Features of the Trading and Coosing Prices on Board of Trade.

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Increased receipts and general lack of support caused a weak wheat market here today. At the close December wheat was off 'ac. Corn was 'a captain and general lack of support caused a weak wheat market here today. At the close December wheat was off 'ac. Corn was 'a captain and the lammediate opening. Was weak all day. The first quotations were firm because of higher caules, but prices soon slumped on realizing saies. From then until the close the market was weak. Very little support was given and the bearish sentiment seemed to grow stronger as the sess, on advanced. Much emphasis was laid on the lact that the grain arriving at Winnipeg is grading, high. Reports from the seaboard were also encouraging to the bears, as they declared that the demand for export was poor. Trading in the pit was largely local and professional in character. December wheat offened unchanged to 'ac higher at $1,000.

The sold between $\frac{1}{2} \text{captain} \text{ and $1,000.} \text{ a dosed weak at $9%c. Chearances of wheat and flour were equal to $00,000 bu. Primary receipts were $78,000 bu., against 1,000,000 bu. on the same day last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 745 cars against 225 cars last week and 622 cars one year ago.

The corn market was weak all day because of a slack demand, large offerings of cash orders and a poor shipping call. These factors offset the weather conditions, which were considered threatening to the crop, it being predicted that heavy frosts will follow the rains that have prevailed for several days throughout the corn belt. The close was weak. December corn opened unchanged to have lower at $99,000,000 to $990, sold between $25,000,000 and $25,000,000 to $25,000,000 and $25,000,000 and closed at $25,000,000. Local receipts were $12 cars, with 24 of contract grade.

The oats market was exceedingly dull, but prices held firmer than those of wheat and corn. December oats opened $50,000 and $25,000,000 and $25,000 and $25,000

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT Pair and Warmer Sanday, Says Good Mr. Welsh.

Mr. Welsh.

OMARIA, Sept. 28, 1997.

Rain was general throughout the Missouri valley during Fricay and rainy and unsettled weather continues general throughout the middle Mississippi valley, lake region, Ohio valley and southern states this morning. The weather is clear in the west and southwest, but is unsettled in the extreme northwest. Cooler weather prevails in the central valleys and southwest, but temperatures are somewhat higher in the west and northwest. Freezing weather with killing frost is reported in South Danota, and the first of the weather will probably be fair in this vicinity tonight and Sunday, with warmer Junday.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The rates for money in the market today continued firm under good demand. Discounts were quiet, Trading on the Stock exchange was quiet, with first-class securities fractionally dearer early in the day, on investment purchases, but they eased later on the large gold shipment to Exypt. Americans a started easy at about parity and developed weakness on week-end realizations, due to fears of a poor New York bank statement. The market closed flat, with prices 1 to 2 points lower than yesterday. Foreigners, known and Copier was all and easy.

Market Continues to Decline Throughout the Short Session.

VOLUME OF SELLING AUGMENTED

Fear of Effect of President's Coming Addresses in West and South the Moving Pactor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Stocks continued to decline today and the volume of selling was augmented. The principal motive avowed for the depression feit by the sellers was the fear of the consequences of the coming addresses by President Roosevelt in the west and south. It is supposed that these addresses will largely advocate the in the west and south. It is supposed that these addresses will largely advocate the extension of measures against corporations. The selling continued to give evidence of a professional origin for large part of it, but the fall in prices had the usual consequence of dislodging weak accounts and of inducing some liquidation by the sentimental effect on holders of securities. The bank statement was weak and was made the occasion for some of the selling. The decrease in cash was only as much as the lowest of the preliminary estimates, and the loat increase was moderate, but the failing off of $2,758,525 in the surplus brings that item down to $5,646,575, which offers a narrow margin of resources with the interlor movement of currency in full force. The clearing house banks report an increase of something over $1,600,000 in government deposits. There was some demand for remittance to London by cable, incident to the end of the month, but demand sterling was lower. The heavy withdrawal of gold from the Bank of England for Egypt was the feature of the foreign money markets, but the discount rate in London was unaffected and the turn of the quarter is looked forward to there to bring relaxation. Crop damage reports were in circulation, but the grain and cotton markets moved moderately. The lack of explanation for the selling in the news caused rumors of some possible undisclosed development. The covering of shorts after the publication of the bank statement was evidence of the professional nature of the selling. The closing tone was feverish and unsettled. Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $96,000. United States 2s have advanced Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value $55,000. United States 2s have advanced $5 per cent and the 4s have declined 3 per cent on call during the week.

