SCHEDULE IS HELD UP

Railroad Commission Takes No Action on Western Classifications.

ROADS SEND IT OUT JUST

Tariff Sheets, However, Marked "Not Good"

SOME REDUCED AND SOME RAISED

Minimum Weight on Carloads of Sugar Materially Increased.

NO TANK CARS FOR OIL SHIPPERS

Williams Had Not Read the New Schedule and Other Two Commissioners Not Ready to Act on It.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—The Railroad Commission this morning notified the railways of Nebraska it would withhold its approval of the western classification schedule, which the classification committee filed to go into effect October 1, effective on all roads west of Chicago.

The railways will send out the new schedules today, but will label them "Not Good in Nebraska."

Commissioners Clarke and Winnick passed the resolution made, Commissioner Williams holding out for an amendment to the effect the commission had taken no action.

Mr. Williams said he had not read the classification carefully, whereupon he was reproved by the other members of the commission, who told him he had had since August 28 to read it.

The classification makes some reductions and some increases in rates and the railroad representatives said the latter were offset by the former.

The minimum carload of sugar is made 30,000 pounds, where it used to be 24,000 pounds, thus increasing the investment of a purchaser $40 on each car.

Rates on nursery stock are increased 20 per cent. The railroads do not propose to furnish tanks for shipment of oil. Candy in boxes is reduced and in baskets is increased.

The rate on store counters is reduced. Lawn swings are raised from eighth to fifth class. Preserves are raised from second class to first class.

GOVERNOR AND FAMILY GO SOUTH

Governor and Mrs. Sheldon and three children, Lawson, Julia and Aileen, will leave Sunday for a visit to the governor's Mississippi plantation.

The governor will attend the lakes to the golf convention at Memphis, taking Julia and Aileen with him. Mrs. Sheldon and Lawson will visit relatives in Illinois a short time and join the others in Mississippi.

During the absence of the rest of the family, Marian Sheldon will be the guest of Warden Beemer.

FAIRBANKS IS TURNED DOWN

Temperature Methodists of Indiana Refuse to Send Him to General Conference.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Vice President Fairbanks was defeated yesterday for election as a lay delegate from Indiana to the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to be held in Baltimore next May.

Seven lay delegates out of eighteen, who were proposed were elected by the Indiana conference on joint votes of the ministerial and lay delegates.

The vice president was not himself a candidate, but his name was urged by friends, who urged the city of Indianapolis by acclamation.

Instead of this, it was bitterly opposed by the radical temperance element in the conference, who took the ground that electing him would be equivalent to condoning what they regarded as an offense against temperance.

The alleged offense having been serving of cocktails and wine at a dinner to present Roosevelt in the Fairbanks home last Memorial day.

CORN PALACE IS BIG SUCCESS

Mitchell Festival Closes in Blaze of Glory with Concert by Sousa's Band.

MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—With the concert by the Sousa band this evening the tenth annual corn palace came to a close in a blaze of glory.

The last day has been the most successful Saturday in the history of the corn palace. Every seat in the building was occupied at the afternoon concert.

The Milwaukee road brought in, on three specials and its regular trains, over 1,800 people, while the Omaha road had a crowd of 400 on its regular train.

This evening the place was a scene of rejoicing by a crowd of home people when Mr. Sousa and his band closed the concert. When the electrical street illumination was turned on this evening a great carnival of fun held forth in throwing confetti.

PRESIDENT PLEASES BISHOP

Episcopal Divines of London Find Chief Executive Most Entertaining Host.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The bishop of London was the center of interest at today's sessions of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. A great crowd cheered him upon his arrival. Addressing the convention, the bishop said:

"To have a good influence over people you must be absolutely straight; and right here let me say that that seems to be the leading characteristic of your splendid president. Since arriving yesterday I have had three or four hours of the most delightful conversation I ever had with anyone in my life."

You, Mr. Voter

What the government expects to prove as to the guilt of United States Senator W. E. Borah, chief counsel in the prosecution of W. D. Hayward, in the land frauds of Idaho, which he and others are charged with and for which he now is on trial at Boise, Idaho, is set forth in an exhaustive arraignment delivered to the court and jury by Special Assistant Attorney General M. C. Burch of Washington, who, with Special Assistant Attorney General S. R. Rush of Omaha, is conducting the case.

