Barber Shop Scorched—A small fire about midnight did a trifling amount of damage to M. Siedler's barber shop, 1309 Dodge street.

Divorce for Non-support—Olive M. O'Neill has started suit in district court for a divorce from Thomas J. O'Neill. She charges non-support.

Our Stock of Fall and winter woollens is complete. An order placed now may be filled at your convenience. Guckert & McDonald, 317 S. 14th.

The cheapest building association money in Omaha is to be had of the Conservative, 1614 Harney street. Interest rate 60 cents per $100 per month.

Offers Her No Support—Bertha D. S. Scott declares in her petition for divorce that Oliver M. has not offered her any support since the winter of 1905. Hence she wants the bonds of matrimony severed.

Application in Bankruptcy—Charles King, a motorman of Omaha, has filed his voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court. He schedules his liabilities at $23.25 and his assets at $10.

Chicken Thieves Are Busy—Chicken thieves have been busy again in the north part of town. Wednesday night C. H. Southman of 323 Burtis street lost ten fat hens and Thursday night R. H. Hargadine of 408 Larimore avenue was robbed of forty chickens.

Verdict of Accidental Death—An inquest was held by Coroner Bralley Friday morning over the body of the unidentified man who was killed at Forty-second and Patrick avenue by a Belt Line train at 9 o'clock Friday morning. The verdict was accidental death and no blame was attached to anyone.

Overall Peddler Gets Two Months—Jim Ross of Blair, who was arrested Wednesday evening with twenty-four pairs of overalls in his possession, was sentenced to sixty days in jail by Judge Alsted Friday morning. The overalls were stolen from the King-Orham company at 5th and South Eleventh street.

Dairymen Are Fined—Edward Erickson of Florence Lake and John Peterson of Forty-second and Sprague, dairymen, were fined $5 and costs each in police court Friday morning for carrying short measures. They asserted in defense that they used the quart cans just as they were sold to them by the hardware dealers.

Manna Buy Garlow Yards—N. D. Mann & Sons have bought from Joseph Garlow his coal, feed, real estate and fire insurance business in South Omaha. This includes the coal yards, covering two lots at Twenty-eighth and I streets. The consideration was $10,000. Mr. Garlow had the property only since July 9, having bought it from Christie Bros. on that date.

Trustee in Bankruptcy Hearing—A hearing in the matter of Herbert S. Daniel, trustee in bankruptcy for the Standard Beet Sugar company, was had before Judge W. H. Munger in the United States district court Friday morning. The hearing is merely on the matter of accounting and but perfunctory in character, as is required by law.

Quick Auto Run from Lincoln—Herman B. Petersen of the Merchants hotel party made the trip from Lincoln, seventy-seven miles, by automobile Thursday evening in a little less than four hours. They returned by way of Valley, averaging twenty miles per hour. The run would have been made in less time but for bad roads, through sand and mud, in the Platte bottoms near Valley.

Burglars Mutilate House—Burglars who entered the residence of P. C. Healey, 125 South Thirty-fifth street, Thursday night either were not looking for valuables or were frightened away before they had a chance to pocket any. Before they left they cut the telephone and electric light wires and destroyed some of the furniture. As far as could be found nothing of any value was taken.

General Fight on Saloon—Otis Robinson and George Williams of Kansas City got into a fight Thursday night at Finnegan's saloon, 307 South Eleventh street, and managed to involve everybody else in reach in the same trouble. Someone hit Williams over the head with a beer schooner and Dr. Harris of the police station took several pieces of glass out of his scalp when the two were arrested. They were each fined $1 and costs in court Friday morning.

Gift to Mayor Jim—Mayor Dahlman Friday received a beautiful insignia of the Order of Eagles in the form of a watch chain, a gift from Ed N. Scott of Buffalo, Wyo., an old friend. The chain consists of a solid gold eagle suspended from the center of a crescent formed by two eagles' talons. The talons were taken from a bird shot by Mr. Scott. On the back is inscribed the words, "Ed N. Scott to James C. Dahlman." Mr. Scott is a deputy sheriff at Buffalo.

Dean Brothers to Operate Her Grand
P. E. Her expects a visit from Dean brothers of Kansas City to Omaha in a few days and then final arrangements will be made for opening the Her Grand hotel, which has been vacant since Rome Miller moved into the new Roman hotel. The Her Grand is being renovated throughout. It will be managed by Samuel Campbell, formerly manager of the Savoy hotel in Kansas City. The date of opening has not yet been determined.

Boys Break Into Store—The grocery store of Fred Ross at 2806 Leavenworth street was broken into Thursday night, probably by boys, and some small change taken. H. Phillips of 213 Cumby street was another grocer who suffered Thursday evening. A boy was left in charge of the store and while he was absent for a short time delivering some provisions at a nearby beer shop a sneak thief entered the store and took the cash register out into the back yard and emptied it. He got about $1.

More Liquor Than Dope—Grace Chertin of Thirteenth and Chicago streets gave the police considerable trouble Wednesday evening by taking a dose of laudanum and loosing herself. The drug store where she bought the drug notified the police surgeon and she was found in an unconscious condition in an alley. A careful diagnosis demonstrated that she was suffering more from an overdose of liquor than from laudanum and Judge Alsted gave her sixty days in jail Friday morning.

