

HAINER IS NOT SATISFIED

Berates Railway Commission for Recently Announced Cream Rate.

DAVID CITY TAKES OTHER VIEW

Judge Jackson Resigns from Supreme Court Commission to Re-enter Practice and Judge Reese Takes His Place.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Though the attorneys for the central creameries in the hearings before the State Railway commission in the matter of cream rates recently said they would be satisfied with a rate based on milk which did not discriminate against any town, Attorney Hainer is now objecting to the rates proposed. This morning he made verbal objections to the commission, after first breaking into print with his protests. As a matter of fact, according to one who has looked into the matter, an analysis of the rates will show that in very few instances have the rates been increased, and that the objections of the creamery men are due to the fact that they have no advantage now over the local creameries. Mr. Hainer is quoted in a local paper with saying that the new rates will increase the cost to the creameries about $200,000 a year. A little figuring shows how absurd this statement is; Hainer claims the rates have been increased 3 cents a can, dividing the $200,000 by 3, gives 200,000 cans. Multiplied by 30, the average amount of pounds of butter fat to a can, gives 2,000,000 pounds of butter fat, which would have to be produced in an area of 100,000 acres to make up the extra expense claimed by the central creameries. The testimony shows the amount of pounds of butter fat shipped was only 15,000,000.

As an example of how the rates have not been increased by the commission, the old and new rates from Holdrege are cited. Allowing three cans to the 100 pounds, a creamery at Holdrege would be able to lay down butter at Omaha for $1.07. Previous to the new rate it would have cost the creamery at Holdrege $1.23. The Omaha creamery, under the new rate, can get cream into Omaha from Holdrege for $1.08. Under the old rate it costs 60 cents to get butter fat from Holdrege to Ravenna, a distance of twenty-six miles; from Ravenna to Omaha it cost 50 cents, or a total cost of $1.18, while it cost the Omaha creamery under the old rate only $1.02 for butter fat. Under the new rate Ravenna can get butter into Omaha for 50 cents. But the centralizers are not discriminated against, because after the butter fat gets to Omaha the creameries add the water and salt which makes up easily the difference.

Following are a few comparisons taken at random of the old and the new rate:

Table with columns: From, Old Rate, New Rate, Miles. Rows include Grand Island, Clay, Clay Center, etc.

So far as the Rock Island line is concerned there are only nineteen stations on this road in Nebraska from which cream is shipped and of these stations the rate is raised slightly at six stations only. In his talk to the commission this morning Attorney Hainer did not make any proposal but merely berated the commission for the rates it did make, claiming the Rock Island rate should have been put into effect. Had the commission done this the discrimination in favor of the central creameries would still have been maintained.

Cole Satisfied with Rates.

The central creameries were not together on the kick on the rates on cream promulgated by the State Railway commission. While Attorney Hainer, a stockholder of the Beatrice Creamery company, was berating the commission David Cole of Omaha informed a commissioner that the rates fixed by the commission were fair and just and satisfactory. Senator Aldrich, special attorney for the commission, said the new rates were satisfactory to the people of his community, who had expressed themselves. The central creameries, he said, had been built up under special favors from the railroad and the kick was due from them because the commission has discontinued this discrimination.

Reese Succeeds Jackson.

Supreme Court Commissioner N. D. Jackson has tendered his resignation to the supreme court, giving as a reason that he could not afford to hold the position, inasmuch as he could make more money in the practice of law. Judge Jackson was appointed a member of the commission immediately after the legislature adjourned two years ago. He was a member of that legislature. Judge Reese has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Two Closed Seasons.

It remained for the present board to do what the former boards ever did before—cancel the vote behind closed doors. The work was begun yesterday and is not finished yet, the excuse being that Wheeler county has not made proper returns. The railway commission followed by holding a meeting with Attorney Hainer and Henry Seymour this morning. The commission said it shut out the public because the members are usually misrepresented at every hearing by the Lincoln afternoon papers. The law specifically sets out that no persons shall be denied admission to any hearing held by the commission.