At the close of the week very little change can be noted on the market for cows and helfers, prices having for the most part of the week remained just about where they were at the close of last week. Some little weakness was developed, but it was made up before the close of the week. The best grades of stockers and feeders have sold at about steady prices all the week, common and medium grades having eased off, being possibly logisc lower. The receipts of feeders have been very large all the week, but there has also been a very liberal country buying demand, so that the supply has been kept well cleaned up. At the close of the week speculators still have a few cattle on hand, but every one is looking for a large attendance of buyers the coming week.

better grades, broke badly, suffering in many cases a decline of fic or possibly more in the case of very common culls. This decline makes the spread between good stuff and comon kinds about what it ought to be. There were also a good many old and very poor ewes received during the week, and they likewise sunered severely, it being a very difficult matter to move them at all, as buyers seemed to be looking for better grades of feeders.

Considering the large receipts and other conditions connected with the trade, the market this week has by no means been in bad shape, as prices even after the decline are still high.

TRADE CONDITIONS IN OMAHA Week Expected to Be Lively with the Local Jobbers.

Local Jobbers.

This week will probably see a large attendance at the fall merchants' meeting in Omaha, as many retailers from all parts of the state have postponed their buying that they might come at the festival season and bring their families on a pleasure jaunt. Last week's floor trade was not large, but mail orders and orders from traveling salesmen came in treely. Winter goods of all kinds are in brisk demand now and rogarding some lines in which there is trouble in getting shipments from the factories, the retailers are getting a little impatient. The jobbers promise them the delay will not be extensive.

Reports from every section of the corngrowing country declare the crop well out of danger. In some localities the ripening of the grain was assisted by light frost. Prices on all sorts of farm products are such that the farmers are happy and the country merchants beaming with expectation. Work of all kinds is plenty and everybody has money to buy what the farms produce.

everybody has money to our what farms produce.

Local shoe manufacturers and jobbers are booking large orders. Reports from the retailers indicate an enormous fall trade, with the consumers buying a better grade of goods than ever before. No change in leather has been made in the last week. The hide market is reported dull. Slight Decline in Cotton.

veilings have failed to come up to the standard set by jobbers this season and in jobbing houses, especiali, panama weaves have outstripped the voiles.

Paints, Oils and Glass.

Paints, Oils and Glass.

Early in the week there was another advance in the price of linseed oil, which was marked up? cents a gallon, both on raws and boiled. While linseed advanced, turpentine prices declined. All kinds of varnishes are firm owing to the high prices on gums, owing to short supplies. There has been no quotable changes in the prices of glass.

The volume of business is most satisfactory to the trade. The coming of fall has stimulated buying, and local houses are booking larger orders than at any time during the last six months. Opium continues to sell on the basis of $7.75 to $7.80 for powdered, and $1 lees per case in the gum. Quinine still remains on a basis of is cents for build in 100-ounce tims. Refined camphor is stronger and indications point to advances in price. All lines of essential oils continue strong. Vanilla beans are in excellent demand. The market has a strongunderione.

It is apparant to the observing handless.

onlis continue strong. Vanilla beans are in excellent demand. The market has a strong undertone.

It is apparant to the observing hardware jobbers that the copper producers have been compelled to reduce the price of their commodity by reason of the fact that the high sost has caused users of this article to seek cheaper substitutes. Copper productions are increasing rapidly and in order to dispose of it, the mines have had to reduce the selling price. At the beginning of the summer copper was 25 cents a pound in New York; now it is 15% cents. No reduction has yet been made in the price of copper utensils, but that is bound to come if the present basis on copper continues.

Tin plate remains normal and there is no change in the price of manufactured tingoods. A few hardware specialities have been affected by price changes, but none that will largely interest the trade.

Sugar and Other Groceries.

Sugar and Other Groceries.

Sugar both raw and refined, remains in the same position as a week ago. Refined is still selling at prices lower than justified by the price of raws, but for some unaccountable reason the market refuses to advance. Pure molasses is strong.

Roasted Brazil package coffees range from 12 to 13½c per pound in the New York market. The general situation is unchanged. By reason of the lively demand for all kinds of teas and the scarcity of both Japan and Chinese new crop teas, present high quotations probably will be maintained.

Hice is unusually firm. The millers and maintained.

Rice is unusually firm. The millers and packers of the south are not forcing sales. Frices on domestic sardines are expected to advance early in October. Salmon of all grades shows an upward tendency.

