He Sat It Out-This observer was "put in a hole" on Sunday evening as a reward for going to church. Now, we had not been to church for many moons, but decided to go last Sunday evening at the very urgent solicitation of our better half, and did, to hear Rev. Mr. McKee preach on the matter of saloon violation of the statutes and Sunday base ball. We like to hear opinions as to all public matters and were interested. The reverend gentleman very carnestly discussed and denounced the violations of law by our citizens and we listened in stience. He spoke in no uncertain tones as to Sunday base ball, Sunday fishing, shaking dice and of screens in the salcons. At the close he called upon all those who opposed all such and who would do all possible to uphold the law to stand up. The congregation arose en masse except Sheriff Van Housen, who was holding a sleeping child, and this writer. We saw the sheriff sitting and our better half said that when she stood up she looked all about and was sure the only ones sitting were the aforementioned. Well to be the only one not rising rather puts a fellow out prominently before the public and is a little embarrassing, especially when one is not used to going to church, but then, we prefer to be thus singled out than to arise and be both a liar and a hypocrite, as would have been the case. Such a predicament can be avoided easily by not getting into a place where you get caught, This writer sees no harm in a person going out fishing on Sunday, considers that Sunday base ball is not so bad as many things done regularly on Sunday, and as long as no one is disturbed by it that prosecution is a poor remedy; shakes dice and expects to, and considers that screens in saloons are very good things to have. With those views, what was a fellow to do when called upon? Despising a liar and a hypocrite, what was to be done? Why, sit still and let the good church people look at you. was all that could be done. Well, that was a horse on us.-Schuyler Free Lance.

Get what you ask for.

There are many reasons why you ask for advertised articles, but absolutely none why you should let a substituting dealer palm off something which he claims to be 'just as good" or "better" es "the same thing" as the article you requested.

The advertised article must of necessity be of the highest quality, otherwise it could not be successfully sold and the advertising continued.

The buying public recognizes the superior quality of adver-tised articles. The substitutor realizes that fact and trice to sell' inferior goods on the advertiser a reputation.