Forms for Railroad Assessment.

George Bennett and Henry Seymour have completed the forms for the guidance of the city and precinct assessors who are to assess railroad property in villages and cities. There are 919 towns in Nebraska through which one or more railroads run. One report the state board will send to the railroad to be filled out, showing the value of railroad property in each town and sent to the taxing officer of that town. The taxing officer then secures a form prepared by the county clerk, and with the report of the railroad to aid him makes the assessment and returns to the county clerk where in turn sends a report to the state board. This report sent to the railroads contains ten separate forms. A second report is sent to the railroads to be filled out and returned to the state board. This contains eleven forms. The reports must be in the hands of the assessors by March 1 and delivered to the state board by the first Monday in May.

Grand Island Man Named.

Max J. Egge of Grand Island was appointed today by the governor a member of the State Board of Optometry. He is the third appointment and fills the board.

Forest Reserve Apportionment.

State Superintendent McBrien has just made his first apportionment under the government forest reserve fund. The apportionment is made on the basis of acreage as follows: Dismal River reserve, 3,232,000 acres; Grand Island reserve, 323,000 acres; Grand county, 140,000 acres; total, 3,232,000 acres. Niobrara reserve, Cherry county, 12,250 acres.

Inspection of Oil.

Attorney General Thompson has given State Oil Inspector A. B. Allen an opinion that he must inspect every particle of oil used in the state. A farmer, living near the Kansas line, wrote to Mr. Allen asking how he could use oil shipped to him from across the border without inspection. It was cheaper than Nebraska oil. The attorney general said that the Kansas product could not be used in Nebraska without inspection.

Mother Seeking Her Son.

Governor Sheldon has received a letter from Mrs. Pinkston, East Eighth street, Oklahoma City, Okla., asking him to help her get information of her son, Robert Lee Pinkston, who left home July 18, 1901. He was then 21 years old. He was five feet, four inches tall, weighed about 140 pounds and had hazel eyes and brown hair. He was last heard from in Omaha.

Mrs. Knox Denies Charge.

Mrs. Knox, county superintendent of Cheyenne county, has written Governor Sheldon that she has not defied the law in her own county as has been alleged by State Superintendent McBrien and that she would like an interview with the governor. She is at present in Iowa, where she was called by the illness of her son. On her return she will stop off at Lincoln and desire to straighten matters out. State Superintendent McBrien has consented to let the case rest until that time.

STOCK SHOW DRAWS CROWDS

Display of Thoroughbred Animals at Nebraska City Larger than in Former Years.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Today was the opening day of the second annual stock show and sale held in Nebraska City and it was a success in every particular and the promoters are congratulating themselves upon what they have accomplished. Last year the first show was held and it proved such a success that it was decided to cut out all Fourth of July celebrations and devote their attention to the stock show. The first day has proven the wisdom of their decision. At the Union stock yards the exhibition is being held and a better place could not have been selected, as the yards are all under cover, paved with brick, with the best sanitary conditions, so there is no danger of rain. The parade this morning was on the streets paved with brick and it was an immense procession. The Nebraska City and the Merchants' bands furnished the music, and the merchants, the manufacturers and the retail dealers were represented by floats and the prize winning horses and cattle wound up the procession. There were also a number of farmers who had displays. The number of animals on display is double those expected. Tomorrow is the gala day. In the morning there will be a parade of decorated vehicles, which will be followed by the prize winning animals. The sales have been beyond expectation, as the animals have brought what might be considered exorbitant prices. One self-evident fact, and that is that the counties adjoining Otoe can produce as many animals as can be raised in the United States. Every business house here has displayed the colors—gold and purple—and it has been a general holiday for this section of the state.

Back to Lincoln for Trial.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Sept. 18.—(Special Telegram.)—Special Agents Shields, Morweiser and Meekin of the Rock Island railroad are in Sioux City to take James Williams, J. D. Daly and Max Hubbell back to Lincoln, where they will be held in custody until they can be sent to the Rock Island depot and where they are suspected of having been implicated in the holdup of the Rock Island train near Murdock. They were arrested by Sioux City detectives on Friday morning and taken to the jail on the suspicion of being pickpockets. They were arraigned for vagrancy and sent to jail under $1,000 bonds.