Not alone the fact which Borah played, but also that which former Governor Frank Steunenberg, for whose murder Hayward was tried, is charged with having taken, is presented in this argument.

So important a man was Borah in this gigantic system of robbing the government, according to Attorney Burch, that to him was entrusted the responsible duty of accepting and finally placing on record the fraudulent deeds which sealed the transaction and split the doom of the guilty parties. "Out of this transaction," says Burch, "it will be shown that Frank Steunenberg received $30,000 of the stock of the Barber Lumber company."

Statement of the Case.

Attorney Burch then proceeded: "This indictment charges that the eight or ten persons named in the indictment as confederates and as respondents were guilty of attempting to defraud the United States, in that they procured lands through and by the use of other persons acting as attorneys and did so for their own use and benefit and practically by means of false oaths of the three entrymen named also in the indictment. In this country of Idaho, in 1890 and 1899 the United States was possessed of a fine body of timber land, a virgin forest, more valuable for its timber than for any other reason.

"Representing Boise county in the state senate of Idaho at that time was one John Kinkaid, one of the parties indicted, who cut an important figure in this case. He evidently knew the value and extent of that land.

"I have forgotten to mention to you that the defendant, William E. Borah, has had a severance, that is, a separate trial from the other defendants, granted him in this case, which, however, does not excuse the government from its requirements of presenting to the jury the whole story.

Collecting the Land.

"This John Kinkaid was fond of hussling himself during the year 1890 and about the scheme of procuring and obtaining as much of this land from the United States as possible, by false and fraudulent means.

"In an office in the city of Boise, Idaho, was an office of the city of Boise, Idaho, and drew into himself several parties with the view to assisting him in procuring entrymen who would for pay make false oaths that they entered the land for their exclusive use and benefit and conveying immediately to them the title to the land to somebody else, and thus by a roundabout course, obtaining the land.

"Another of the party was Patrick S. Downs, a timber cruiser from Wisconsin, who possessed an expert knowledge of standing timber and thus selected the most valuable timber lands, which he put dummy entrymen. This combination between money who had the requisite article, induced him to invest it and back them in these entries.

The Man Steunenberg.

"There also was at that time in this state an ex-governor, Frank Steunenberg, a man of wide influence and an enterprising character, who had the will to execute that which he desired. They succeeded in interesting Steunenberg in the scheme, there being an intimacy between Kinkaid and Steunenberg. Steunenberg succeeded in inducing a number of persons to go with the scheme in him as a business venture. Sweet invested $20,000 in the enterprise, but up to this time Kinkaid, Wells, Steunenberg and others had not put up any money to do their part, but for the purpose of adding more funds to the unlawful work. Steunenberg and Sweet procured $7,500 on a joint note from one of the Boise banks, which they put into the enterprise. Sweet subsequently went to New York, upon some of his own ventures, while Steunenberg was looking around for somebody to buy at a profit in order to release his money.

Coeur d'Alene Affair.

"Along in 1898 and 1899 there were some troubles up in the Coeur d'Alene district in this state. Governor Steunenberg had gone there, presumably upon the patriotic mission of stopping those troubles, as the chief executive of the state. In the course of that transaction he became acquainted with a wealthy mine owner by the name of A. B. Campbell of Spokane. Governor Steunenberg succeeded in getting Campbell interested in his scheme later, with A. E. Palmer of Wisconsin and James T. Barber and Sumner Moon, two more of the respondents in this indictment. The result was that Sweet sold out to these parties for $25,000, the money being sent to Steunenberg to Caldwell, Idaho, and was turned over to Judge Richards, the attorney for Sweet.

"At the time of this sale Steunenberg gave Campbell an understanding, that he had entered into an arrangement with Barber & Moon on Esau Claire, Wis., whereby some $100,000 was to be outlaid in the procuring of timber lands in Idaho, including the payment for the first group of lands. When final proof had been made by the dummy entrymen the deeds were executed by them to A. E. Palmer, another of the defendants in this action, and he, as a dummy trustee, conveyed the lands to the Barber Lumber company. I think that without a single exception those deeds, instead of being delivered to Mr. Palmer, were sent to Steunenberg, who, in the transaction, found their way into the hands of William E. Borah, the defendant in this case, and were eventually put on record.

