JUSTICE DAY HAS CHARGE

James Whitcomb Riley Reads a Poem and Vell is Drawn Aside by Miss Helen McKinley—Many Dignitaries Attend.

CANTON, O., Sept. 30.—The McKinley mausoleum, the tribute and gift of a nation to the memory of the martyred president, was dedicated this afternoon in the presence of hundreds of distinguished men from all parts of the United States, representatives of foreign countries and a crowd of approximately 50,000 people.

President Roosevelt's arrival at 8:15 a. m. he was escorted to the central high school. Immediately following this the president reviewed the parade.

The parade included troops of the Twelfth United States cavalry and of various infantry regiments, McKinley's regiment, the National Guard, the United States Army of the Republic veterans, Spanish war veterans, Sons of Veterans, McKinley clubs of various cities, Ohio state troops and Masonic, Odd Fellows, Woodmen, Elks and other fraternal organizations.

These who rode with the president from the reviewing stand to the Auditorium were Vice President Fairbanks, Secretary Loeb and Governor Harris.

After lunch the presidential party and honorary guests proceeded directly to Monument hill, two miles west of the city.

The site of the mausoleum is nearly a mile from the nearest street car lines, and while the official party lunched the thousands of unofficial visitors boarded street cars and walked toward Monument hill.

Among the prominent guests here early today were Secretary of the Treasury Geo. B. Cortright, formerly secretary to President McKinley and one of the trustees of the McKinley Memorial association; Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the National republican committee; former Governor Murphy of New Jersey; Governor Andrew L. Harris of Ohio, who also is president of the McKinley Memorial association.

Justice Day Presides. Justice Day called the assemblage to order and introduced Governor Harris, president of the day.

WELCOME TO BEE BUILDING

Out-of-town visitors to Omaha during Ak-Sar-Ben week are especially invited to inspect the home of the Bee.

SUMMARY OF THE BEE

Tuesday, October 1, 1907.

THE WEATHER. Forecast till 7 p. m. Tuesday: For Omaha, Council Bluffs and vicinity—Showers probably Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Table with columns for hours and degrees.

DOMESTIC. President Roosevelt delivers an appreciation of the late President McKinley at the dedication of a mausoleum at Canton.

Attorney for men accused at Milwaukee of coal land frauds pleads for strict construction of the law.

Suit of the "next friends" of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy has been dismissed in court at Concord, N. H.

President Roosevelt and party then visited the interior of the tomb. The invited guests and then the general public did likewise.

The tomb, built at a cost of over $500,000, is a donation of over 1,000,000 Americans to this memorial to William McKinley.

Upon President Roosevelt's arrival at 8:15 a. m. he was escorted to the central high school.

CONTEST OVER COUNT'S WILL

Legal Dispute Arises on the Benefactions of Creighton.

SEVEN HEIRS ASK MORE LIGHT

These Not Mentioned in the Testament File Petition in Court for Construction of the Document.

The contest over the benefactions in the John A. Creighton will will be started in county court Wednesday, when W. H. De- Franco, representing seven heirs not mentioned in the will, will file a petition asking for the construction of the document.

The other heirs and the executors are expected to file similar petitions within a few days, and the question then will be before the court. It is probable a hearing cannot be had before November.

The bequests of $50,000 to St. Joseph hospital, of $50,000 to the House of the Good Shepherd, of $50,000 to the Little Sisters of the Poor and $50,000 for the establishment of a working girls' home, will be attacked in the petition to be filed by De Franco.

The executors of the Creighton will, however, will be asked to construe the thirteenth clause of the will, which provides the residue of the estate should be divided among the beneficiaries in the proportion of the benefactions awarded by the will.

It is asserted by the heirs that a proper construction of this clause would leave an undivided residuum to be divided among the heirs, while the institutions would receive gifts contained in the will.

The executors contend that under the entire estate not specifically devised should be divided up among the beneficiaries.

Ground of Attack. The attack on the St. Joseph hospital benefaction will be based on the ground that when the will was made and at the time of Count Creighton's death, the Nebraska provisions of the law which chartered as charitable institutions may not hold more than $100,000 worth of property.

At the time of Count Creighton's death St. Joseph's hospital held property far in excess of this amount and the heirs contend that law has since been changed, but the heirs contend the old law will govern. It is doubtful whether the heirs can raise this question or not, or whether the state is the only party that could protest against the receipt of the gift.

The same objection will be made to the bequest of $50,000 to the House of the Good Shepherd, the same conditions applying.

