Old Tracks Are Torn Away—The street

car company is tearing up its abandoned tracks on Eighteenth street and other tracks of similar character will be removed as fast as possible. This is the end of negotiations which have been under way for several months between the company and the city council.
Changes in Northwestern Time—The Northwestern has announced several time changes for the eastbound trains west of the Missouri river, no change being made in the westbound service. Effective Sunday No. 2 will arrive at Omaha at 11:30 instead of 11:25; No. 210 will arrive at 1:30, instead of 12:45; and No. 6 will arrive at 5:25, instead of 5:37.
Tries to Rule the Roost—Bert Elbert of 233 North Twenty-fourth street, was given five days in jail by Judge Altstadt in police court Friday morning for attempting to drive his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilcox, out of the house. He had been making his home with them, but got tired of the arrangement and decided to throw them out into the street.
Thief Gets Fifty Cents—A burglar entered the house of C. E. Roberts at 273 North Twenty-sixth street Thursday night and took a handbag, the property of Mrs. Roberts, which contained 50 cents. The bag was later found in the street, where the disappointed burglar had evidently thrown it.
Thumel Marshal of the Day—George H. Thumel has been selected as marshal of the day at the semi-centennial of the Masonic grand lodge, September 23. Mr. Thumel has not selected his assistants who will have charge of the line of march from the temple at Capital avenue and Sixteenth streets to the Auditorium, where the formal ceremonies will be held.
Tommy is Real Modest—Chairman Thomas S. Allen of the democratic state committee was in Omaha Friday conferring with some of the Douglas county democratic leaders. Mr. Allen said: "It is too early to predict Judge Loomis' majority just at this time. We are sure of his election. The democratic campaign will open up in earnest after the Bryan dinner at Lincoln September 22."
Foreign Food Exhibitors—It looks as though the food show in the Auditorium this fall would have a greater number of foreign exhibitors than any food show in Omaha yet. Inquiries regarding space are coming in from Pittsburg, Dayton, Cincinnati, Chicago, Detroit and other eastern cities. The most recent inquiry is from a Kansas City cracker factory, which wishes to familiarize the Omaha people.
New Floor on Douglas Bridge—A large force of men is busily engaged in placing a new floor on the Douglas street bridge across the Missouri river. This bridge is controlled by a ninety-nine-year lease to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company from the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company, and the street railway company is making repairs. The new floor is most substantial, as it consists of a subfloor of creosoted lumber five inches thick and the surface will be paved with creosoted blocks.

Husband Throws Knives, She Says—On the grounds she threw knives at her and threatened the life of herself and their daughter, Mrs. Ella F. Delke has begun suit for divorce from Edward H. Delke. The trouble she complains of all happened in the home in New York. She says he hit her on the head with a butcher knife. At other times she says he threatened her with a gun. She also charges him with being an habitual drunkard and with failure to support. She asks her maiden name of Grebe be restored.
TUTHILL LEADS GOOD FIGHT Secures Support of Seattle and Others for Convention of Eagles in 1909.
Omaha delegates have returned from the national convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles held in Norfolk, Va. The convention of the order was the biggest that has been held in the nine years of its existence. Certain measures are reported which will work for the bettering of the lodge and a raising of the standard. Among these was the resolution passed that hereafter no lodge shall be open to a woman on Sunday. It was decided that the church and the home are the proper places for men to spend that day.
Officers were elected as follows: grand worthy president, Theodore A. Bell; grand secretary, Bernard J. Monaghan; grand worthy chaplain, John A. Cline; grand secretary, C. H. Mann; grand treasurer, F. E. Haring; grand conductor, R. H. McBride; grand worthy inside guard, R. M. Armstrong; grand trustees (four vacancies) T. C. Hayes, M. E. Gray, D. A. Barrett, W. C. McKenney.
J. A. Tuthill of Omaha led a good fight to land the convention for Omaha in 1909 until he found Seattle had it clinched and then he abandoned his fight, together with other Nebraska delegates, and threw all his force to Seattle, thus securing Seattle's prestige and support for Omaha in 1909. This is a preliminary move for getting the convention to Omaha in 1909, for which plans are already being made.
J. A. Tuthill of Omaha talked for Omaha so hard that he was dubbed "Geographical." The following is taken from the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch:
"If ever a civic patriot hit the city it is 'Geographical.' Tuthill hit Omaha. What state is Omaha in? He doesn't know. He doesn't know. He states that it is 'the geographical center of the world and the home of the prosperous,' and thereby earns his nickname.
According to him the entire gamut of virtues lie in Omaha. Her citizens can do anything, and he was today lamenting unto Grand Worthy Vice President Bell the fact that the Jamestown exposition was not held in his beloved city.
"But John Smith never heard of Omaha," objected the vice president.
"What?" shouted "Geographical." "Never heard of Omaha? Why, it is the geographical center."
"That's all right," replied Mr. Bell. "A man in those times didn't have the facilities of communication he has now. At the same time, even Omaha couldn't show the seashore resorts Norfolk does."
"We could build 'em," said Mr. Tuthill, with confidence.
SULPHUR IN YOUR MOLASSES Substance Used by Southern Planters to Purify Their Refined Product.
"Did you know you eat sulphur nearly every time you eat cane syrup or molasses?" asked a traveling man who used to sell syrups.
"Well, you do. The planters put sulphur in it to neutralize impurities. The government chemist do not admit that it is necessary and I hear the Department of Agriculture will hire a sugar factory in Louisiana next season for the purpose of experimenting in the manufacture of molasses without sulphur. I think in a year or two we will have it without the sulphur."