Nebraska News Notes.

BULLET ENTERS HIS HEART

John J. Haul of St. Paul Killed Handling Revolver He Thought Unloaded.

LINCOLN, Sept. 18.—While handling a revolver, he supposed was unloaded, John J. Haul, son of N. H. Haul, president of the St. Paul State bank, accidentally shot himself through the heart late last night. He was 23 years of age and a director in his father's bank.

KEARNEY NORMAL HAS OPENED

Beginning of School Reveals it in Promising Condition.

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Today registration began at the state normal school here. Tomorrow the inspectors will meet their classes. Members of the faculty have all returned from their summer vacations well rested for the work of the coming year. Students are coming in on every train and upward of a hundred are already in the city finding boarding places. The representation promises to be wider than in any previous year. Students are already here from McCook and west and from Franklin, Albion and from the northwest part of the state.

The first faculty meeting of the year was held at the home of President Thomas tonight, at an early date, the president gave his opening address.

Improvements have been made at the normal building during the year, the most notable of which is the beautiful tinting of the walls and pillars of the corridors and the president's offices. This relieves the bare appearance of the halls and the effect is pleasing to the eye. The floors have been dressed with oil and wax. New metal lockers have been put in. Almost every department has been supplied with new and more extensive equipment. Ten new microscopes have been added to the biological department and $1,200 worth of new equipment has been added to the physical science department. Maps, globes, charts, etc., have been added to the language and history departments. A good assortment of supplies have been added to the model school. A large flag pole has been placed at an early date.

A few changes in the teaching arrangement are noted. Wayne Chapman, one of last year's graduates, will assist in the library. Miss Lora Huntley, also a last year's graduate, will have an assistant position in the kindergarten. Bert Danley, a senior graduate, will assist in the library as an assistant in the physical science department.

The plumbing has been changed in the dormitory and connected with a large tank, which will supply hot water to the baths in the building.

As the students come in they are met by committees from the Young Men's and Young Women's societies and assisted in finding boarding places in suitable homes, and the president finds that this relieves him of much of this work.

York Creamery Men Pleased.

YORK, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—The owners of the large creamery plant here were well pleased with the ruling of the Nebraska Railroad commission, which made reasonable rates on the short haul of cream, thereby giving the local creamery as good a show as the large centralized creameries. York's creamery will now secure sufficient cream to work to its fullest capacity and will under the new short rate promulgated be one of the large paying interior creameries.

Big Shipments of Stock.

VALENTINE, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Valentine is experiencing its busy time these days now that the stock season is on. Yesterday morning there were nine stock trains on the Northwestern tracks at a standstill, every rail of track being occupied. Passenger trains and freight trains are standing at a standstill, the latter being abandoned for two and three days at a time. Every available engine is being pressed into service and the company is having a hard time to find crews. It is certainly a hard season.

KEARNEY MILITARY ACADEMY

New Building Partially Ready for Occupancy.

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 18.—(Special Telegram.)—The eighteenth year of the Kearney Military academy was formally opened this afternoon with addresses and a parade on the campus. Students are arriving on every train and there are already 110 students and with prospects that there will be 125 before the week is over. Work on the new building, Cochran hall, has been rushed for the last month and remarkable progress has been made, and at a stroke the work is done and immediately thereafter supper was served, with everything in readiness. This was the first meal served in the new building.

The workmen will now concentrate their forces on the completion of the upper portion, which is expected to be ready for occupancy by November 1. School will be held in the rooms of the lower floors that are now completed.

Tomorrow the contractors will begin the laying of the cement walks about the school and the work will proceed with the other buildings on the campus. There are few changes in the faculty for the ensuing year.

