Start.

Omaha should have annexed a few runs in the first inning, but did not. Belden opened with a single und Gonding followed with a double, but there it all ended. Belden being doubled up at the home plate on an attempt to come home on Autrey's fly to Davidson. Two runs were made in the second inning by hitting out the ball. Graham and Austin singled and were advanced a base by LeBrand's infield out, and came home on War Sanders' single.

Lincoln tied the soore in the fourth inning on LeBrand's error and two singles and a double. They then went one to the good in the fifth inning without making a hit. With two out, Davidson hit a grounder to Austin, who gobbled the ball up all right, but threw it too high for LeBrand to reach. Davidson then stole second and Gending made the throw to catch him, but the runner was in the way of the 4. Struck out: By Williams, 3; by Adams, ball and Graham muffed it. It rolled out ance: 800. Omaha tied the score again in the sevlegs. With two out in the last half of the fourteenth Graham walked, but Austin soon was retired and the crowd came home. The same teams this afternoon. The score:

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 20.—Denver lost the fourth straight in Sioux City this afternoon, the locals taking the game by a score of 7 to 2. Opportune hitting was the secret of the home team's success while the Teddy Bears were wholly unable to hit Williams when they had chances to score. Usually, with two out, the Denvers began hitting, but just when they filled the bases the batter would be an easy out. Near scores were easy for the Cubs, but they could not make good over the entire circuit, although they outhit the Sioux.