The gift of $50,000 to the Little Sisters of the Poor will be attacked because of the language of the clause in which it is made. The will provides the gift shall be made by the executors when the society shall be established in Omaha. The heirs contend under an old English law a benefaction which has no time limit within which it shall be paid or which is not required to be paid within the life of some living person is void and cannot be paid. It is contended the benefaction to the Working Girls' Home is void for indefiniteness. The will provided that $50,000 be set aside for the establishment of a working girls' home, but did not provide and plan for the organization of the home nor appoint any person to formulate a plan. It is contended the words of the clause is so indefinite as to be void.

Attack on University. Mr. De Franco, who represents the six McCreary heirs and Mrs. Shelby will not attack the Creighton university benefaction, but it is understood other heirs will. The ground for the attack will be that Count Creighton intended the gift to the university after the drawing of the will should be deducted from the benefaction in the will. An attempt will be made to show that he told various persons this was his intention and that he had taken the will out of his strong box before his death to change it, but was unable to do so. The benefactions since the date of the will, it is said, will practically cover the amount given to the university in the will, and if this interpretation is sustained the institution would be cut off with a very small benefaction or none at all.

General Cowin, who represents six of the fifteen heirs, says he does not know whether his case will be raised or not, but he admitted it had been talked of. He said he would not file a petition for his clients until he found what the others were going to do.

Court Rules on Leave to Sell. Judge Leslie Monday ruled on the application of the executors for leave to sell stocks and bonds in the estate of the late Count Creighton. The order of the court, Judge Leslie granted the desired permission with respect to all stock except those of the Creighton Real Estate company, the First National bank, the United States National bank and the South Omaha National bank. The remaining stocks being of more or less fluctuating value may be sold by the executors when in their judgment it is to the best interest of the estate to do so.

At the hearing Monday all claims were allowed except two. One of these was a small one for $15 and the other was filed by John J. O'Conner for $2,000 for attorney fees. These were held pending further investigation.

MOTOR BOATS FAST TRIP Leaves Chicago to Carry Message to President Roosevelt via Drainage Canal.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The motorboat Lusie B left here today via the drainage canal and the Illinois river, bearing a message from Mayor Buse to President Roosevelt at St. Louis. The trip will be made as rapidly as possible in order to show the possibilities of navigation from Chicago toward the Gulf of Mexico. The boat will run at night, picking its way down the Illinois and Mississippi rivers by searchlights. Several other boats accompanied it.

NEXT FRIENDS OUT OF COURT Payment of Costs All that Remains of Case Against Mrs. Eddy.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 30.—Judge Chamberlain today granted the motion to dismiss the suit of the "next friends" for an accounting of the affairs of Mary Baker G. Eddy. The apportionment of costs was left open for future settlement.

SENATOR PLATT ON POLITICS

He Says Republican Delegation from New York Will Be for a New Yorker.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Senator Thomas C. Platt, rejuvenated, he says, and better fitted for hard work at Washington than for some time before, talked politics today with something of his old-time enthusiasm.

"If my legs were as strong as my mind," he said, "I would get back into the political harness without delay. As it is I shall stay here until December and then go to Washington to resume my duties in the senate. I like the senate and I am looking forward to a pleasant service during the rest of my term in that great body."

Who will get the New York delegation in the next republican national convention? Senator Platt was asked.

"It won't be Roosevelt and it may not be Hughes," he replied. "The president does not want it. The governor is shrewd enough to know that the slightest move on his part to take the delegation would be fatal to his aspirations. He may convince the republican voters that they cannot do without him."

President Roosevelt cannot go back on his word. He could not do so even if he were so inclined, and I believe him to be fully in earnest in his determination to retire."

The republican party of New York has other material besides Hughes and Roosevelt. There is Thilo Root for instance. Before an Ohioan or any other outsider. There is, Elihu Root, for instance, considered. New York cannot be delivered to the top-notchers among the politicians of the day. He is building up a machine along new lines that will be powerful and effective."

Senator Platt does not believe that Governor Hughes could be persuaded to take second place on the ticket.

"I don't know Hughes very well," he said, "but my judgment is that he could not be forced, as Roosevelt was. He is one of the top-notchers among the politicians of the day. He is building up a machine along new lines that will be powerful and effective."

SECOND EXAMINER IS NEEDED

Missouri Court to Name One to Have Supervisory Exclusivity of Railroad Rates.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Another examiner in the suit to dissolve the Standard Oil corporation will be appointed, as appointed in a few days by the Missouri court to examine the rates of the railroads. The duties of this additional examiner will be to listen to testimony relating only to railroad rates on oil and rebates, which are alleged to have been granted to the Standard during its fight against independent oil operators.

The same day, the Missouri court, at every session of the hearings after the question of rates and rebates is taken up, owing to the fact that much of the testimony will necessarily be fragmentary, and evidence on both the rate and trust question will be placed upon the records during the same day.