Wife Refuses to Come West—Because Mrs. Exilda D. Holman of Springfield, Mass., refused to come west with her husband, Edgar F. Holman, he has begun suit in district court for divorce. They were married in Springfield June 19, 1905, and shortly afterward he came west for the purpose of bettering his condition. He says she refused to come with him or to share the home he wanted to establish here, though he offered her money to pay her transportation expenses. He charges her with abandonment.

King Edward Kills Bull Dog—People happening around Twelfth and Farnam streets Thursday afternoon were treated to a real dog fight, which was started because of swift execution on the part of King Edward, the beautiful imported greyhound belonging to Julius S. Cooley. As King Edward and the judge were walking down the street the dog was attacked by two fighting bull dogs. He killed one of the dogs and soon made the other a subject for the hospital. King Edward is slightly the worse for the encounter, but will be out in a couple of days.

Missionary Sends for Hedgepeth—Prison authorities at the Jefferson City (Mo.) penitentiary want Marion Hedgepeth, the noted criminal arrested here a few days ago, and will send for him. He still has eleven years of a twenty-five-year sentence to serve there and he will be taken back at once. He is now in Council Bluffs, where he is charged with a burglary. The Missouri authorities communicated with the police department over the long-distance telephone Friday. They also asked for a description of W. P. Jackson, who was arrested with Hedgepeth. They think he may be wanted in Missouri also.

More Postoffice Clerks Wanted—The civil service bureau is experiencing no end of difficulty in securing a sufficient number of clerks for the Postoffice department and a special examination has been ordered for October 6, at Omaha, to secure a new list of eligibles. The salaries range from $90 to $1,300, according to grade. This examination will be for males only. The age limit is from 18 to 45 years. Applications for this examination must be made to Miss Viola Coffin, clerk of the local civil service examining board at the Omaha postoffice, and must be properly executed and filed by September 30.

PLANS FOR STATE SOCIETIES

Pennsylvanians to Have Halloween Party and Oleana to Elect Officers.

The Pennsylvania society of Omaha met Thursday evening at the office of W. G. Shriver in the New York City building. The object of the meeting was to consider the propriety of holding the annual picnic of the society at one of the parks before the close of the warm season. It was decided, however, that owing to the lateness of the season and the prospect of cooler weather, it would be better to put the energies of the society into a Halloween party at some one of the big halls. The announcement of the committees for the Halloween, with the general program, will be made in a few days. The intention is to make the affair a most elaborate one and it will be along the lines of good, old-fashioned Pennsylvania hospitality and cheer.

The Ohio society met Thursday evening at the Barrett-Johnson company's establishment, 1507 Farnam street, for the ostensible purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The special committee which was named at the previous meeting submitted a partial report upon names for the presidency of the society. However, owing to the wish to confer further with the eligible for the position, the matter was put over for another meeting to be held next Thursday evening. One or two good names were suggested, but the certainty of their acceptance was not assured, and it was thought best to have a further conference and to decide upon the matter at a more largely attended meeting, which it is hoped to secure for the same place next week.

Volunteer Clothing Co.'s Opening.
The Volunteer Clothing company announces in this issue their fall opening. This company was for five years proprietors of the clothing department of the Bennett company and recently rented the room next to Charles E. Black, the latter, at 107 South 16th street, and have fitted and stocked up one of the neatest exclusive clothing stores in the city. They make a specialty of men's clothes, carrying such well known makes as L. Adler Iron & Co.'s fine goods, which range in price from $15 to $50. A man ought to think about his clothes before buying them, so as not to have to think about them when he wears them. We ask you to think about the advantages plainly discernible in every feature of our splendid suits. We believe you'll appreciate them. At least favor us with a call Saturday and take a look.

C. E. GOODMAN LAID AT REST

Buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Where Many Friends Go to Mourn.

The funeral services of C. E. Goodman of the Omaha Surgical company, who died Tuesday were held Friday afternoon at the residence, 183 Stanford Circle, Rev. J. E. Hummon of the Kountze Memorial Lutheran church officiated and the father-in-law of the deceased, Rev. W. A. Lile, who was formerly pastor of the church, assisted. The pallbearers were H. G. Jackson, Al Powell, W. F. Norman, E. N. Fisk, Louis Boyesen and E. A. French. Interment was at Forest Lawn cemetery.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

First of Material Arrives for Cells in the New City Jail.

TO PUSH WORK FROM NOW ON

President of the Board of Education Denies that Any of the School Buildings Are Overcrowded at Present.

The city officials have expressed some satisfaction on the arrival of a consignment of the long-expected steel work of the city jail building. The Champion Iron works have given as the cause of the long delay the fact that the plans and specifications were held up a month by the architect before they could proceed with the work. By that time numerous orders went in in advance of the South Omaha work and put it so much the farther behind. The first of the cell steel arrived and was hauled to the building yesterday. An expert will be on hand today or tomorrow to put the cells in place. By the time this is done and the heating apparatus in order the council probably will have had time to purchase the necessary furniture for the offices. In about two months at the best the building will be ready for occupancy.

