HITCH IN SALE OF BONDS. Bidders of Opinion Descriptions of Land Are Faulty.

MAY BE CAUSE OF MUCH EXPENSE. Board May Be Compelled to Go All Over the Process of Notification and Assessments of Benefits and Damages.

The Board of Supervisors of Pottawattamie county is up against what may possibly prove a hitch in the sale of the Pigeon Creek bonds.

The question which has arisen relates to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the description of the parcels of land assessed for the construction of the ditch.

When the list of taxable property was made up, the descriptions were copied from the transfer books, as is the custom in such cases, without reference to the original deeds.

In this way some of the descriptions are said to be indefinite, as, while naming the number of acres, they fail to specify what particular acres are meant.

That the slight defect are not of sufficient moment or number to invalidate the bonds or to give the company sufficient grounds for declining to accept them is the opinion of County Auditor Cheyne, as expressed at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Express Companies Assert They Are Not Corporations in Iowa.

LEGAL DEPARTMENT TO TEST IT. Attorney General Will See to Enforce Penalty for Failure to File Articles of Incorporation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Since the campaign started by Attorney General Byers to force the corporations doing business in Iowa to regard the Iowa law that requires that they file certified copies of their articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, where they are organized in other states, it has been discovered that the Adams Express company, the American Express company and the United States Express company all claim to be partnerships and deny that they are corporations at all.

FIGHT FOR ILLINOIS CENTRAL. Stuyvesant Fish Says Harriman Claims to Majority of Proxies is No True.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The attention of Stuyvesant Fish being called today to a dispatch from Chicago containing an official announcement by J. T. Harahan and Alexander G. Hackstaff, to the effect that the friends of Mr. Harriman had already secured a majority of the total stock of the Illinois Central railroad, with the inference that the victory for the Harriman element was assured in the election of October 16, Mr. Fish said:

"Nobody knows better than Mr. E. H. Harriman and the gentlemen who have put out this latest proclamation for him that he does not control anywhere near a majority of the total stock of the Illinois Central railroad. The straits in which Mr. Harriman's party finds itself, in its effort to perpetuate his control of the Illinois Central, are shown by the fact that the official circular of the Harriman majority of the board, dated July 27, appealing for proxies, has been sent out at least three times, accompanied by a form of proxy running to Mr. James T. Harahan and Mr. Alexander G. Hackstaff and with an envelope for the return of the same. This has been done in America and in Europe. On both continents officers and agents of the company, as well as brokers and others, have been constantly soliciting proxies.

"Geel!" spoke up the only man in the group who hadn't said a word hitherto. "For the first time in my life I'm glad everybody calls me a lobster!" Uncertain what to do in this emergency, the company hesitated a moment and then applauded, while the pretty young woman happily declared that her proper course of action would be to smile and blush becomingly.—Chicago Tribune.

bought the goodwife a piano, himself a violin and furnished the house nicely. When you drive up to his farm, you do not see a woman in a faded calico dress, little boys not yet in their teens doing a man's work like slaves, and a cross, tired man, all working to pay for an extra quarter section of land. They are all well fixed with a goodly number of cattle and hog and several nice teams, are out of debt, and are enjoying the best years of their lives. (From a Staff Correspondent.) A valuable dog wouldn't sell for 10 cents to a man who doesn't want a dog. And that is true with most anything else. The only expeditious way to find a man who wants to buy a dog is to speak to everybody in Omaha through the want columns of The Bee. Those who are interested will respond. And it would be a very uninteresting dog, indeed, that wouldn't suit anybody. Most anything you don't want can be sold at some price if properly advertised, because in Omaha nearly everybody reads The Bee.

How many of your customers are women? Women do most of the buying for the household; even for the buying of men's clothes their word usually goes as to where and what to buy. The women folks read the advertisements; they are as much interested in store prices as their husbands in market reports; they are constantly studying, where they can buy the best and most for their money. The Bee is the home paper; it is delivered early and the housewife reads it first. There are thousands of homes where no other paper is admitted, for good reasons. Advertisers can reach the women folks through THE OMAHA EVENING BEE A clean and reliable newspaper for the home. 1c per copy 6c per week Delivered Within everybody's reach—reaches everybody.