The hearings here will probably last at least two and possible three more weeks. Testimony will also be taken in Washington, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis. This shifting is made necessary by the fact that the government subpoenaed only one company, necessitating travel 100 miles to attend the hearings.

TRAVELERS REVEL IN GREEN

King Edward Sets Fashion for Europeans and Americans Follow Suit.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Green hats, such as King Edward wore during his visit to the continent recently, are now in vogue with certain returning American tourists. Several voyagers on recently arrived steamers are rejoicing in them and some completed the color scheme by wearing ties and scarves of the same shade.

The fashion, the returning travelers say, is spreading over Europe. The headgear is shaped on the Alpine model. The ribbon of green which adorns it is wide and ends in a fluffy flourish. New York hatmakers declare they are not prepared to supply the demand, and say that it is not likely to spread on this side of the water.

CUBAN SITUATION NOT BAD

Combination of Circumstances Makes it Seem to Be So.

YELLOW FEVER UNDER CONTROL

Bandits Making Trouble Are Small Company of Guerrillas—Magoon Will Use Strong Arm.

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 30.—The small band of rebels which has been traversing the country in the vicinity of Mayari, in the northern section of Santiago province, has, according to late dispatches, again changed shots with the pursuing rurales. The latter are close on the heels of the bandits.

While there are signs of unrest in various parts of the island, the opinion prevails here that no serious disturbance is likely. In commenting on the situation the Diario de La Marina says a combination of unusual circumstances having no link one with the other appears to make the situation at first sight more serious than it really is.

Each one of the problems that at present confront the administration—the yellow fever epidemic, the conspiracy of Parra, Miret and Ducassé, the existence of bands of outlaws in the country and the railway strike—is of an alarming character, but, except for the tendency of the strike to become general and stop railway communication throughout the island, these events are of no great importance in themselves.

The yellow fever has not spread and there appears no danger of a general epidemic as cases are comparatively few up to the present time. The conspiracy was a very ridiculous one, and even if it had succeeded in inducing some fools to take the field it would have been nipped in the bud.

The Mayari says the outlaws cannot be considered of more importance than many other various bands of guerrillas who have occasionally appeared in Cuba.

There is no reason, therefore, for extraordinary alarm or for believing Cuba is on the brink of an abyss.

Even the strikers have not as yet committed any act of violence. If their dispute with the company is not settled other men will be found shortly to run the trains. In this case any attempt on the part of the strikers to resort to force will be prevented and punished according to law. The situation for all these reasons is not so grave and the government has ample means to cope with it.

Conflicts may soon become a troublesome. The waters there are on strike and others plan to strike soon. It is reported also that political trouble is coming in that vicinity, where conspirators have been active.

Most people think that the railroad and other strikes offer more prospects of serious trouble than the threatened revolution. The lighter men of Havana harbor will probably strike today and the stevedores in a few days.

Governor Magoon has determined to deal with outlaws and insurrectionists with a strong hand. The offers of the rurales, if it is stated, are to capture, kill or drive them into the ocean.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The railway strikers in Cuba have declared that the movement inaugurated by them shall not interfere with the movement of the mail, so the strikers are commended. This is the attitude subscribed to them in a dispatch received at the War department from Governor Magoon.

CONSTRUCTION OF A STATUTE

Attorneys for Wisconsin Men Accused of Coal Land Frauds in Court.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 30.—Insisting that only the strict construction of a criminal statute is permissible and that the indictment charging his clients with conspiracy to defraud the government must allege transactions sufficient in themselves to constitute a fraud, Attorney Hugh Ryan began his argument before United States Court Commissioner Bloodgood in favor of the discharge of Elias Arnold, J. J. Rosenberg and Chauncey Lloyd Jones, indicted in connection with the operations of the Federal Coal and Iron company of Colorado.

Mr. Ryan contended that the criminal statute cannot be extended by inferences or construction. The crime charged in the statute before a court can hold that a crime has been charged.

LONGSHOREMEN ON STRIKE

Five Hundred of Them, with Teams, Out on New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—About 500 longshoremen and teamsters went on a strike here on the river front today, when the crews of the Leyland and Austro-American line steamers started stowing cotton in vessels. The strike was expected to be a long one, as the longshoremen failed to make an agreement with the cotton crew men. Other union laborers beside the crew men, longshoremen and teamsters are interested and it is probable that 8,000 men, representing practically every class of labor along the river will become involved.

There is no king like Ak-Sar-Ben. Cheated out of his job by rain through the day, his heart was made glad when the clouds broke last night, by a big and noisy celebration. His subjects played the evening hours away on the King's Highway.