Inspecting Sources of Food.
Mrs. MacMurphy of the pure food commission was in South Omaha yesterday looking into the workings of a factory that produces food products and especially the slaughter of animals not at present under federal inspection. She intimated that she found many things which she will call to the attention of her chief. She said: "Of course, the commission is new and the conditions are new and we expect to bring matters to a system as soon as possible. At present we are seeking information and prefer to let authentic statements come through the head of our commission."

Schools Not Overcrowded.
President C. M. Schindler of the Board of Education is anxious to correct an impression which may exist in the minds of certain patrons of the city schools, that unnecessary crowding exists in any of the grades of the South Omaha schools. The school having the largest average number in any grade is the Lincoln school, where the average is thirty-five to forty. No grade in the city has seventy pupils under one instructor. As to the introduction of an eighth grade at Highland and West Side, it will be done as soon as the number of pupils in those schools requiring the work will warrant the board in employing additional teachers. Last year there were not more than eleven to sixteen pupils in either place who would have taken the work. As to the hardship worked on pupils in going the few blocks to the school having the eighth grade, such a condition can hardly be compared to the task required of the pupils in the high school, who must walk from any part of the city to the building. Mr. Schindler said that if the eighth grades were insisted on by the superintendent had the authority to combine the smaller number in the eighth with the seventh grade under the present teaching force.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the many kind favors shown us in the death of our beloved wife and mother; also for many flowers sent by the Omaha Packing company and by friends. JAKE STONESTREET AND DAUGHTER.

The Union Pacific reported that two cars had been derailed Wednesday night and a quantity of dry goods and meat taken.
R. J. Hallam reported to the police the loss of a watch during the fire which burned Isaac Levy's stables Wednesday evening.
Dr. C. D. Lowe of Fondleton, Ore., is visiting in the city on his way east. He is to attend the Ohio State university at Columbus this year.
Miss Ode Barry underwent a critical operation for appendicitis at the Omaha general hospital yesterday morning. She is thought to be safely past the critical point and best hopes are entertained of her recovery.

The marriage of James Francis O'Hern and Miss Mable Ida Thomas took place last Tuesday in St. Patrick's church in Omaha. Miss Thomas was a teacher in the South Omaha schools and Mr. O'Hern is a foreman at Armour & Co's packing house. They will be at home after October 1 in the Scargo block.

There's no chance for an argument as to whether The Bee want ads pay or not. They always pay if they ask anything consistent. There are so many people in Omaha that somebody is qualified to fill any sort of a want. If you want to find a position or somebody to fill a position; if you want to find the loser or the finder of an article; if you want to find a landlord or a tenant, try a Bee want ad.

MELODRAMA AND MUSIC MIX

Play Now On at the Krug Offers Much that is Entertaining to All.

"The Mysterious Burglar," a four-act drama, occupied the boards at the Krug theater Thursday night and was greeted by a good sized house. The title of the play is somewhat misleading and those who expected to witness scenes of carnage and a continual battle between sleuths and bearded yegmen had a pleasurable disappointment in store for them. Carnage there was, and satefowling, too, but the situations were so ingeniously contrived and the necessity for such acts so great that they were easily condoned, and the more so because they are performed by the hero instead of the villain. Harry Pearson plays the heavy, and is represented as a blackie breaker, who, it ultimately transpires, went to Alaska with an old man named Leighton, whom he robbed of his gold dust and left for dead. Returning to New York he sold stock in the old man's claim and made love to Lillian Leighton, the old man's daughter. He was assisted in both of these enterprises by his designing sister, Thelma. But Lillian's heart was set on Daniel Moffett, a young broker, who played the role of "mysterious burglar" in order to catch Pearson at his crooked work. One day the old miner, Leighton, whom Pearson had left for dead in Alaska, put in an appearance and Pearson contrived to have him put out of the way. The old man was saved by Moffett. Then Pearson's sister, Thelma, jealous of Moffett's affection for Lillian, fixes up a potion for the latter to drink, but which, by mistake, she herself drinks, and then shuffles off this mortal coil. Pearson meets an equally tragic death by means of a spring gun which he has set to kill Moffett. With all of the misadventures permitted to get married. There are many good musical numbers interspersed throughout the play. "Stingy," the Teddy bear song, makes a decided hit. The sight of a real live Teddy bear on the stage was a unique feature. The play will continue Friday and Saturday nights, with the usual matinee.

SEARS KILLS BOTH MOTIONS
Overrules County and Vinsonhaller in Their Requests for New Trials.

Judge Sears has overruled both motions for a new trial in the suit of the county against former County Judge D. M. Vinsonhaller for marriage fees and other fees earned while he was in office and not collected. Both sides indicated they would appeal the case to the supreme court. Judge Sears held Vinsonhaller accountable for $6,82.32 for marriage license fees, but decided he was not responsible for uncollected fees. It is to the latter part of the decision the county objects. Judge Vinsonhaller also will demand a new trial on the Eroungette court should not have held him for the marriage fees.