California spot peaches are scarce and it is predicted prices will advance. Free offerings of Maryland tomatoes were made during the week, but the jobbers affected in difference. The crop moved much larger than expected and probably will be large enough for requirements. Corn is strong. Interest in the dried fruit market is cen-

Friendship had a severe test at police neadquarters, when Ed Pearson of Aibright secured the arrest of Frank Chamberlain, charging him with taking $31 from his pockets on the carnival grounds After the money was found on the complaining witness and he was locked up, the accused man returned to the station and begged Captain Dunn to release the man who a few minutes before caused his arrest.

Pearson and Chamberlain were seeing the carnival together, and Pearson was induiging in a few high-balls to make Ak-Sar-Ben colors run together more than the rain did. Suddenly he went into his pocket to secure some money. The roll of bills had disappeared. Pearson grew excited at losing his vacation money and accused Chamberlain of taking it. Then an officer was called and both men went to the station in the wagon.

Pearson could not get to the deak fast enough to sign a complaint against Chamberlain, charging robbery from the person. Chamberlain was searched, then stripped The money was not found.

"Search Pearson," said Captain Dunn. In a memorandum book the $31 in bills was found, neatly rolled between the leaves. By this time Pearson's last high-ball began working, and he was fairly dizzy after find ing the money. He staggered around it such rice that the captain thought he needed a place to sleep and ordered him locked up. Chamberlain was released, and left the station.

Then friendship began working for the complaining witness. Chamberlain returned to the station and pleaded with the captain to release Pearson, saying he would take his friend and put him to bed, but he die not like to leave him at the station. The captain couldn't see that a better bed could be found for him, and Pearson stayed at the jail.

New Fashion in Wills.

It is quite time that a new Tashion in wills should appear. The old style has been to make wills as full of holes as a sieve for the lawyers to fight about. It now seems to be the growing practice in New York to have one's will subjected to expert ante-mortem construction and criticism. The idea is for the tentator to assume that he is dead and to discover by an independent expert examination during his life what is likely to happen to his will after his death.

Daniel S. Remsen of the New York bar, author of Remsen on the Preparations and Contest of Wills," recently said: "The plan of submitting wills to a rigid criticism, after they have been made and before the testator's death, is new in the sense of its becoming popular. It is also justified by results. In a majority of cases such examinations reveal one or more weak spots, and requently grave errors are found in wills drawn by lawyers of high standing. A little caution on the part of Mr. Tilden would have prevented his flasco. As a result of this movement, I predict that the rising generation will be spared much littgation and many fortunes will be saved from the blight of family discord."—Law Notes.

Everything in Proportion.

For many weeks the irritable merchant had been riveted to his bed by typhoid fever. Now he was convaleacins. He clamored for something to eat, declaring that he was starving.

"Tomorrow you may have something to eat," promised the doctor. The merchant realized that there would be a restraint to his appetite, yet he saw, in vision, a modest steaming meal placed at his bedside.

"Here is your dinner," said the nurse next day, as she gave the glowering patient a spoonful of taploca pudding, "and the doctor emphasizes that everything else you do must be in the same proportion."

Two hours later the nurse heard a frantic call from the bed-chamber.

"Nurse," breathed the man, heavily, "I want to do some reading, bring me a post-Everything in Proportion.

An Unequaled Opportunity

"A strike of shipping ore has just been made in the workings of the been made in the workings of the Nevada aining company working on the Florence. The ore was found in a winze 110 feet east of the shaft at the 200-foot level. The ore body is 3 feet wide in which the pay streak shows to the extent of 18 to 24 inches. 12 inches gave an average assay of $71, while 6 inches returned $1,400. It will be seen that an average of $100 will be easily maintained."

Next to the Nevada lease on the west is the famous Reilly lease, which produced $1,000,000 in gold in 90 days. On the north and adjoining is the ground of the Florence Leasing and Mining company; they are making heavy shipments of ore running from $100 to $200 a ton. The Nevada lease has this same yein and conditions warrant the assurance of the same grade and quantity of ore within 30 days. That development may be pushed to the utmost in opening the known reserves of the mine within the time of the lease, the Nevada Mining company has consented to the management placing stock sufficient to accomplish this end at the low price of 10 cents per share; and as only a few thousand dollars will be required, which when secured will cancel this sale, resorvations should be promptly made by wire or letter to insure delivery. No salaries. Every dollar goes into the mine. Three shifts of men are working daily.

Help take out the gold and share the profits. You cannot afford to lose the chance. Send in your orders for stock at once. We believe it will be worth 50 cents in sixty days. Address,