The famous King Do-Do would have been in the bottom of the Missouri river with a collection of millions about his neck if such weather had been dealt out to him as Ak-Sar-Ben was in his Monday, and when the weather man sent in his complaints and the vibrations from the observation tower said, "Wed. Monday and wet again!" Tuesday, the king smiled and regretted exceedingly much that Monday was South Omaha day.

Regardless of the fact that the jubilee of Ak-Sar-Ben was scheduled at a time when the equinoctial storm was supposed to be over, and the eclipse of the moon only considered of passing moment, rain began descending during the early hours of Monday morning, and but few visited the grounds until evening.

Samson explained that as the spring was late, the equinoctial storm was the storm winds descend on the kingdom was postponed and the dates of the jubilee conflicted with those of the powers which put on the storms of the equinox.

Anyway the king had accepted the days when the autumnal storm was supposed to be over, and announced that fair weather is coming, but he will be willing to postpone the parades each day should the sun still be changing its skin on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Auto Parade Wednesday. The automobile parade, which has been announced for Tuesday evening, should be seen until Wednesday evening, should bad weather continue. Other parades will then be held one day later, the electric pageant falling on Thursday evening and the woman's float parade on Friday instead of the equinoctial storm. The date of the ball also will be postponed if necessary, and it will be given Saturday evening.

There is no possibility of the carnival continuing a single hour after closing time Saturday night. Samson says the gates will close Saturday evening regardless of the weather, and if the front of the pumpkin of the Douglas county fair, and the wild woman wades through a foot of snow, the gates will close on time.

What Monday would have been to King Ak-Sar-Ben is a matter of conjecture. South Omaha days have been successful in the past and the attendance would doubtless have been large had the general rain not faded the colors and caused brilliant feasters to fall.

FLEET HAS BAD SHAKING UP

Atlantic Squadron Anchored Off Barnstable Shore Somewhat Damaged in Storm.

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Wireless dispatches received today from the Atlantic squadron anchored at the head of Cape Cod bay, off the Barnstable shore, show that two lives were lost, two vessels damaged and the entire fleet was given a shaking up in the storm which raged yesterday in the bay. The fleet was anchored off a lee shore and the result of the storm was that the ships saved some of the warships from being thrown on the beach. Lieutenant M. Purse of the battleship Illinois, was thrown against a hatch and so badly injured that he died today. On board the Minnesota, a seaman, whose name is not known, was washed overboard and drowned. The rest of the fleet, including the cruiser Des Moines, necessitating the sending of them to the Charlestown yard for repairs. For more than twenty-four hours the great ships were tumbled about in the big sea which surged in the bay. Nearly every vessel had some of its crew bruised by being hurled about the ships.

In the collision with the Glacier the Des Moines had its stem badly damaged and was raked along its starboard side, losing two davits and the boats on them.

RIOT IN COOPER UNION

Alleged Socialists Attempt to Break Up Federation of Italian Societies.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Alleged socialists tonight made the most riotous demonstration ever seen in Cooper Union. A determined effort to break up the federation of Italian societies called to protest against the recent action of the Italian government against the clergy and the attacks to which Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, had been subjected during the agitation. For twenty-five minutes the disturbers, who were Italian, held the police at bay and it was not until a police captain with reserves hurried to the rescue of Lieutenant Powers and the eight men detailed to the meeting that order was restored and the meeting permitted to continue. Ninety men were arrested and arrested and thrown into the street. In the night court eight of these men were fined.

ROWLANDS' TRIAL TO BEGIN

North Carolina Physician, Said to Have Lived Double Life, Before Court.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 30.—A murder trial of widespread interest is to begin here today when Dr. Thomas I. Rowland and his second wife, the widow of Charles R. Strange, a locomotive engineer, are to be charged with having murdered Mr. Strange by poison so that they might wed. Effort will be made to prove that Dr. Rowland was a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in real life, and that to all appearances he led an exemplary existence while secretly making a study of deadly poisons and plotting murders. He was even arrested on a charge of having poisoned his own child to get some insurance money, but he was let go because the chemists could find no trace of poison in the child which they made. In the present case Dr. Rowland is alleged to have used arsenic. Rare and costly vegetable poisons.

LIST ROOMS WITH THE BEE

Omaha will be overrun during Ak-Sar-Ben week with out-of-town visitors.

Many of them will prefer to rent rooms in private dwellings or in boarding houses, rather than go to hotels.

They will consult the want ad columns of The Bee before they decide where to stay and will leave home to come to Omaha as well as after they arrive.

To get their attention with a proper introduction, list your vacant rooms in The Bee's want ad columns.

It will cost you little and will produce results. Do it now.