CORN CROP ONE OF BUMPERS

Over Two Billion and Half Bushels Will Be Harvested.

YIELD AMONG THE HEAVIEST

At That Output for All States is Over Three Hundred and Eighty Million Less Than 1906.

Although several states are below the ten-year average in the condition of corn on September 1, the crop will still figure among the bumper crops of the country. The detailed report of the Department of Agriculture on the harvests has reached Omaha and some grain men in talking it over compared the estimate of the government of a corn crop this year of 2,546,000,000 bushels with the production of former years and learned that this year's yield is one of the few big ones. But even then it falls 87,000,000 bushels below the record yield of 1906.
The New York Produce exchange makes the following comparisons on its interpretation of the government figures:
Indicated harvest for 1907:
Winter Wheat—1907, 499,500,000; 1906, 462,800,000
Acres, 28,132,000; 28,596,961

ESTIMATE BELOW APPRAISAL

Price Engineers Place on Water Plant is Less Than Six Million Dollars.

It will be at least two weeks before the engineers now planning a new system of water supply for Omaha formulate their report to R. Beecher Howell of the Omaha Water Board. Mr. Fanning and Mr. Holman must leave Saturday, the latter to go to St. Louis, and the former to prepare for a trip to the Pacific coast. He has no more time to devote to the Omaha proposition until he returns to Minneapolis, by which time it is expected Mr. Holman will have put the report in shape for the consideration of Mr. Cooley and himself. Shortly thereafter the engineers will return to Omaha and submit their report.
The engineers would not say how far they had progressed on their plans, but one of them said they had already made an estimate of the price of the proposed plant. Asked how it would compare with the assessed valuation of the Omaha plant, he said:
"Well, if you or I had the difference we would work no longer. It will be much below the value placed upon the present plant by the appraisers."
At the southern part of their trip the attention of the engineers was called to the proposed scheme for establishing a power station at Seymour lake, taking power from the Statte river. Both Mr. Holman and Mr. Fanning declared the plan feasible and said that when such a plan is carried out the future of Omaha as a manufacturing center is assured.
"Our automobiles are considerable," was the final word of Mr. Holman. Just as we reached the corner of Twenty-fourth and Farnam streets the tire came off one of the wheels of our machine and we had only to step a few feet to a street car. If it had come off half an hour sooner we would have been left somewhere west of South Omaha.

NEW DEPOT ALMOST READY

Northwestern Will Occupy Big Freight House About First of October.
The Northwestern railway expects to take possession of its new freight depot at Fourteenth and Davenport streets October 1 and begin receiving freight there on that date. It is expected that the freight house proper will be entirely completed by that time. The two-story office at the south end of the freight house will not be ready for occupancy until November 1.
The new depot will receive outbound freight only and the old one will be used for inbound traffic until another mammoth freight house, the counterpart of the one now under construction, is erected next year.