ENEMIES OF MEXICO HELD

Pardon Sought for Rolland Player, but Deal Charge Held to Be Political.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 28.—L. G. Gutierrez de Lara, a member of the alleged junta of Mexican revolutionists now said to be operating in Los Angeles and a comrade of Magdon and Villar, who are under arrest on a charge laid by the Mexican government, was arrested here last night and held for examination without bail. The complaint charges robbery.

De Lara is a novelist of some note and formerly was a practicing lawyer in Mexico. His friends say the charge against him cannot be proven, his real offense being a criticism of the present Mexican administration.

Pardon Sought for Rolland Player.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Rolland Player, who is taking part in an effort to get a pardon for Edward Wilson, who was a member of the Boston National League, was convicted of murder in 1882 at West July-seventh street. He was sentenced to die, but Governor Roosevelt commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. Molinsky went to the criminal courts building and got a record of the case. There were other men with Wilson when he was killed and Wilson says one of them committed the crime.

ATTORNEY OPPOSES PLANK

Roosevelt Bluntly Opposes Resolution of Anti-Injunction Resolution of Nebraska Republicans.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Before a room full of people today President Roosevelt, in his blunt, bluntness, outspoken way, told Senator Burkett he did not like that portion of the resolutions adopted by the recent republican convention of Nebraska, having reference to injunctions against state officers. Senator Burkett blushed and was visibly embarrassed because of the directness of the president's attention to him, although there were other senators and members of congress present in addition to a number of leading lights of the Episcopal church, who were present for the purpose of meeting Mr. Roosevelt's guest, the lord bishop of London.

Senator Burkett was at the White House at 10:30 to present Right Bill, although Williams, coadjutor bishop of Nebraska, and Rev. Charles Hughes Marshall of Denver to the president. Hardly had the introductions been made when the chief executive told Senator Burkett he liked all of the resolutions adopted by the republicans of Nebraska in the recent state convention except the paragraph relating to anti-injunction.

The farmer, milk pails in hand, was walking in the park, when he saw a young morning rubbing sleep out of his eyes and yawning profusely when an odd looking object lying on the neighboring hill attracted his eye. It looked like a gigantic mushroom. He went over and investigated.

EDITOR IS SPIRITED AWAY

Fremont Older of San Francisco Bulletin Charged with Criminal Libel on Los Angeles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Fremont Older, managing editor of the Bulletin and prominently connected with the graft prosecution, was arrested in this city yesterday evening on warrants issued in Los Angeles and sworn to by Luntin Brown, who charges Older with criminal libel. Older was arrested on the street and taken in an automobile to Redwood City, twenty-five miles south, where a connection was made with a southbound train for Los Angeles, on which he was placed in charge of officers from that city.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 28.—Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, arrested in that city yesterday on a warrant charging criminal libel, was released here today by Judge Crow of the superior court in $2,000 bond and left for home tonight. Mr. Older, in a statement, corroborated the printed story of his capture. He said that San Jose was given the privilege of wiring to Rudolph Spreckles of his plight.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—The complaint upon which Fremont Older was arrested in San Francisco was filed in Justice J. C. Summerfield's court in this city by Luther BARNES, an attorney. It charges criminal libel in the publication in the Bulletin of a story in which the name of Luther Brown is alleged to have been confused with that of R. Brown, the detective.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 28.—The Chicago express, a Baltimore & Ohio fast train, running between Chicago and Wheeling, crashed into a freight train in the Belleaire (Ohio) yards, near here, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Several cars were demolished.

Seven persons were killed and fifteen injured, a number, it is thought, being fatally hurt.

FREIGHT STRIKES PASSENGER

Collision on Frisco Road Takes Place Inside St. Louis Limits.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—Two coaches of Frisco passenger train No. 4 from Texas were wrecked by a collision with a freight train just inside the city limits late last night. The freight train struck on an open switch upon the main track just as the passenger was passing and went between the first and second coaches. A. R. McNeal, a passenger, who was sitting in the rear of the first coach, had his head crushed. Several others were slightly bruised. The passenger train was running thirty miles an hour when the accident occurred, and the fact that the freight crashed between coaches probably prevented loss of life.