BEATRICE—The city council met last night and decided to make improvements and repairs on the sidewalks at a cost not to exceed $100. This action was taken at the request of Postmaster Hollingworth, who is of the opinion that the department at Washington will furnish Beatrice with another letter carrier. This is done. Mayor Rice announced the appointment of Rudolph Wolk as fire chief, and the council members the appointment.

BEATRICE—All the Bell telephones were removed from the courthouse yesterday in compliance with the decision recently made by the State Railway commission. The Home company was awarded the contract for furnishing the telephones to the courthouse, and although the Bell company left its telephones in for some months with the hope of having the action of the Board of Supervisors rescinded, the company was unsuccessful, and finally had to remove its telephones.

HUNTER—Every bird dog and every hunter who could get a gun and go hunting were out after prairie chickens Monday and Tuesday. Reports from the hunters indicate that there is very scarce and hard to find. Some of the hunters say that the skunks have robbed the nests and destroyed the young birds, while others are of the opinion that the prairie dogs killed them. Reports from the sand hill country indicate that prairie chickens are very scarce.

NEBRASKA CITY—At St. Benedict's Catholic church yesterday Rev. Father Egan officiated at the wedding of Ferdinand, Ind., and Miss Emma Gress of this county. The bride is a prominent young woman, the daughter of the late Mr. Gress, and the groom a well-to-do young man. They will make their home on a farm in the south of this city. They were given a reception last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Gress.

BEATRICE—The long-drawn-out contest over the possession of the little Whitcomb child is now to be settled. Several years ago Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitcomb separated and left their child in the care of Mr. and Mrs. George Reed. Later they settled their differences and wanted their child back. They finally secured possession of the child through a court proceeding. Now the Whitcombs have discovered that the child is not their own. It is willing that Mr. and Mrs. Reed should legally adopt the child. This will probably be done for all time to come.

HASTINGS—The Board of Education of the Hastings school district will make an effort to raise $100,000 from a number of business men who are holding the sale of a tract of real estate owned by the Hastings school district. The school board wanted to sell it and use the money to buy a new addition to the high school building. The injunction was dissolved after some litigation. A sum of $200 was paid to the attorney who represented the school board and it is for this the board seeks to be reimbursed.

"LADY BIRDS" AT THE KRUG Musical Comedy with Just Enough Plot to Hang Specialists and Chorus Chorus.

The offering at the Krug theater Tuesday night was a rousing musical comedy, "The Lady Birds," in two acts. There is a slight thread of a plot which winds throughout the play and is just sufficient to allow specialists, chorus girls, comedians and comedians to make their entrance and exit gracefully. The first act is laid on the island of Samoa, where an American captain finds his lost sweetheart. The second act is in Los Angeles, where the battleship has arrived and to which place it has been followed by a band of soldiers, for the purpose of demanding ransom for the release of an American sailor. The American admiral paid the ransom after it had been reduced from $1,000,000 to $11, and the king and his handful of soldiers proceeded to tank up on the money.

A Nurse's Story

If you are a sufferer from headache, neuralgia, or pain from any cause you should read the following letter from a nurse.

"For some time I have felt it my duty to write you what my doctor twice every week for headache. All he did for me was to give something to ease the pain. Sometimes the pain was so severe that I could not speak, and I had to lie in bed for days. Being a nurse I gave me medicine every fifteen minutes until I was relieved. A sample of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills fell into my hands, I read the circular carefully, and found my case described exactly. The next time my head began to ache I took the Pain Pills according to directions and I felt I was getting better, so I sent to the drugist for a box and took them until I was so much better that I was about the house all the afternoon. I have not had a doctor for headache since. When he met me some time after he wanted to know how I was, and I told him what I had done, and he replied: 'If you have found anything that will help you stick to it.' Being a nurse I have recommended them to a great many grateful people. One case I will mention. I saw a doctor and he prescribed every week for months because he had such a hard time of it. I had a box of Anti-Pain Pills and she used them and she had no doctor since. She says she has a great blessing to her and her family. 'Why did you not tell me before?' I could tell you of many similar cases." MISS JOSEPHINE BOHLEN, Auburn, N. Y.
